CONTRACTOR GORDON BUSY ON PAVEMENT

Has Finished Lincoln and Second Six, Between Lincoln and Jackson

PUTTING IN EVERY POSSIBLE HOUR

With Any Kind of Decent Weather Will Not Stop Operations

Contractor B. A. Gordon has taken advantage of every hour of good weather the past month, and Lincoln, between Second and Third is now open for traffic. A crew also was kept on Second, between Lincoln and Jackson, and on Sunday the top dressing of hot preparation was shot into the rock.

The city is very anxious to have Third all completed this winter, provided the weather gives the contractor any chance to work, and Mr. Gordon gives the assurance that he will improve every hour of sunshine, as well as many hours that are not bathed in sunshine.

As a matter of fact the cold and wet are not favorable for good work, and some of the top will have to be given another dressing, but that all goes in the business.

Mr. Cheney came to Oregon about 30 years ago, and was engaged in the tinsmith business here, Clatskanie, and at Forest Grove, but has been out of business for some years, owing to his health. For a number of years prior to coming to Oregon he worked in the Edwards hardware and tinware store, in Menominee, Dunn Co., Wis., where he first met the reporter of the Argus when he was a lad. His daughter, Mrs. Bertha Wagner, resides at Schooner, Michigan. Of his immediate family but one brother, Elbridge Cheney, of Hillsboro, survives.

Dr. A. E. Tamiesie, second assistant at the Salem State Hospital for the Insane, has been appointed First Assistant at the new Eastern Oregon Hospital, at Pendleton. Dr. Tamiesie is well known in Hillsboro, where he resided for many years. He is capable, and has the confidence of the state board in every respect. Dr. Tamiesie was given the position with the understanding that he could return to Salem and resume his old place at any time in case he did not like the Eastern Oregon position.

John Abbott, a son of E. L. Abbott and wife, of this city, made a capture of three cattle rustlers in Portland, last week. They picked up several animals around Beaverton and Sherwood; and had covered their tracks for many months. One of the robbers confessed and this makes the case clear against them.

TREASURY ENRICHED EIGHT HUNDRED BUCKS

Tualatin and Timber Saloons Each Pay Four Hundred

WESCH AND BRYANT DRAW LICENSES

Circuit Court Claims Will Run High This Term

The Washington County treasury was enriched $800 last week by the payment of two saloon licenses—Fred Wesch, of Tualatin, and A. W. Bryant, of Timber. Each has license to sell for one year. There are many minor bills this month, and circuit court claims are being turned in in numbers, owing to the big rush of grand jury work. As a rule these claims are small, but very numerous, and it takes a great deal of time in the clerk's office.

The report of Clay Trites, superintendent of the poor farm, shows that there are fifteen inmates—the largest number for some time. As a rule, however, the number increases every Fall, when cold weather sets in.

The viewers in the matter of the J O Gustin road were allowed to make an amended report.

Contractor Jos Lorusung reported that he had finished the Zimmerman contract and Commissioners McClaran and Nyberg inspected the work of the week.

OLD OFFICERS NOT TO OCCUPY NEW QUARTERS

Contractor Will Not Complete Annex by First of the Year

WILL COMPLETE WORK IN JANUARY

Delay in Delivery of Material Cause of Suspension of Work

From all appearances the old county officers whose terms expire in January will not have the trouble of moving their quarters into the new annex. There has been delay in securing delivery of material, and Contractor Foster will not complete his contract by January 1. This will mean that Clerk Bailey, Supt. Case and Sheriff Hancock will not go to the trouble of moving into and dedicating the new offices.

It is expected that the contractor will finish some time in January, after the newly elected officers have taken their oaths. The work of shifting the records will be laborious—particularly the sheriff's and clerk's archives. The recorder, however, does not get out of this work, for E. L. Perkins succeeds himself, and he will oversee getting the volumes into their new vaults.

Mr. Foster still has many windows to put in place, and also a lot of baseboards, and other work.

He expects everything needed to arrive this week, and will then put on sufficient force to finish up the contract within three or four weeks.
