BROTHER CAPITALISTS INDICTED AND PLEAD

Geo. and Edward Naylor Charged With Unlawful Cohabitation

PLEADED NOT GUILTY AND ASK TRIAL

Well Known Wealthy Men Hated in Court Last Thursday

Geo. F. Naylor and Edward L. Naylor, of Forest Grove, pleaded not guilty to indictments in circuit court, last Thursday evening, charging them with unlawfully living with women not their wives, and each of the defendants asked to have trial dates set. It is understood that they allege the women at their homes are, or have been, there in the capacity of housekeepers.

The woman named in the Geo. Naylor indictment is Rachel Watrous, wife of Miles Watrous, and the woman named in the Edward Naylor indictment is Miss Martha Traver.

Each of the brothers is wealthy, their ratings running from fifty to one hundred thousand respectively.

They are sons of the late Rev. Thos. G. Naylor, a pioneer minister of Forest Grove, and who died leaving much suburban property adjoining the city, much of which is now cut into town lots.

Edward L. Naylor's case is of interest because of the fact that he was shot by one Frank Lenocker, about 7:30 on the evening of Dec. 9, 1910, in the Naylor grounds, the would-be assassin then turning the revolver on himself, death being instantaneous. Naylor was taken to a Portland hospital, and for months it was thought he could not recover, the bullet having entered the abdominal cavity. Miss Traver was one of those who heard the two shots, and she attended Mr. Naylor after the shooting. It was thought by many that the couple would marry after Naylor recovered.

Geo. Naylor is about 54 years of age, and Edward is younger. From a business standpoint each is considered reliable. Edward L. has for years been a breeder of registered Angora goats, and has won many prizes for his exhibits.

Miss Traver is said to be a single woman, while Mrs. Watrous' husband is alleged to be in California, a separation having taken place some time ago.

The indictment is said to have been brought about by the active work of a Mrs. Barbour, who is at the head of a Forest Grove anti-vice commission.

Supt. Dist. No. 36, Washington County, Oregon.

John Jensen Johnson, Mrs. J. Jeppesen, Peter Hoffman, Mrs. M. Hoffman, Mrs. C. Nelson,

Geo. Bidwell Jr. was in from Jolly Plains, Monday morning.

Dr. E. J. Bailey, now located at Seattle, was over Saturday, visiting home folks.

Do not forget to ask for a Schiller when you want a good 10 cent smoke—no "cough dust" in the Schiller. 12tf

W. B. Jolly, of Portland, and family were out to Hillsboro Saturday, a man who gets around as well as he one wouldn't think he will soon see his 70th birthday.

The Grand Marca is the most wholesome "two for a quarter" smoke on market—made in Oregon, by E. Schiller. When you indulge in a good smoke buy a Grand Marca. 12tf

It is stated on good authority that Washington County shipped way to cities in the South, this fall, something like 3,000 Christmas trees. And there will be orders for shipments for many days to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Schulmerich, of Creswell, arrived in Hillsboro, Friday morning, to visit with relatives and friends until after Christmas. Geo. W. has filed a corrupt practice suit against Herman Schmidt, down in Lane County, at the last election. Geo. says the fellow spent too much money, and failed to report it, and that inasmuch as a former Washington County boy was defeated he is going to see that "things are doing" down in old Lane.

Rev. Evan P. Hughes, pastor of the Cong. Church, is trying an experiment on his Ridgefield, Wash., ranch, which will be watched with interest. He is attempting to crumble stumps with a mixture of nitric acid and sulphuric acid, equal parts, poured into a hole deeply bored into the stump. He has tried charring it, but wants something more simple. Mr. Hughes carried out a carboy of nitric acid the first of the week to start his first experiment, and will report results.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stovewood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Skow, corner 8th and Fir, Hillsboro, Oregon. Phone, City 822.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reeves have moved to the city, and are domiciled in the Rhoades cottage, near Fourth and Baseline. Sheriff-elect Reeves was caught on the jury by Sheriff Hancock, the other day, and Mr. Reeves says its won't be politic for Hancock to visit Hillsboro after January 10, particularly if circuit court is in session, for he'll get him sure, and put him on some jury that will be tied up for about four days.

The Argus is in receipt of a beautiful Menu issued for Christmas by the Great Northern Dining Service. It is a work of art from a publisher, a standpoint, and a gastronomic achievement so far as the bill of fare is concerned—a dream for old Epicure himself. F. L. Hay, well known here, and now Supt. of the G. N. Dining & Sleeping Car service, sends it along—and on the title page is a great Oregon rose.

V. Kistler, contracting freight agent for the Great Northern, and W. P. Powers, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Oregon Electric, were Argus callers the last of the week. They were out looking over Washington County possibilities in the way of passengers and traffic.

Daniel Black, a son of the late Henry Black, who settled on a donation claim in what is now known as the Verboort section, was down from Dayton, Friday and Saturday, visiting relatives and friends here and at Forest Grove. His brother, Marion, resides near Newton.

Herman Schulmerich, who has been in charge of one of the Shoestring ranches below Eugene, arrived in Hillsboro, Friday, for several weeks stay in the city. Herman says that deer abound down his way—but he doesn't get much time to hunt them.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. G. Hancock and family will move to their home in Forest Grove shortly after January 1. They have made many friends since they moved to Hillsboro four years ago, and many regret to see them depart.

Richard E. Wiley, of the University of Washington, came over the last of the week to spend the holidays with his father, W. V. Wiley.

and family were out to Hillsboro Saturday, from beyond Farmington, Friday.

W. J. Gregg, of Leysville, was transacting business in the city Friday.

C. H. Soehren and wife, of above Banks, were in the county seat Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Greer, of Lebanon, are visiting Holiday week with some folks.

Dan... of South Tualatin, was in the city Monday, doing Christmas shopping.

H. T. Hesse, of... was in town Friday.

Dated this 6th day of Dec., 1912.

Fred Bulling, of near Newton, called on the Argus representative the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace, of near Farmington, were in town the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaetzer, of Laurel, were Hillsboro visitors the last of the week.

C. M. McPherson, of West Union, was in town Saturday. C. M. says that ranching in Washington County is better than riding several hundreds miles of range up in the Harney country, where for many a year he was in the annual roundup.

In a few days more Sheriff Hancock, Clerk Bailey and Supt. Case will retire from office. The two former have been sheriff and clerk respectively for four years, while Mr. Case has been in office considerably longer. He has a little rest before getting into the harness.

R. S. Tupper, of Diley, was a county seat visitor Monday.

N. H. Alexander was home over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wall were Portland visitors Monday afternoon.

John Friday, one of Banks, liveryman, was in the city Monday morning.

M. S. Chapman, of Oak Park, was a city visitor Monday morning.

D. H. Willers and wife, Oak Park, were in town the first of the week.

Daniel Bailey, of South Tualatin, was in town Monday, on a trading trip.

L. P. Kernan, of South Tualatin, was in town Monday morning.

Mrs. Ruth Blair visited Christmas with her son, H. T. Blair, and family, of Portland.

James Robb, of beyond Centerville, was in the city Monday afternoon.

C. W. Bloom, of below Witch Hazel, was a county seat visitor Monday.

Herman Rannow, near Farmington, was up Monday, interviewing Kris Kringle for the kiddies.

Born, December 23, 1912, to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kamna, of north of Hillsboro, a daughter.

J. T. Heard, of below Newton, was in town Monday. His road District, No. 25, voted a ten mill road tax for work, the other day.

Mrs. O. Gardner, who was operated on at a Portland hospital, last week, has sufficiently convalesced to return home.

Julius Asbahr, of South Tualatin, was in the city Saturday. His son, Harry, of Pendleton, is a Christmas guest at the Asbahr home.

Albert Zimmerman, of Tualatin, has sued the Tualatin Mill Company for $334.89, money due for labor performed at the mill. The suit was filed in circuit court.

Jos. Cawrse, of beyond North Plains, was in town Saturday. He says he still holds his hopes for the big advance expected after the first of the year.

John Freudenthal, of below Newton, was in town Monday. He says that his ranch is doing double duty yet, raising grain in the summer and being a depot for wild ducks in the winter.

Earl Tappen, teaching over near Vernonia, is spending Christmas week with his sister, Mrs. Carl Bunsen. He was accompanied by one of his scholars, Clyde McDonald, who remained over Sunday.

D. W. Bath, former editor of the Independent, came over from Tacoma Sunday, and went over to North Plains, Monday. He will move the Sentinel plant from that place and warehouse it until he finds what he wants in the way of a location.

Lawrence Taylor, the youngest son of Walter Taylor, was accidentally shot through the hand Sunday, by a son of Emet Goff. The youngsters were out in the woods south of town, and it is said that the Goff lad, in trying to scare a horse by shooting over him, sent a bullet through the Taylor boy's hand. Dr. Robb attended the wound. The bullet went in at the finger knuckles.

There will be a Holiday dance at the M. W. A. Hall, Reedville, on Saturday evening, December 28. This dance is given by the M. W. A., and they promise fine music and a splendid time. If you are out for a Holiday time, do not overlook this Reedville event. Every Woodman deems it his duty to show you that you are welcome, and make you feel at home.

John Bohm, who moved East from South Tualatin, a year or so ago, writes that he is located at Cummings, North Dakota, and that the first snowfall reached his section Dec. 17. He had a half section of grain this season, and threshed 4,170 bushels of wheat; 2,907 bushels of barley, and 2,171 bushels of oats. This should keep the wolf away from the door and bring to the house a very substantial Kris Kringle.

The post office force will probably welcome the close of the Holiday season more than any other business place in the city. The Argus reporter saw one person mail three packages, four letters and twenty-one postals, the other day—all Xmas offerings, and with the returns considering this way it can readily be seen that the minions of your Uncle Samuel have had a strenuous week of it.

EX-EDITOR PAYS FINE OF FIFTY DOLLARS

J. N. Hoffman Pleaded Guilty to Violation of Corrupt Practice Act

ATTORNEY-EDITOR DID IT UNWITTINGLY

Says, However, Had he Thought of it, Would Have Signed

J. N. Hoffman, ex-editor of the Forest Grove Press, pleaded guilty before Judge Campbell, Friday, to violation of the corrupt practices act in the recent election, and was assessed a fine of fifty dollars, which he immediately paid.

The indictment grew out of a circular which was issued out of the Press office a few days before the election, attacking the action of the county board in the matter of a contract awarded to one N. Bangs. There were insinuations in the paper—but this would have made no difference, for the law requires that any paper touching upon anyone's candidacy, shall be served upon the parties likely to be effected, and this was not done.

Hoffman says he never once thought of looking up the election laws, and had it occurred to him that signatures were necessary he would have signed it himself.

It is not at all likely that Mr. Hoffman will stand the burden of the fine, although the assessment would not hurt him financially. More than likely some one else will stand the payment. There are other indictments connected with the same case.

Notice of District Road Meeting

Notice is hereby given that a district road meeting is hereby called, to be held at the old Union School, in District No. 11, Washington County, Oregon, on the 28th day of December, 1912, at 2 o'clock p. m., to determine the extent of improvement to be made on any county road, or roads, or portion thereof, in said road district, and to levy a special tax to defray the expense thereof, not to exceed 10 mills on the dollar, on all real and personal taxable property in said road district.

Dated this 9th day of December, 1912.

Supervisor of Road District No. 11, Washington County, Oregon.

Henry Stoffers, Sam Kargel, Sam Joss, Fred Schulz, J. Jacob Stoller, Fred Townsend, J. A. Croesi, Sam Stoller, Emil Stark, Christ Allenbach, John Meier, M. Fitzsimmons, Henry Ediger, John Kehrl.

LARGEST IN OREGON

The Portland, Eugene & Eastern is one of the largest electrical railroad propositions in the United States, and must certainly be so classed in the Northwest. It is building 340 miles of electrical road in the Willamette Valley, the scheme providing that all the old West Side lines of the Southern Pacific will pass to this company and steam trains give way to electricity. Where it now requires hours to consummate a journey through the valley, the distance will be covered in minutes through the use of the fast and numerous steel trains proposed for the system. All this is to be accomplished by January, 1913.

Its completion means that the Willamette Valley will experience a growth similar to that which has followed electrical railroad development at Los Angeles, Columbus, Detroit and other Eastern districts. Business seems to follow fast and adequate interurban service because of the conveniences it brings to the farm, the village or the city. For these reasons the P. E. & E. becomes the most important element in the development of the state, and it means a great deal for Hillsboro.

to determine the expense thereof, not to exceed 10 mills on the dollar, on all real and personal taxable property in said road district.
