GAME WARDEN FINLEY SAYS WILL NOT FORCE

Thinks That Farmers With Fee Simple Deeds Need Not Fear

EXISTING RIGHTS MEAN SOMETHING

Says That Section Forty-One Refers to Public Lands Only

Game Warden Wm. L. Finley, in discussing Section 41, of the game laws, called to public notice by the Argus and Oregonian, writes Roy Bremer, one of his deputies, on this subject, and holds that the matter of "highway" referred to in the statute does not hold as to private property, or, at least, that his office will not adhere to this feature, even if it means all streams and all lands. He also states that the term "valid, existing rights," hangs the Indian sign on the law, anyway, so far as overflow and high-water-flow lines are concerned. So, then, farmers need not fear that their grain will be trampled.

Mr. Finley's letter follows: "I notice in a clipping from the Oregonian, from Hillsboro, published on April 1, that some of the farmers in Washington County are objecting to a section of the new game code, which was passed at the last session of the legislature. The substance of this code is that all streams flowing through any public lands in the state should be regarded as public highways for the purposes of angling. Although the first part of this section reads as if this might be applied to all rivers and streams, whether public or private lands, I will say that the intention of the law is not to effect streams through any private lands, and the first part of the section must be interpreted in conjunction with the latter part of the law, which says that the provisions of this act shall not interfere with valid existing rights." It is the opinion of several lawyers, who were in the legislative assembly when this was passed, that this section does not effect the rights of any streams flowing through private lands. It is the intention of this department to so construe this law, and not to take any stand different from the law at present time. I desire to state, emphatically, that farmers in your section of the country need have no fear that this section of the law will be used by our department to interfere with any rights that they have at the present time."

WILLS OF TWO PIONEERS GO TO PROBATE COURT

Larkin Reynolds Estate, $18,000, Goes to His Relatives

L. LINDSAY LEAVES TO HIS WIDOW

Latter Leaves $400, Elmer, and $1 Each to Others

Two wills were filed in probate within the past week, the testators being the late Larkin Reynolds and the late Littleton Lindsay. Mr. Reynolds' will was made about a year ago. He directed that all his bills and funeral expenses first be paid, and he then gave his nephew, Larkin Jr., of Jackson County, whom he names as executor, $1,000; brothers, Hiram and Abenezer, in Missouri, $1,000 each, or the same amount to their living heirs. The balance of the estate goes to the heirs of five deceased brothers and five deceased sisters, share and share alike. In order to make it plain, however, he decided that the heirs must be living in order to get any of the property.

Littleton Lindsay, who died last week in the South Tualatin section, gave $400 to a son, Elmer, $1 to Oda and George Schumacher, grandchildren, and $1 to his daughter, Flora, and the balance of the estate, real and personal he gives outright to his widow.

John M. Scott, General Passenger Agent of the S. P. lines in Oregon was in town last Friday, and while here had a talk with Fred Schomburg, who goes to Germany this Summer. Mr. Scott is one of the members of the State Immigration Board, which has a fund of $50,000 for publicity for the state, and he will see that Mr. Schomburg is laden with literature for his trip. The Board will have descriptive matter printed in German, and if arrangements can be made satisfactory to the board and the visitor Mr. Schomburg will make visits to several fairs in the Faderland, this Fall, and tell them of the glories of Oregon, besides distributing the pamphlets.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stovewood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Skow, corner 8th and Fir, Hillsboro, Oregon. Phone, City 822.

Senator Wood says he has received several communications from parties in other counties asking about the status of the fishing highway law. The intention of the State Game Warden to recognize vested rights in the matter will be welcomed by all who have lands that are now and then overflowed when the water is high.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned will please call and settle. Payments can be made to either O. E. Frank or the undersigned.—J. E. Borwick, Reedville, Ore. 35-tf

C. W. Bloom and daughter were up from below Newton, Saturday. Twenty-seven years ago this month, Bloom and the Argus reporter worked together over in the South Tualatin country for Joe Hare, who was then running the Ervine Burkhalter place.

For sale: Thoroughbred White Leghorn eggs, $1 for 15, or $6 per hundred; also hens and pullets; won second pen prize at Hillsboro in 1912.—Emil Stark, Bethany, address Portland, Ore., Route 2. 52-f

Wm. Ridgely, of Forest Grove, was down Saturday, taking out a fishing license. Ridgely is one of the veterans of the civil war who still finds solace in the pastime of Isaak Walton.

Dror's Early Standard potato seed for sale. Potatoes mature in 90 days. Something new, and something fine. Have about 40 bushels.—Geo. R. Bagley, or apply at Oak Cove Farm. 45tf

Richard E. Wiley, a student at the University of Washington, Seattle, is home for a week's vacation, the guest of his father, W. V. Wiley. He returns Sunday.

Dr. L. O. Clement, of Portland, Ore., specialist in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, will be at the office of Dr. R. M. Erwin, Hillsboro, Saturday, April 12, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Wilbur McEldowney, with the Forest Grove National Bank as cashier, was a Hillsboro visitor Friday, attending the Naylor trial as a witness.

Show Day Will Soon Be Here

Al. G. Barnes Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus will give performances in Hillsboro on Thursday April 24. The coming of this show is eliciting a great deal of interest and enthusiasm, not only with the little ones but the grown ups too.

There will be 350 animals with the circus, each of which is a performer. Among them are a herd of elephants, camels, royal Bengal tigers, pumas, bears, leopards, jaguars, hyenas, zebras, monkeys of every known species, dogs and ponies. With this show may be seen more animals than ever collected before at one time and offered for exhibition either in this country or abroad.

More than half a hundred heart-stilling acts are presented at each and every performance in steel arenas, under the direction of the world's most celebrated animal trainers.

Without a doubt the most dangerous, death defying, thrilling and prodigious act ever offered to the public may be seen with the Al. G. Barnes Circus. It is the act of Herr Roth with his twenty man eating forest bred African lions.

A few of the many other favorite acts to be seen will be that of Robert Thornton and his troupe of bears, Capt. Stonewall and his sea lions, Prof. Emery and his herd of Siamese elephants, Miss Ethel Bonde and her educated Arabian stallions which perform in unison with a lion, bear, dog and a monkey; Capt. Englehart and Prince Congom, an Orang-Outang, who does everything but talk.

Each and every performance will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Barnes who is best known in every village and hamlet of any size in the United States and Canada as "the animal master or America's greatest Showman." This is the one show that's different. With it there are no immoral exhibitions of any kind. No thieves or crooks are allowed to travel on anyone of the 28 railroad cars needed to transport the show.

A gorgeous, glittering, street parade, headed by military bands will leave the show grounds at 10:30 o'clock on the day of the exhibition. Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m. The doors are opened one hour preceding the performance.

C. F. Grabel, who has been over at Vancouver, B. C., several months, conducting an Ever-fresh plant, returned home Saturday afternoon.

I. C. Nealigh, of Beaverton, was in town Monday. He has sold out his Scholls property, and will reside in the garden city for a while.

Newton Womer, of Oakville, Wash., came over last week to attend the funeral of his brother, the late Daniel Womer, of Laurel. He also visited a few days with his daughter, Mrs. John Wohlshlegel.

From March 31 to April 7, just a week, County Clerk Luce issued 269 fishing licenses. This, of course, is but a fraction of what has been issued since the first of the year, and to what will be issued between now and the close of the season. The county gets no compensation from the issuance of these bits of blue paper, and the work is therefore a matter of charity.

The jury in the case of Frank Goldstein, a Portland business man, versus the Pacific Home Mutual Fire Insurance Company, was ended Thursday afternoon last by the jury bringing in a verdict for the amount of a fire loss, $1,500, and $100, costs of the action. District Attorney E. R. Tongue acted as attorney for Goldstein. The company disputed payment on the grounds that the plaintiff did not have permission to move his stock of goods from one building to another, while Goldstein proved that he had permission from Feeny, whom he supposed to be a duly accredited agent of the Mutual. Anyway, the jury believed that Goldstein was entitled to his money and voted the verdict.

COUNTY BUILT MORE THAN PROPORTIONATE

Share of Good Rock Roads According to Figures of Road Ass'n.

BIGGER PRO RATA THAN MULTNOMAH

Cat is Let Out of Bag by Pacific Highway Report, Just Issued

For several years we have heard nothing but kicks in the Multnomah press about the condition of Washington County roads. Multnomah, Clackamas and Marion counties have been gleaning bouquets, while Washington County has been forced to take the bilge water. In the recent report of the Pacific Highway Ass'n, it transpired that Washington County last year expended a vast amount more than its proportionate share according to valuations. Multnomah had a valuation of $35,151,935, and Washington County had a valuation of $19,999,713. Multnomah has 228.9 miles of rock road, while Washington has 82 miles, giving this county a great preponderance of percentage. Multnomah last year expended $370,007.13 on rock roads, while this county expended $213,149.98 on like highways. This tells the story of what is being done—and yet the "ginks" of Portland still keep throwing out gratuitous insults to us, as if we reply, say we have grossly insulted them. Paul Feelv, writer on auto matters, recently took a trip through Clackamas and Marion counties, and this is what he says, comparing their roads with this much abused Rex-Tigard road:

"It is no joke to take a car on such a trip. I really believe that it would have been impossible to do what we have done with any kind of a touring car. It is still a wonder to me how we ever got through. I used to think that the Rex-Tigard road was the worst in the Northwest—why, that is a dream of a boulevard compared to Clackamas County roads, and numerous highways between Salem and Cottage Grove. I simply can't conceive of any road being worse."
