Making Rapid Growth—The growth which Oregon Life Insurance Company is now making is practically marvelous. The month of April shows an increase of 35 per cent over April of last year, and the first three days of May brought to Oregon Life the largest amount of new business of any three previous successive days in the history of the company. Oregonians realize that it is best to unite on Oregon Life and build it. This company already has several millions more insurance in force in Oregon than any other Pacific Coast company and is therefore in a position to, and does, furnish superior service to Oregonians. 10

Frank Riggen, aged 25 years, escaped convict, was caught by Constable McQuillan, at the C. A. Hanley ranch, Monday, and lodged in jail for the penitentiary authorities. Riggen was sentenced to five years for the larceny of a fifteen-dollar rifle, and had served two years, when he made his escape while "trusty." Riggen went up from Yamhill county. He will now have three years to serve, and it is not likely that he will be given any credits for any good behavior. Riggen has been shearing sheep over the county for several weeks. The prisoner was taken back to the pen Monday evening.

Some boys playing in the basement of the R. B.
