

CHAMBERLAIN SAYS WORLD'S GARDEN SPOT

Will Sustain a Great Population and is Nature's Favorite
BEST SHEEP RAISED IN THE WORLD
Great Northern Agricultural Expert Talks at the Commercial Club

Fifty members of the Commercial Club and a scattering from the ranches heard expert Chamberlain, with the Great Northern, at the clubrooms, Friday evening. Mr. Chamberlain is an agricultural and horticultural expert, and he is not in any sense a book farmer. He went in the Dakotas years ago, and made a success at farming where others failed. He knows ranching from A to Z, and his address was replete with interest. He said that the Willamette Valley was capable of sustaining a greater population per acre than any other country in the world, and that the climate and soil were unequalled for production. He advocated rotation all along the line in crop growing, and told how the wonderful climate helped Nature in her efforts. He says we have a natural livestock section, and that cattle, horses, hogs and sheep will grow better here than in the country east of the mountains. He told how Oregon sheep can beat the English sheep for growth, both of frame and wool, and related how Oregon sheep swept the prize centers last year at the big land shows held in the Mississippi Valley.

He asked that the club, as well as farmers, encourage the Oregon hen and for a greater production of livestock. Telling how the Hill lines annually shipped twenty-five millions of products to this side of the Rockies, he held that we should produce this ourselves.

Clerk Luce turned down a foreign medical certificate for a prospective bridegroom, the last of the week, and the young man was forced to see a local physician. The law requires that the examining physician must be registered, and he insists that he cannot make guesses as to registration. Henceforward an applicant being examined by a physician from another county must also have a sworn statement by the county clerk of that particular county showing that the physician is licensed to practice, and this will then make the clerk safe in issuance. Clerk Luce says that not to exact this would lay groundwork for fraud. Any old piece of paper, signed M. D., whether legitimate or not, would pass through and the law evaded.

I represent Spirella corsets—not sold in stores. Will call at homes on request, and do the fitting, and teach how to adjust and wear the corset. Our tailored made-to-measure corsets, including the latest front lace, with an experienced corsetier service, cost no more than high class corsets purchased in stores.—Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. 584. 50tf

The Misses Clare and Madge Imbrie returned Sunday from a four months' visit with relatives and friends in California. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Med Mosher, at Los Angeles, and with an uncle of Mr. Imbrie, at Santa Ana, and traveled hundreds of miles in motors. Walter Mosher returned to Oregon with them, and will make an extended visit here and in Portland. The young ladies were much pleased with their visit, but are glad to get back to Oregon. Their trip made them acquainted with the good roads in the South, and they tell of making 200 miles in an auto in one day, with but three or four miles of road that was not macadam or paved.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stove wood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Skow, corner 8th and Fir, Hillsboro, Oregon. Phone, City 822.

That the dairy business in Oregon is growing at a tremendous rate, and that in value it far exceeds the state's next largest crop—livestock—is the statement of State Dairy and Food Commissioner Mickel in a recently issued bulletin. The value of dairy products for 1912 was $19,000,000, while that of livestock was $12,000,000. Prospects for a material increase this year are good.

For sale: Two single buggies, both rubber tires; one open and one top. Open buggy nearly new, and has large, roomy seat. Top buggy is in good condition. Call at the Roy store, on the P. R. & N.

According to a statement by State Game Warden Finley, about 3,000 Chinese pheasants will be liberated this season in the various counties of the state, about 1500 of them going to Eastern Oregon. In addition to this increase of the game resources of Oregon, about 12,000,000 young trout will be liberated by the state fish hatcheries.

Rough lumber, 16-foot lengths, all widths, constantly on hand.—S. R. Corran, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 1, 3 miles north of town, on C. D. Farnham place. We sell at $9 per M. 6-17

The Forest Grove school district last week started an advertisement for the sale of the school bonds privately contracted to Morris Brothers. The suit started by E. B. Sappington forced the advertisement, which, according to law, must be made before the bonds are sold.

Wood for sale—Good four-foot fir. Will deliver for $3 and $3.25.—J. H. Voelker, Cornelius, Ore., R. 2, Telephone, Oak 555, Cornelius Central. 10-13

Judge McGahey, of Gaston, was down to the county seat the last of the week. "Jud" is thinking of joining the benedicts in a few months—at least that is what his friends are saying.

For sale, cheap for cash, 10 foot corrugated iron roller, telescope frame.—Zana Wood. 8-tf

J. T. Fletcher, of Forest Grove, pioneer school master in the days when that profession was more or less strenuous, was down to the county seat the last of the week, greeting friends.

Frank Zureher, now working at Vancouver, Wash., was over to the county seat the last of the week, enroute to Cedar Mill to visit relatives.

WORK COMMENCED ON MAIN STREET RAILWAY

Portland, Eugene & Eastern Started Taking up Pavement Saturday

GRANITE BLOCKS BETWEEN RAILS

Field Engineer McClymonds Confers With the City Council

Field Engineer J. H. McClymonds, and M. H. Lull, assistant chief engineer of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railway, were here Saturday, and held a conference with Mayor Bagley and the city council, asking that the company be permitted to lay granite blocks between the rails on Main Street. The gentlemen said they were going to make a permanent roadbed, and one that would not need tearing up every few months. They want to thoroughly roll the earth, then put in plenty of crushed rock, roll this, then top with cement, and then on top of this lay their granite. Permission was granted.

A crew of men started at work Saturday morning in front of the Crescent Theatre, cutting out the bitulithic, and Mr. McClymonds says the work will be rushed as fast as possible. Orders for new work trains to get the Hillsboro work out of the way have been filed with the company, and it will be but a matter of a few weeks until the last gap between Portland and Corvallis will be linked with rails.

MISS MARY E. HINMAN

Miss Mary E. Hinman, daughter of the late Alanson Hinman, died at the home of her mother, June 12, 1913. She was aged 62 years, and while not robust, had been ill but a short time. Her mother and the following brothers and sister survive: Oliver Hinman, of Ellensburg, Wash.; Dr. A. Hinman, Carl L. Hinman, Forest Grove, and Mrs. A. R. Leabo, of East Portland.

The funeral took place Saturday morning.

STILES—RUEF

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruef, of near Newton, was the scene of a quiet home wedding, June 14, 1913, when their daughter, Alma, was united in marriage to Bert F. Stiles, Rev. B. Clarence Cook, of the Baptist church, officiating. The young couple will make their home near Dallas, where Mr. Stiles has a fruit farm.

Geo. Campbell, of Laurel, was a city visitor Friday.

Adolph Rutschmann, of West Union, was in town Friday.

C. R. Mead, of Springfield, was in the city the first of the week.

R. Puhols, of West Union, was in the city Saturday.

Mrs. Alice Cutting, of Kinton, was in the city Friday.

Wm. Schendel, of near Blooming, was a Hillsboro visitor the last of the week.

Geo. Hellaire, one of the old guard of Glenoce, was in town Saturday.

John Koehnke and Adam Hergert, of beyond Blooming, were city visitors Saturday.

Sam J. Raffety, of Mountaine, was greeting Hillsboro friends Saturday.

J. Moline, of below Reedville, was a city visitor Saturday. He is road supervisor in his section.

The ball game between Hillsboro and Cornelius was called off, Sunday, owing to the weather.

Dr. E. H. Smith the first of the week performed a surgical operation on Mrs. Brumser, whose husband works on the P. R. & N.

For Sale—Top buggy, good as new, rubber tires. Will sell buggy and harness for $80. Inquire of Mrs. L. A. Rood, First Street, between Baseline and Oak, 13-5

J. C. Miller, of the Arcade district, was down to the city Saturday afternoon, to meet his son, who came out from Portland for a short visit.

The Hillsboro Lumber Co. has been shifting its logging railway tract above Buxton, and the mill has been running short time awaiting completion of the change.

H. A. Kurath has bought the Calvin Adams property on Third and Oak, and expects to move in some time this Fall. This will leave him within a few blocks of the clerk's office, where he is deputy.

Taken up: Bay mare, white strip in face, weighs about 1200. One white hind foot. Owner prove property, pay charges, advertising, etc., and take same away.—Leland Klineman, Grove-land, on United Railway. 13-15

Arthur Shute, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shute, accidentally broke his forearm—a greenstick fracture—Friday evening, while wheeling up to town. He tried to get off the sidewalk and took a header. Dr. Erwin attended the young man.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Carey, of Portland, were in the city Saturday, enroute to the Mrs. L. O. Dersham home, near North Plains, where they visited over Sunday. They will go to Tillamook before they return to Portland.

W. H. Souls and Pearl Rose were married in Portland, the last of the week. Mr. Souls is well known here, and his first wife was a grand-daughter of the late Ben Cornelius. Souls is now a deputy in the Multnomah County Clerk's office.

H. S. Huson was in from his south-of-Cornelius ranch, Saturday. The Capt. says that the simple life beats building railroads over the Cascade mountains. Mr. Huson was chief engineer of the N. P. when they built West from the Rockies to the coast, and held the position many years.

Miss Fern Hobbs, secretary to Gov. West, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hobbs, at Varley, the first of the week. Miss Hobbs is one of Oregon's few women earning a salary of $3,000 per year. As she is admitted to practice law, however, the salary is not out of proportion to the services rendered.

Dr. A. Miles Taylor and wife, of San Francisco, and T. S. Weatherred and wife departed Tuesday in Dr. Taylor's auto for Tacoma, where they will visit J. C. Weatherred and family for a few days. They expected to make the trip over to the city of destiny in a day, with ease. While over there T. S. will hunt up John Day and wife, and other former Hillsborites.

The absence of canines on the street causes one to smile when one thinks of the talk that was going the rounds some weeks ago when the ordinance went into effect. Occasionally a farmer's dog strays into the city, but not often. A dozen yelping curs, scattered over the town were always in evidence months ago, but Hillsboro is now truly and agreeably a "dogless town."

FOREST GROVE WIFE STARTS BIG SUIT

Asks for One-Half of Thirty Thousand Dollars From Husband

SAYS DEED PROCURED IN BAD FAITH

Alleges That She Was Misled Into Signing Papers

Mrs. Addie McGreer, of Forest Grove, has sued T. H. McGreer for divorce, and her complaint bristles with allegations. The McGreers were married at Woodburn, Marion County, Nov. 25, 1904, and they later moved to Forest Grove. She alleges that when they married her husband owned property in Wasco County, heavily mortgaged, and that with financial help from her, and working together with the end in view, the property was held and the mortgage paid off. Then, she alleges, in 1912, he misled her and prevailed upon her to sign a deed to the land in Wasco the grantee being a son of her husband by a former wife. McGreer owns a mortgage on lands amounting to $20,000. She claims that McGreer is worth at least $30,000, and she wants one-half of the property, $50 per month alimony pending the suit, and $300 attorney fees.

Mrs. McGreer has another indictment. She says that after they had built a home with their money, in the Grove, she was compelled to furnish the furniture and the furnishings, McGreer refusing to put up the money for these necessities. She further says that McGreer objected to her correspondence with oldtime friends, and threatened if it were not stopped he would get out, and he wouldn't "get out by the pistol route, either."

She asks that McGreer be enjoined from getting rid of his property until the court can settle the litigation.

I. O. O. F. LODGE

Freeman Lodge, No. 235, I. O. O. F., was instituted at North Plains, last Saturday evening, and about 25 three-linkers from Hillsboro went over to assist in the work. The new officers are Paul Paulson, noble grand; N. H. Jones, vice grand; G. W. Moore, secretary; E. M. Mays, treasurer; Geo. M. Hunter, warden; Jake Milne, conductor; J. W. Goodin, chaplain; Chas. Davis, R. S. N. G. Jackson, L. S. N. G.; J. Schelder, inner guard; R. J. Schuler, outer guard; J. Semit, J. V. G.; C. E. Korn, L. S. N. G. The lodge will meet every Tuesday.

W. H. Souls and Pearl Rose were married in Portland, the last of the week. Mr. Souls is well known here, and his first wife was a grand-daughter of the late Ben Cornelius. Souls is now a deputy in the Multnomah County Clerk's office.

H. S. Huson was in from his south-of-Cornelius ranch, Saturday. The Capt. says that the simple life beats building railroads over the Cascade mountains. Mr. Huson was chief engineer of the N. P. when they built West from the Rockies to the coast, and held the position many years.

Occasionally a farmer's dog strays into the city, but not often. A dozen yelping curs, scattered over the town were always in evidence months ago, but Hillsboro is now truly and agreeably a "dogless town."

The verdict of the jury: "We, the jury impanelled in the above matter, find that deceased met his death on the Oregon Electric railway cut-off grade about 1/2 mile east of Oreno, Wash. Co., Oregon, on June 14, 1913, by coming in contact with a high-tension electric power wire owned and operated by said Electric Ry. Co.

And we find that said accident was not caused by any fault or neglect of deceased.

Virgil L. Parker, J. E. Frank, Ira W. Handley, Verne Curry, Wm. Oelrich, Robt. Schneider."

John Ireland, of Forest Grove, was a Hillsboro visitor Monday morning. He was fortunate enough to dodge Sheriff Reeves, who was looking for jurymen.
