

WOMAN COOK SUES HARE & GILKERSON

Alleges She has Sustained Permanent Injuries From an Accident

FREE FELL ACROSS THE COOK HOUSE
Wants Fifteen Thousand Dollars for Alleged Permanent Disability

Lizzie Clark, a cook at the Hare & Gilkerson sawmill and logging camp site, three miles from Manning, has sued the firm for fifteen thousand dollars damages. Her complaint alleges that she sustained permanent injuries, May 6, as the result of a tree falling on the cook house, while she was in the structure, and she says she was pinned to the floor by limbs and debris, suffering an injured spine, a bruised breast, broken ribs, and other injuries, among which is impaired vision. The instrument goes on to say that the tree was about 30 inches in diameter, and was burned out at the trunk, and that the timber fellers did not use care in felling the same. She alleges neglect in this, and further neglect that they did not fall the tree prior to the building of the house.

The plaintiff went to work for them in February. An Oregon City firm is suing for plaintiff, and it is expected that Hagley & Hare, of Hillsboro, will defend the case.

Apparently it was one of those unaccountable accidents that occasionally happen.

The Hare mentioned is J. C. Hare, of the Hillsboro Lumber Company. The suit was filed Friday, in circuit court.

Mr. Hare states that his timber is being felled by contract, and that the only thing the firm has had to do with the cook was to see that the men paid their bills.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

The County Court will receive bids and award contracts, on Saturday, June 28, 1913, at 2 p. m., for the following work for Washington County:

For hauling rock in Road Districts Nos. 1, 3, 6, 12 and 37, for macadam work, bids to be made on first quarter mile and each successive quarter mile to 8th quarter.

For hauling 225 yards of rock, Dist. 17, 31 miles; for hauling rock in same district 41 miles.

For construction of bridge and fill on Taylor Ferry road, west of Sherwood.

For bridge at Lawrence place, between Scholls and Farmington.

Contractors will submit proposals, together with certified check in sum of 5 per cent. of bid.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the County Judge.

The Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

D. B. Reasoner, Judge.
By order of Commissioners' Court, and dated this June 11, 1913.

STOCK YARDS RECEIPTS

Receipts for the Union Stock Yards, for the week ending June 20; cattle 1126; calves 176; hogs 2667; sheep 4418.

Market steady to stronger this week. Best grass steers sold in bulk $8.00 and $8.25 with an occasional good load at $8.50. Outlet is somewhat limited but receipts have not been large enough to come to a glut. Good cows and heifers were not offered freely, but one bunch of cows brought $7.00, the remainder being poor quality. Prime light veal calves at $9.00 featured.

A steady to higher hog trade. Reaction in prices set in early Monday morning. Tops quickly reached $8.25, $8.30, $8.35 and $8.40. Thursday market firm at $8.40. Continued light receipts would strengthen it still further.

Sheep house draggy. Prime yearlings failed to sell better than $5.00; ewes, $4.50; lambs, $6.50 and $6.75. Much this stuff is coming in this year and buyers are not anxious for any but good fat mutton and lambs.

Mrs. C. T. Young and children returned from Kalispel, Montana, Saturday, the little daughter, Marie, being much improved in health.

Miss Elpha Schulmerich, of Banks, was in town the last of the week, the guest of Miss Oda Schulmerich.

County Judge Reasoner is spending all his spare time going over the old archives in the garret in the court house, and he has made some valuable finds. He will have them gathered together and placed by themselves as a part of the documents necessary for preservation. One of them is the first printed volume on the organization of affairs. It appears that prior to Champeog there was a meeting of those favorable to American provisional government, and that at Champeog, when the vote was for the United States the Americans immediately held a meeting. Jos. L. Meek was elected sheriff, and from that time on until 1846 there were frequent meetings. Meek was finally sent East and Lane was appointed territorial governor. The volume was printed in 1853, and all the original minutes of the sessions are published.

The supreme test of a pair of glasses is not the cost, but the satisfaction they give. Dr. Lowe's glasses satisfy whether they cost $2.00 or more. They represent years of experience, not experiment. The proper fitting of the proper glasses is his business. For more than 21 years he has made it his exclusive business. The result is absolute satisfaction. He does not go from house to house, nor employ agents. Beware of those claiming to be such. He is connected with no one in the optical business. Consult him in the Hotel Washington to 4 o'clock only, Wednesday, July 2. Scores of Hillsboro references.

After a jury has gone out to deliberate, if you want a very good idea of the verdict, and he will commit himself, ask Chas. E. Runyon his opinion, and he will come as near guessing the outcome as any person connected with the court. Nineteen times out of twenty, when he does predict a verdict, he does it with rare accuracy. Mr. Runyon is the court reporter, and as such he generally writes each question and answer, and he has a lively sense of the credibility of the witnesses, as well. Chas. E. will not get conceited over this bouquet and attempt guess-work by rote, however, and fall into disgrace by bad guesses.

I represent Spiroella corsets—not sold in stores. Will call at homes on request, and do the fitting, and teach how to adjust and wear the corset. Our tailored made-to-measure corsets, including the latest front lace, with an experienced corsetier service, cost no more than high class corsets purchased in stores.—Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. 584.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stove-wood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Skow, corner 8th and Fir, Hillsboro, Oregon. Phone, City 822.

The Commercial Club has remodeled a section of the Tamiesie Block, converting three small rooms into a comfortable billiard and pool room. The department is just across the hall from the main club rooms, and will accommodate two or three tables. Mr. Marks did the work.

For sale—Two single buggies, both rubber tires; one open and one top. Open buggy nearly new, and has large, roomy seat. Top buggy is in good condition. Call at the Roy store, on the P. R. & N.

Jos. Williams and three of his eight sons were down from above Gaston, Friday, transacting business in the county seat. Mr. Williams is one of Oregon's pioneer hopgrowers, and he is still in the game.

China pheasants are getting very tame these days, and the roosters are to be seen all along the lines of railways, being very tame. At Elmonica, Sunday, one of the flashily dressed birds took refuge in the depot cover during a heavy shower.

Let no one but one highly educated, long experienced, thoroughly skilled, test and fit glasses for you and your children's eyes. Dr. Lowe has the necessary qualifications. Consult him, to 4 o'clock only, Wednesday, July 2, at Hotel Washington.

For sale—Several incubators and brooders, latest makes.—J. P. Adams, near Jabez Wilkes' place, south of City Park, Hillsboro. 5tf

Mrs. Koontz and daughter, Miss Hazel, were guests at the C. E. Koontz home the last of the week.

OREGON BANKERS ARE TO CENSOR DEALERS

Alleges That Easterners Gets Gaff on Prices

APPRAISEMENT COMMITTEE IS SOUGHT
Oregon Furnishes a Man For Head of Nursery Association

Portland, June 21. (Special)—That would-be settlers coming to Oregon have, in many instances, been victimized by unscrupulous land speculators and that the state, as a whole, has been injured by their operations, is a statement made at the annual convention of Oregon bankers recently held at Corvallis, and the attending delegates expressed a determination to co-operate with the commercial bodies throughout the state in an effort to put greedy real estate men out of business. The plan does not contemplate the entire elimination of land-selling agencies, but does propose to annihilate the sharks who have been speculating in good Oregon soil, taking it out of production and holding it for an unreasonable increase in price.

It was decided to form an appraisement committee in each community to pass on the prices of lands, the committee to consist of two members of the local commercial body and one banker, and intending purchasers will be advised to purchase no real estate from any dealer until the value of same has been passed upon by the appraisers and the price asked decided to be a reasonable one. It was stated as a fact that much of the agricultural land in Oregon is held at too high a figure. There is doubtless plenty of good land which can be obtained at a fair price, but the newcomer, usually unfamiliar with local values and conditions, seldom hears of that land. The committee will see that he gets a square deal.

To the Pacific Northwest goes the honor of providing a man to head the American Association of Nurserymen for the coming year. The convention of the association held in Portland last week was the first meeting of the organization ever held west of the Rocky Mountains, and at its final business session, Friday morning, J. B. Pilkington, of Portland, was unanimously elected president. The 1914 meeting will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, and at that time a strong effort will be made to bring the association to San Francisco for its meeting in 1915.

Fred Hamel was in from West Union, Monday, greeting friends.

Those who desire to apply for citizen papers must remember that unless they can sign their own name in handwriting they will be denied the chance to become a member of the family of Uncle Samuel. This is federal law, and is to shut out people who are not sufficiently educated to at least observe the amenities of business. One such case came before the local court the other day, and while the man is a good fellow, and is industrious, he was unable to conform to the law in this regard and his application was refused.

Contrary to the reports circulated that the Argus was wrong in stating that the roads between Hillsboro and Cornelius and Forest Grove would be rocked, work is now beginning on the same. The court hopes to have the entire stretch macadamized, and if there are not sufficient funds to do it, at least the bad portions will be rocked. If that stretch can only get in condition there will be a rock road from the county seat clear to the head of Gales Creek—a fine line of road for autos, as well as for winter wagon travel.

Thos. E. Young, of Cooper Mountain, was in the city Friday.

Dance at W. O. W. Hall, North Plains, Saturday eve, June 28.

J. C. Crocker, of near North Plains, was in town Monday.

Sherman G. Rhodes, of below Witch Hazel, was a city caller Saturday morning.

Now is the time to have that house wired. See the Owl Electric Co. 1-tf

Jacob Dahinden, of above Manning, was down to the county seat Friday and Saturday, on legal business.

H. Taylor Hill, of Portland, was out to Hillsboro, Friday, returning from a trip to his Roy ranch.

W. J. Gregg, of Leisyville, was in town Saturday, and reports that the late rains did wonders for the hope.

Dance at the new Helvetia Hall, Saturday evening, July 12. First-class Portland music. Tickets, $1, and ten cents per plate for supper. 14-16

Mrs. Frank Waibel was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, the last of the week, for treatment.

For Sale—Top buggy, good new, rubber tires. Will sell buggy and harness for $80. Inquire of Mrs. L. A. Rood, First Street, between Baseline and Oak. 13-5

Jos. Brandenburg, of above Mountaineer, was in town Saturday, greeting friends. He reports crops as looking fine out that way.

Consult Dr. Lowe about your eyes and glasses, at Hotel Washington, Wednesday, July 2, to 4 o'clock only. Remember the time limit.

Geo. Corrigan, who a few years ago resided at Shady Brook, was in town Saturday, on legal business. He is now living in Portland.

For sale—Holstein bull, aged 5 years, eligible to registry; quiet and easy to handle.—J. C. Crocker, between North Plains and Mountaineer, on Cornelius, Or., Route 1. 14-16

In last Friday's Oregonian, under the caption, "Twenty-five Years Ago Today," mention was given of the selection of Wm. Hay, of Newton, and Joseph Smith, West Union, as United States grand jurors.

Rough lumber, 16-foot lengths, all widths, constantly on hand.—S. R. Cogan, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 1, 3 miles north of town, on C. D. Farnham place. We sell at $9 per M. 6-17

Secretary of State Olcott has sent County Treasurer Sappington a check for $1281.41 for the Washington County fair fund. This will go to the Forest Grove Agricultural Association, for the fair to be held there this fall.

Taken up: Bay mare, white strip in face, weighs about 1200. One white hind foot. Owner prove property, pay charges, advertising, etc., and take same away.—Leland Klineman, Grove-land, on United Railway. 13-15

If you want a range that beats the world for the money, call on David Corwin, Bank Annex Building, and see his Quality Ranges, all the way from $25 to $55. These are the best ranges ever placed on the market in Hillsboro. Call in and see them.

Geo. Biersdorf, of North Tualatin Plains, was in Monday. He was lucky enough to get in 35 loads of clover hay—all he had down—his second crop is now nearly ready to cut. Geo. says that the rains of last week were of great benefit to hops.

Chief of Police Blazer and wife, departed Tuesday for Fillamook, for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Wade Everest. They will remain until after the Fourth. Blazer will have a chase after the festive clam and other salt water delicacies.

Trouble is brewing between the school district and the contractor for the new school building, and it may take a lawsuit to settle the case. The board will not come to the terms of the contractor and say they are perfectly willing to leave it to a jury of twelve.

NATIONAL NURSERYMEN VISIT OREGON NURSERY

Are Guests of Messrs. McDonald & Powers, of Oreno, Friday

MARVEL AT THE BEAUTY OF PLACE
Banquet Is Served at Packing Sheds, Beautifully Decorated

The national convention of nurserymen, comprising growers from all parts of the United States adjourned in Portland last week, after one of the most successful meetings ever held in the history of the organization. J. B. Pilkington, who has sold nursery stock from his Multnomah holdings, to Washington county farmers for many years, was chosen president of the national assembly and Cleveland, Ohio, was the selection for next year's meeting.

Last Friday about two hundred Eastern, Southern and Western growers visited Oreno on a special excursion, and were the guests of Mr. McDonald and Mr. Powers, of the Oregon Nursery Company. The visitors were taken all over the Oreno holdings in carriages and autos, and a splendid luncheon was served in the packing sheds, where the tables and hall were beautifully decorated. There were many speeches, and many compliments paid the donors of the trip.

Dr. Tamiesie, A. C. Shute and Mr. Mahon represented Hillsboro. Dr. Tamiesie states that the best-informed nurserymen from the East and South were delighted with Oregon, and expressed themselves that they had never seen a more fertile country in all their travels.

Mr. McDonald is responsible for the excursion to Oreno, and Dr. Tamiesie believes the trip will be productive of more good for the section than any event that has transpired for the past ten years.

Some burglars entered the store of J. D. Anderson, of Forest Grove, Friday night, and stole from 60 to 70 suits of clothing, estimated as costing from $10 to $15 per suit. The robbers also got away with some shoes, but just how many is not known.

Sheriff Reeves at once closed all escape points at Portland, but nothing was found in the city to give a clue to the robbery. He has had men working on all up-valley points, as well. Portland police officials say there is an organized gang in Portland going about the rural districts, touching stores. They can get out and rob a store and make Portland before daybreak. It is also thought that the burglars are shipping their plunder out to Tacoma or Seattle. They procure suits and cut off the manufacturers' labels, sew on new labels, and thus destroy the identity. Many think the gang operate with a big automobile, and it is said that a machine passed through here in the night, about three o'clock Saturday morning.

W. C. Hamlet, of 712 Albina Avenue, was found unconscious in the court house square, Sunday afternoon, and removed to the Adams' residence. Dr. Linklater examined the man, who was breathing regularly, but was dead to the world, as if he had been indulging in some drug. He had a return ticket to Portland, some silver, and some notes in his favor. He also has three lots in the Garden Tracts, under contract. Hamlet is a plumber by trade, and he was put aboard the last train for Portland.

Whether he was a sufferer from knockout drops, administered to him on the train, or whether he took an overdose of an opiate, could not be determined. His mind was quite hazy on remembering just what transpired after he became conscious of what was going on.

Jeptha C. Garrigus, of above Banks, was in town the first of the week, buying in the tract of land, under foreclosure sale, sold to Geo. M. Humphreys, who was convicted of the Philomath murder, and hanged at Salem a few weeks ago. It will be remembered that in the Fall after the slaying the two Humphreys came to Banks and bought the property, making a payment on it, and giving a mortgage back.

Harry Cline, of Laurel, was a city visitor the first of the week.

Fred Durig, of the Cedar Mill section, was a city visitor the first of the week.
