A. L. Grebe, of Laurel, was in town Saturday. A. L. is taking a great deal of joshing, good-naturedly, these days, over an episode that happened to him the other day. While working in the brush he felt something wriggly going up one of his trousers' leg. He had visions of rattlesnakes and other reptiles, and caught the intruder with the grip of a giant. His son came to his help and together they extracted a panting little lizard, about eight inches in length. The intruder became frightened and took to the first dark place for safety. After this Grebe intends to tie the bottoms of his overalls, or wear high top boots.

W. T. Kerr, of the Hillsboro Mercantile, returned Sunday from a trip to Prineville and other Crook County points, and says that that section had a big lot of rain last week. He saw John Bettis, while at Prineville, and says that Bettis had a lot of alfalfa down in the rain, and was kicking because he had left the wet belt for the dry belt and still found old Jupiter Pluvius doing business in haying time. Mr. Kerr says that potato raising is getting to be a big factor up there.

Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. 584. 50tf

The Washington-Oregon people have built new carrying lines in the Dilley and Gaston sections. The old line, built by Senator Haines, frequently went through fields, and the present company secured franchises along the county road so workmen always can have access to the poles and wires without trouble.

Wm. Schulmerich, of Farmington, was in town Friday. He says that British Columbia has been over-developed and that some hard times are likely to overtake that portion of the Dominion. He says Oregon beats them on lumbering ten to one.

Taken up: Bay mare, white strip in face, weighs about 1200. One white hind foot. Owner prove property, pay charges, advertising, etc., and take same away.—Leland Klineman, Grove-land, on United Railway. 13-15

THREE TAGS TO GO WITH HUNTING LICENSE

Alien Can Neither Hunt Nor Fish in Oregon

MUST AT LEAST DECLARE INTENTION

Game Law Growing More and More Strong Each Year

Oregon game laws are growing more and more stringent each year, and now the alien can no longer fish or hunt. It now becomes necessary for a foreign born person to at least take out first papers before he can enjoy the pleasures of Izaak Walton or emulate Daniel Boone. This is news to many, and news that might save a fine.

The limit of buck deer for the season is three, and each hunter's license has three coupons attached, one of which must be attached to each deer, when it is killed. As the open season for deer is August 1 the Argus publishes both the alien regulations, as well as the section on the coupons, which follows:

"Each hunter's license shall have attached to it three coupons, and when such licensee shall legally take or kill any deer, such person shall immediately detach from his license and attach thereto, in plain sight, the proper coupon, date, and sign his name to the same, and the coupon shall be so attached to the head, or skin, and in case it is desired to carry such deer as baggage or to sell such skin or mount the head the coupon must accompany same and shall be kept attached to such part as long as it is preserved."

Clerk Luce states that where licenses have been issued without coupons holders will be given them upon presentation at the County Clerk's office, in person, or by mail.

UNION STOCK YARDS

Following is the report for the Union stock yards, Portland, for week ending June 27:

Receipts for cattle, 1525; hogs, 2786; calves, 278; sheep, 4896; horses, 23.

Cattle market steady to strong all week. The general run of steers has been above the average in quality, the bulk selling $7.75 to $8.25. Several loads of California grass cattle sold at higher prices. The steers in this shipment brought $8.75, heifers $8, and the calves $9. Outlet has been very good and the market seems to be on very sound basis. There is a poor demand for stockers and feeders on account of high water.

The hog trade surpassed all records since 1910 for a single week. Prices made a sheer gain of 80c in seven days. Market opened strong Monday at $8.60, which was a 20c gain over the previous week, and by Friday top quality light swine was selling strong at $9.

Transactions in the sheep house have been very few due to the light receipts and slow demand for mutton. Extra choice yearlings are worth $4.75 to 5c and ewes $4.50. The lamb trade is in very fair shape and prime fat spring stock has had a good outlet, prices ranging from $6 to $6.75.

He says the company represented that no house was to be built on adjacent property to cost less than $1,000, and this agreement has been violated. He wants his payments back, together with the money expended on the residence, plus taxes paid.

CONTRACTORS LOSE ON SCHOOL BUILDING

Authorities Estimate Loss at From Six to Eleven Thousand

OUT TRYING TO GET AFFAIR SETTLED

Disinterested Party in City to Straighten Out the Tangle

That the Bross Construction Company has suffered a loss of from six to eleven thousand dollars on the contract for the new Hillsboro school building goes without saying, if the estimates of conservative parties is worth consideration. It was the general opinion that when the firm was awarded the contract that the bonding company was taking a big chance to have to pay dearly for the premium they received when they wrote the bond.

The school board and the contractor cannot get together on a settlement, and as the district is amply secured by the bond, the directors are passing the buck up to the bonding company to do the worrying.

A disinterested party came out from Portland the first of the week to endeavor to get together on common ground with the board, and decide upon a course of settlement, and then the bonding company will get busy and wipe out the debts against the Bross Construction Co., and give clearance to the structure.

There was a constant running fight between the builders and the board, and the directors determinedly fought for the letter of the contract. As a matter of fact the price of construction for the type of building was too low, and nothing but loss could result.

A horse drawing three small children in a buggy became frightened near West Union, Sunday, when an auto approached, and ran away. Contractor Lorusung, who can use but one hand, the other being injured, drove his horse alongside and told the little boy to keep his horse in the road. The animal was finally stopped, when another auto approached. Lorusung motioned for the oncoming machine to stop until they could get the runaway quieted, but there was nothing doing. Arrival of a farmer stopped further trouble, however. Drivers of machines should be very careful when they meet children driving in the country, or there is liable to be a fatality.
