MOOSE ORDER STARTS WITH 103 MEMBERS

Biggest Charter Institution Ever Pulled Off in County Seat

FIFTY MORE NOW ON THE WAY

State Deputies Green and Durham Had Big Class Monday Night

State Organizers Green and Durham, of Portland, Monday evening, instituted a Loyal Order of Moose Lodge in Hillsboro, and when the doors closed there were 103 to be initiated into the mysteries of the order, with fifty more on the way. Those who did not fall in line at institution will be cared for Tuesday evening, July 29, when high officials and a degree team will be here to help with the work.

The officers elected to serve until 1914 are: W. G. Hare, past dictator and representative to grand body; G. M. Turner, dictator; Long, vice dictator; W. W. Boscow, prelate; W. V. Wiley, treasurer; G. A. Patterson, secretary; H. D. Schmeltzer, sergeant-at-arms; Herman Collier, H. R. Emmott and C. E. Koontz, trustees; Via Jaek, inside guard; Wm. Reiling, outside guard.

Otto Hartrampf, Dr. W. E. Pittenger and Jos Williams were selected as an entertainment committee to take care of the evening of July 29.

The new Lodge was given a name historic in Washington County, and will be known on official archives as "Joseph L. Meek Lodge," Loyal Order of Moose.

The big Moose clambake given by Tillamook will take place Sunday, and an excursion will be run over the P. R. & N. It is expected that at least fifty will attend from Hillsboro.

The order starts with splendid prospects, and never in the history of the city has there been so extensive a charter list at a first meeting.

Jim Turk, of the Nehalem, was in town Monday, talking over old Confederate days, when he was in the service of the South along with Jim Lamkin. Turk was under Marmaduke, who, by the way, was a grandfather of big Virgil Cooper, formerly with the Washington-Oregon Corporation. The way that Lamkin and Turk fought over the campaign under Price and Shelby wasn't slow, Turk is 70 years old, but says he can still get a deer with any of them, and he states he won't take off his hat to anyone unless it is old George Armstrong, who just "natchally" can't miss a buck, in or out of season.

The Groner & Rowell Co., at Scholls, has a large supply of No. 1 drain tile, from 3 to 10 inches, on hand, also, a large supply of building blocks and brick. Anyone wanting larger sizes of tiling for the coming season, place your orders before July 20th. We also have a large supply of dry rough and dressed lumber and a large supply of dry ship-lap. Your orders will receive prompt attention. P. O. Address Hillsboro, Ore., Route 2. Phone Scholls, 4, Line 16. 15-17

Washington County has purchased 4.79 acres from H. G. Luck, of above Mountaineer, the property being a rock quarry. The court wishes to have quarries all over the county, so that there can be some execution when the work of macadamizing once starts in earnest. That's the idea. Every dollar on the roads should be expended in rock, and the fifty thousand dollars annually expended on roads would then amount to something.

The Portland, Eugene & Eastern track was connected in the city the last of the week, and the sidetrack for West Bound trains will be laid in a few days. Work has commenced on the cementing of the roadbed, and the rails are being tied now by electricians. As soon as this is completed the overhead will be installed and then look out for the electric service between here and Portland.

The Pacific Railway & Navigation line had another busy day Monday, when the state militia returned from Tillamook. The boys have been camped on the beach for a week, and have had the time of their enlistment.

Jas. Miltenberger tendered a surprise party to his wife, Tuesday evening, in honor of her birthday. Whist was played, and refreshments served at a late hour.

Sam Moon, of Centerville, was in the city Monday, greeting friends.

C. F. Jesse, of Banks, was in town Monday.
