HILLSBORO, OREGON, OCTOBER 16, 1913

NO. 30

HILLSBORO MAKES BIG NOISE LAST FRIDAY

Whistles Toot Upon Blast Opening Canal to Waters of Ocean

BLIND O'CLUCK WAS TIME OF BLAST

City Seat Celebrated in Town and at County Fair

Hillsboro probably had more people, men, women and children in town, celebrating the explosion at Gambon Dam, on the Panama Canal, than any city in United States, in proportion to the population. Whistles were tooted hourly, and blasts of dynamite were ignited at the given stroke of eleven, when President Wilson touched the button at Washington, D. C. that ignited the powder that permitted the waters of the ocean to run into the canal, thus joining the two oceans. Hillsboro not only celebrated at Hillsboro, but over 500 children of our public schools, in parade at the county fair, at Forest Grove, enacted a tableau that was unique. A solid regiment of children, stretching out several city blocks, was pierced by the Battalion Oregon, in miniature, carried by boys, and the scene was inspiring to the immense throng. Hillsboro certainly did itself proud in this opening of the canal that means so much to every patriotic American.

The big noise continued for about five minutes at the county seat, and steam whistles at Cornelius and Forest Grove also joined in on "The chorus. Since Dewey smashed the Spanish fleet at Cavite there has been no demonstration that has approached that in the county last Friday forenoon.

UNION STOCK YARDS

Receipts for the week have been cattle, 284; calves, 30; hogs, 4740; sheep, 882; horses, 10.

Beef liquidation this week has fallen off considerably and prices are a shade steadier. Bulk of business was transacted Monday and Tuesday, so receipts since then were insignificant. Prime steers sold in bulk $7.50 to 7.65 and cows 6.50 to 6.75. A lot of medium grade stuff was offering at the usual discount on choice beef prices.

Swine trade conditions are an uncertain quantity at present, and values fluctuate easily. Tops ranged from 8.70 to 8.80 with tendency downward. Outlet is far for good light hogs and smooth heavy weights, but size of receipts during the next six days will be the most influential factor on the market.

FORMER FOREST GROVE RESIDENT SHOT IN HIPS

McMinnville Companion Mistook Him For Deer, in Mountains

BOTH HIPS PUNCTURED BY BULLET

Albert Dixon Comes to Grief in Hunting Expedition

Albert A. Dixon, of McMinnville, well known at Forest Grove, lays in a hospital at Roseburg, with both hips injured by a bullet fired by Peter Christensen, of McMinnville. The two young men were in the Cascade Mountains, near the McKenzie road, hunting for venison. Young Christensen mistook Dixon for a deer, and fired. The bullet took effect in both hips and then ranged upward. Dixon was taken to Roseburg on a litter, and Roseburg surgeons are doing all in their power to save him from being crippled for life.

The injured man is a son of Ed. Dixon, the well known contractor or building-mover of Forest Grove. For some time he has been running a garage in McMinnville, and recently he and a party of six companions went South to hunt.

Mrs. Dixon and child left McMinnville, Saturday evening, for Roseburg, so as to be at the bedside of Mr. Dixon.

The Roseburg surgeons believe he will recover, although it will be some time before he is able to leave the hospital.

Washington county pays the state $1080.50 for auto licenses, Yamhill county going one better, and sending in $1471.00; Wheeler county is the baby of the class, donating only $52.

C. T. Young, who has an interest in a new addition to the city of Raymond, Wash., spent the last of the week at his home in this city. Raymond already has the Northern Pacific, and has the Milwaukee line has let a contract to grade into the growing town. Raymond has forty years of timber yet to cut, and then some, and ocean going vessels dock at the wharves. The O. W. R. & N., or Harriman line, has also surveyed into the port, and things look fine for the future.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO WAGE BIG CAMPAIGN

Expect to Interest Capital for Manufacturing Plants, Mills, Etc

WILL ENCOURAGE SAWMILL MEN

Also a Fine Place Here for a Local Cannery, With Good Surroundings

The Hillsboro Commercial Club will soon start the ball rolling for a Winter's campaign in the direction of getting capital interested in Hillsboro's needs, along manufacturing lines. Every day carload after carload of logs is shipped through this city to Portland or Carlton, and if mills can buy logs and ship from the Nehalem to those points, a big mill here will do well, for it will have but little over half the mileage over which to get the raw material.

One of the things that the club hopes to succeed in landing is a mill with a capacity of at least 100,000 feet daily, with the attendant box factory that can do well where a mill is located.

Another thing wished on Hillsboro by the organization is a big cannery to take care of the thousands of bushels of fruit that go to waste here each year.

Hillsboro has some business men who are ready to take a chance with any one who wishes to engage in the mill business, and there are men who will also take stock in a cannery and drier.

Washington County has plenty of timber tributary to the Tillamook line, and it has plenty of fruit and vegetables that can see their way into the canning industry—and here are two things that the county seat needs. Will we get them? We assuredly will if the Commercial Club can compass it.

Contractor Moore will finish the Imbrie Garage, on Third, next door to the M. E. Church, this week, and have it ready for occupancy by R. L. Sears. This is one of the finest garage buildings in the state outside of Portland's big places, it will be more convenient. There are no posts in the building, and a car will be not only able to run in, but it will be able to turn around without backing—something that will mean convenience and pleasure to all who drive machines. Mr. Moore will finish up the apartment for the machine shop, which will handle no small part of the work connected with the garage.

Judge W. D. Smith and W. V. Wiley were in the hallway leading to the city hall, the other evening, and Mr. Smith decided they need some light on the subject. Noticing a switch, DeWitt coupled it together—but no light illuminated the shadows. Instead of light he was surprised to know that the fire bell was ringing. Not associating it with his switching process he started out to locate the blaze. Some one finally told him he had turned on the alarm, and he wasn't slow in shutting it off. Judge Smith says he has now graduated into the class with the man who blew out the gas and the fellow who mails his letters in the police patrol boxes in Portland.

J. W. Cave was the busy man last week, getting the returns from New York and Philadelphia, on the world's series of ball games. He was the first to get the news each day, and he then would start out to tell all the fans in Hillsboro fandom. Philadelphia won, four games to one against New York, the latter team winning the best game of the series, when Mathewson shut out the Quakers, 3 to 0 in a ten-inning game.

Dr. W. D. Wood, accompanied by Frank Holcomb, departed Friday for an extended deer hunt down at Myrtle Creek, Southern Oregon. They will hunt with Ralph Johnson, a brother of Mrs. Holcomb, and are going into the heart of one of the best venison districts in the state.

Hillsboro has 1222 voters, with men and women nearly equal. This should mean a population inside the city limits of over 3,000.

Dr. Lowe & Turner, the well known eye specialists, will be in Hillsboro, October 31. Don't fail to have them test your eyes for glasses.

I. D. Organ, well known here two years ago and more, now at Kelso, Wash., is very ill, and notice has been sent to his Hillsboro fellow lodge members of the Masonic fraternity.

W. H. Hodson, of Adams County, Wash., was here the past week, a guest of a relative, E. L. McCormick. Mr. Hodson reports fair crops up in the wheat empire this season.

M. Sturm Jr., of Cornelius, was in town Saturday, bringing in John Horstmann and wife, former Blooming residents, enroute home to Portland. The visitors start soon for California, to spend the Winter.

When the old power house is dismantled and the tanks on the Washington-Oregon Corporation lot, on Second Street, removed, it will materially help the appearance of the town—anyways, from a distance.

C. A. Yergin, who has been running a hopyard over at Aurora, was in town the last of the week. He was one of the many who refused to sell his hops on the first raise, and he was very much gratified at the boom the last of the week.

Hon. Geo. A. Hartman, of Portland, was in town Thursday, and called on the Argus. Mr. Hartman was county judge of Umatilla, away back in pioneer days, when the Argus reporter was with the Hunt Railway, in that section.

Monday was Columbus Day—observed here and there as a holiday. In Hillsboro the court house officials followed the law, but other places of business kept open. The occasion was that the 13th was a legal holiday—because it was the anniversary of Christoval Columbus' discovery of San Salvador.

Thomas Cornelius, son of the late Jesse Cornelius, was in the city over Sunday. Thos. is street commissioner for the city of Salem, and has many miles of thoroughfare under his supervision, as well as their being kept cleanly. He employs quite a number of men, and it keeps him busy.

Some of the new gasoline-electric cars for the Portland, Eugene & Eastern are at the Beaverton shops, and it is probable that they will be used on some run until the power house for the company can be built near Oswego. Machinery will soon be installed, however, and the company expects to be ready to run by the time the Fourth Street work is finished in Portland.

THE WAYS OF A WATCH

Are past finding out. DON'T TRY. If your watch is lazy and won't run, let me spur it up. I will make it time to a dot.

Ten to one you have neglected it—let it get dirty; or worn from lack of oil; maybe given it to the baby to play with. I get plenty of watches bearing the telltale marks of little teeth. Whatever the reason, don't delay; delay costs money and spoils the watch.

I give thorough examination and regulating free. Anything more costs as little as satisfactory work can be done for.
