Just eight more days to kill the festive Chinese pheasant of the male persuasion. The big fellows are getting mighty shy. One hunter, who is always figuring on the number killed, says he believes fully three thousand roosters have been sacrificed to the gun this year—to say nothing of the hens which have fallen by the wayside. Dead hens are found in almost every field. Hunters find it difficult to discern between a hen and a young rooster when it raises some distance away, and they whang away, only to find they have killed the egg-layer. They then leave the bird laying, as search is possible and probable at any time. One hunter offered a farmer a hen, and the farmer informed, thus costing the sportsman $25.

Why be bothered with two pairs of glasses? Call at Hotel Washington, Friday, Oct. 31, and have Drs. Lowe & Turner show you the new glasses with which you can see all distances. No unseemly lines, spits, seams, cement or paste in the glass cannot come apart. They guarantee their glasses to give satisfaction, whether they cost $2 or more. One charge covers cost of examination, frames and lenses. They do not go from house to house. Consult them in parlors of Hotel Washington, Friday, Oct. 31, one day only. Remember the day and date. Dozens of Hillsboro references.

C. G. Howe, representing the Beaver State Motor Co., which is now building a plant at Gresham for the manufacture of the "Beaver Six" a machine that for beauty of lines, worm drive, and all the latest in the auto world, has few or no equals, was in the city last week, talking machines with Hillsboro people. The company is backed by some of the best men in Portland, and they expect to turn out some fine autos and auto trucks, and hold a bunch of the money now going East.

A few weeks more and the passengers on the Oregon Electric will have a straight shoot from Garden Home into Portland, with double track facilities. This will reduce the time considerably, as the present tortuous road eats up the minutes. The double tracking will dispense waiting for train-meets, which will also be a factor in cutting down the schedule.

Herman Bishop, of Bishop Bros., was down from the Mountaineer mill, the last of the week, greeting his Hillsboro friends. Herman says the plant will run practically all winter, with a small crew. This has been a good season for the lumber business, although a trifle slow late this fall. He expects a big run next year.

Jan. Loudon, of Iowa Hill, was in town Saturday. He reports a daughter born to he and his wife, Oct. 16, 1913, which weighed 16 pounds. As Jim stands six foot, three inches, and his wife is six feet in height, the big daughter is not at all out of proportion. Iowa Hill appears to be the big place for big things this year.

Dr. W. D. Wood, of this city, and Frank Holcomb, of Bethany, returned the last of the week from a big hunt down in the Myrtle Creek, Southern Oregon country. They gathered in a spike buck, and this was the extent of their catch, as the weather was so bad that hunting was made miserable.

Baseball fans will be pleased to know that Portland has won the Pacific Coast League pennant for 1913, even if the team should lose every game from now until the close of the season. Big Irvy Higginbotham has again signed for the 1914 season, he being the first pitcher to sign up with McCredie.

Oscar Donelson and family were over from Vernonia, the last of the week, attending the funeral of the late A. W. Donelson. The brothers from the East were unable to arrive in time, and did not start. The funeral took place from the M. E. Church, Saturday afternoon, and interment was in the local cemetery.

Bruce Gordon and wife, who have made Hillsboro their home for over a year, departed Friday for Malta, Montana, where Mr. Gordon takes charge of public works. They made many friends while in this city, and all wish them success in their new home.

L. R. Sells, who has been managing the Forest Grove and Hillsboro condensers, has resigned, and will go over to the Bound, where he will embark in business. He is succeeded by a Mr. Jones, of Kent, Washington.

Burt Wilkes, of St. Johns, was in town Saturday, coming from Mountaineer to do some surveying for W. B. Jolly, who was out from the Rose City.

Nel Johnson, former mayor of Forest Grove, and C. O. Roe, a prominent business man of that city, were county seat visitors Friday.
