Frank S. Allen, Forest Grove, was arrested the first of the week by the United States Marshal, and placed under $4,000 bail. He is charged with white slavery and being unable to procure a bond at once, spent Monday night in jail in Portland. The authorities have been after Allen for some months, as he has gravitated between here and Puget Sound points. Allen formerly conducted a confectionery at the Grove, and is well known in that section. He has but one arm. Allen has been married and divorced. His family is highly respected and they keenly feel the humiliation of the trouble brought on them by the case. Sheriff Reeves has been investigating the case at this end of the line upon request of the federal authorities.
There will be a school entertainment and shadow social at the Aloha-Huber school house, Saturday evening, Nov. 1. A fine program is assured. Ladies are requested to bring luncheon.
With tomorrow the open season for China pheasants closes and the hunters have been busy this week, getting the best chances at the bird that has made the Willamette Valley famous.
Dan Leisy, of South Tualuma, was over town Monday. He hopes to have macadam road the best part of the way, a hence.
