

MRS. DANIEL T. PHILLIPS PASSED AWAY SATURDAY

Came Across the Isthmus of Panama, in 1856. Settled Here in '57 WAS WOMAN OF WIDE ACQUAINTANCE

Lived 56 Years. Fifty-Seven of Which Were Spent in Oregon

Mrs. Martha Tate Phillips, widow of the late Daniel T. Phillips, died at her home on First Street, Hillsboro, Nov. 1, 1913, after an illness extending over several months. Mrs. Phillips was widely acquainted all over Washington County. She was born in Tennessee, in Dec. 24, 1827. Moving to Illinois, she was married to Mr. Phillips, April 17, 1845. In 1856 they started for Oregon, going across the con-

A Halloween party was given by Miss Marie Rushlow and Miss Estella Nelson at the home of Miss Nelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nelson, which was beautifully decorated, Thursday night. The party started at five o'clock and lasted until nine. Then they went out attired like goblins, and visited different homes. Those present were: Misses Ailie Reagan, Helen Gunton, Lillian Rollins, Florence Taylor, Clara Case, Lairene Morrow, Olive Trullinger, Marie Rushlow, and Estella Nelson; Masters Jas. Wood, Henry Schomburg, Roy Brown, Clifford Roush, Lynn Wilkes, Joseph Engeldinger.

I represent Spirella corsets—not sold in stores. Will call at homes on request, and do the fitting, and teach how to adjust and wear the corset. Our tailor-made-to-measure corsets, including the latest front lace, with an experienced corsetier service, cost no more than high class corsets purchased in stores.—Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. 584.

SOCIAL HYGIENEISTS AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

Conference Presided Over by Mayor, Friday Eve, Nov. 7

FINE PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED

Social Problem to be Discussed and Campaign Inaugurated

The following invitation, under the caption, "A Challenge to Citizenship," has been mailed to many Hillsboro citizens:

"The Social Evil and the suffering resulting therefrom are subjects of much serious thought and earnest consideration on the part of many of our best citizens.

You are invited to a conference of leading men, at the Commercial Club, Friday evening, Nov. 7, at 7:30, called by the undersigned to consider this problem, which, in one or another aspect, touches the life of every home.

The Oregon Social Hygiene Society, recognized as one of the strongest in the country, is now ready to co-operate with us in starting an active and steady campaign of education in our community. There will be a place in the plan for every man in the community, who is legitimately and earnestly interested in the protection of our girls and boys.

It is a call for sane and constructive action.

Mayor Bagley will preside. A comprehensive program has been prepared and the field will be well covered by local physicians, educators and others, assisted by one or two speakers from Portland.—B. W. Barnes, E. I. Kuratli, E. H. Baird, G. N. McKay, J. P. Tamiesie, M. D., Program Committee."

UNION STOCK YARDS

Receipts for the week have been cattle, 1719; calves, 60; hogs, 3813; sheep, 6531.

An enormous volume of business has been transacted in the cattle market during the last five days, particularly Monday and Tuesday. Receipts totaled a 1913 record for a short period and as they followed an abnormal liquidation the week before, beef outlet would have been hopelessly closed if prices had been firm. It was a buyers' market mostly, but good steers did not sell under $7.25. The bulk of steer transactions averaged $6.75 to $7.15. Butcher stock was weak only in spots. Cows and heifers sold sharply lower, but bulls and stags maintained some degree of firmness. A small lot of heifers selling at $6.75 featured. Bulk of cow stuff brought $6.00 to $6.25 with occasional sales in small lots at $6.35 and $6.50.

Best light hogs were sold at $8.25 and $8.30 right up to the close and demand was steady. The week's receipts have been above the average, both in quantity and quality. Smooth heavy stock brought good prices. Trade does not seem to be oversupplied at present, but November receipts are likely to be heavy. Generally the lamb and sheep markets are steady to higher.

NEW REGISTRATION

County Clerk Luce, with his deputy registrars all over the county, have a total 1913 registration under the new law of 2861. The old registration was in the neighborhood of 4,000. Of the new registration there are but 35 Progressives and one Bull Moose. The women registering are 1108—and to show how party affiliations between husband and wife obtain, the average of party affiliation remains just about the same. There were only 367 registering as Prohibitionists and it is safe to say, therefore, that many women registered as Republicans or Democrats. The registration gives affiliation as follows:

Republican	1574
Democrat	587
Independent	119
Socialist	65
Prohibition	387
Refused	86
Progressive	35
No Party	5
Bull Moose	1
S. L. P.	1
Prohibition Republican	1

Fred Deplanche, of Schieffelin, was a city visitor Friday.

Frank Hill, of Gaston, was in town Monday afternoon.

J. B. Merrill, the Cornelius horseman, was in town the first of the week.

Roy Dunham, who has recently built a new home at Buxton, was in town Monday.

J. B. Walker, of below Beaverton, was greeting friends in the city Monday.

Alois Kauffman, of near Huber, was in the city Monday, on business.

Earl Hollenbeck, of Mountindale, was in the county seat Saturday afternoon.

Mouldings, mouldings, at wholesale. See the Hillsboro Planning Mill.

Thos. Fowles, one of the old-time lawyers of the county, was in from his Mountindale ranch, Monday.

Dr. Munson, Jos. Williams, Thos. Williams and G. M. Turner were up to Wapato lake, Sunday, and bagged 43 fine ducks.

C. Wren departed for his home on Puget Sound the last of the week, after a visit with home folks at Centerville.

Nick Kemmer, who started the original hopyard on Cooper Mountain, was greeting friends in the city Monday.

Earl Tappen, teaching below Houlton, in Columbia County, was in town Saturday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. F. Bunsen.

Geo. Corrigan, who formerly resided in the Shady Brook section, was in town the first of the week, on business connected with his farm.

Ed. Demmin, of South Tualatin, who spends his summers on the Columbia, among the big timber, was in the city the first of the week.

Henry Chalacombe, who first settled on the mountain slope south of Cornelius, many years ago, was down to the city from Cornelius, Monday.

Peter Colvick, who has been fishing all Summer in the Alaska country, spent last week in Hillsboro, the guest of Halvor Halvorsen and wife. He returned to Portland, Saturday.

The German Speaking Society of Washington County held a meeting in Hillsboro Saturday, and as a result a large number of new members were taken into the organization.

Miss Marie Nordlund gave a Halloween party to a number of her friends at the Reedville church, Friday evening. Games were played until a late hour, when a delightful lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Crandall returned Friday from an extended visit with relatives and friends back in Indiana, Michigan and Montana. Max says he is glad to get back to old Oregon, where things are still green and growing.

G. G. McCormick, of Garden Home, was in town Monday. Mr. McCormick is with the Oregon Journal, and makes daily trips into the city. He is therefore interested in transportation, and as a member of the Tualatin Valley Transportation Club is trying for a five-cent fare into Portland from the junction.

Dr. C. R. Boyd brought to the Argus office, last week, some fine Franquette walnuts, and the tree from which they were picked netted 125 pounds. The tree was grafted four years ago, and he has made a nice little fund from this season's product, provided he wants to sell in the market.

The editor of the Silverton Journal was last Friday convicted of libelling the Sisters convent at Mt. Angel. The penalty is heavy. The editor had been reading the "Menace," a sort of fly-up-the-creek publication that is attacking the Catholics, telling that the churches are arsenals, etc., and the pencil pusher became a zealot in following the lead of the radicals. There doubtless will be more prosecutions in other sections of the country.

Last Friday was the closing day of the open season for China roosters and the day being rather inclement, there were but few hunters out to make kills. The same day ended the season for buck deer, and only two or three huntersmen from here and the Grove were out in the hills. The lust for killing will now have to rest until another year rolls around. The deer slaying has been dull all year, but there have been thousands of Chinas slaughtered.

MANY SPECIAL TAX MEETINGS ARE CALLED

Expected That Many Road Districts Will Make Special Levies

WORD AND BLANKS SENT OUT

Takes Ten Per Cent. of Taxpaying Voters to Call Meeting

County Judge Reasoner the last of the week sent out blanks for calls for special road district meetings. The various supervisors will call meetings where they have secured ten per cent. of the taxpaying voters to sign the calls, and it is expected that this will obtain in a large number of the districts. The notices must be posted and also published for four weeks. Along the central row of precincts there is no doubt but what meetings will be called, and many of these will vote special taxes. In the outlying districts, however, such as Gales Creek, nothing may be done. It is impossible to say how many meetings have been advertised, as all the papers in the county will have notices for contiguous precincts.

If eight or ten precincts succeed in levying a special tax it will mean a considerable mileage of rock roads this coming year. Where macadam roads have been built there is an anxious demand for more, for good roads in the Winter time readily kill off argument against better highways.

A CORRECTION

Clerk John M. Dorland, of School District No. 43, actually received $235.25 school money from the recent apportionment, published last week, instead of $32535, as it appeared in the list. The original copy was in error, and the correction is made so that Mr. Dorland will not be held responsible for the nearly one hundred dollars he did not receive.

FOR SALE

A nice bunch of thoroughbred Shropshire bucks for sale at reasonable prices; yearlings and two-year olds.

Franquette walnut trees grafted on California Blackroot—the kind that grows vigorous and bears heavy crops here in Western Oregon. If interested it will pay you to see a tree with a crop on it at Clarence Boyd's place, east end of Maple Street, near the Gates' plant, Hillsboro. The nuts will be harvested soon. Go and see them now, and take note of the size, quantity and quality. Other trees near by at Crandall's. Vetch seed in small or large quantities.

POULTRY SHOW AND SCHOOL EXHIBIT

The Second Annual Oreno Poultry Show will be held the day following Thanksgiving, Nov. 28, in connection with the school exhibits. Last winter M. McDonald presented practically every pupil in the Oreno school with a setting of eggs from thoroughbred hens, White Orpington, White and Barred Rocks. The results obtained by the children will be shown at this exhibit, and much interest is being taken in the results. Suitable prizes will be offered.

In addition to the children's exhibits the poultry raisers of Washington county are invited to make exhibits for which ribbons will be awarded. As the Oregon Poultry Show occurs at Portland the week following, it will be a good opportunity for poultry breeders to exhibit their fowls before the big show. Winners at the Oreno show are urged to attend the one at Portland.

In addition to the poultry exhibit, the school children of Oreno will exhibit vegetables, work done in domestic science line, etc.

Those contemplating making entries of poultry are urged to notify W. J. Head, superintendent of the poultry department.

Geo. Meacham, of above Mountindale, was in town the last of the week.

G. A. Plieth, of Tigard, for many years supervisor down in his road district, was in the city Saturday.

LAUREL M. HOYT

Daniel Phillips, who died in 1906, and Mrs. Phillips, who passed in this city, Saturday morning, after an extended illness inent at Panama, and from there coming to Oregon in a vessel. They arrived here in January, 1857, and settled near Greenville, at the forks of Dairy Creek. In 1863 they moved to Cornelius, where Mr. Phillips bought a farm, and started making brick. The Phillips home was known far and wide for its genuine hospitality. Mr. Phillips died June 14, 1906. Several years ago Mrs. Phillips and her son, F. W., moved to Hillsboro, and a handsome home was erected on First Street. For several weeks the aged woman has been helpless, and the end quietly came Saturday morning.

Her surviving children are: Mrs. P. M. Jackson, A. A. Phillips, Hillsboro; Mrs. Ellen Vickers, wife of G. Vickers, Cornelius; Mrs. Albert Ives, Hillsdale; Mrs. W. S. Shearer, Mist, Ore.; Geo. W. Phillips, of Cottonwood, Idaho; Mrs. Alice Ford, Chas. W. Phillips, and F. W. Phillips, Hillsboro.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, with services at the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, where she was laid to rest by the side of her husband.

Mrs. Phillips was universally beloved by all her friends, and her strength of character and helpfulness to all in times of illness endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. She was a dutiful wife and a loving mother, and no woman in the county was ever more highly esteemed.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank all those who so kindly tendered us aid and sympathy during our bereavement, the death and obsequies of our mother, the late Mrs. Daniel T. Phillips.
