Many fine trout are being caught in Dairy and the Tualatin, these days, and the catches must all be over six inches in length. It appears as though the trout are larger than heretofore, and this is doubtless due to the fact that McKay Creek is closed. C. E. Kootz and C. Jack Jr. were out the first of the week and Jack lost his hook and sinker, a big fellow breaking away with the line. A few minutes later Kootz caught the same fellow. He had swallowed the first bait, hook, sinker and all, and the apparatus was restored to its owner, who fished with it the rest of the day. It appears, therefore, that a little thing like a hook fastened in a trout's stomach doesn't destroy his appetite.

H. M. Terry, a Portland auto livery man, was given a change of venue last week, from Clackamas to Washington county. He has sued Clackamas county for $1924.10, for damages sustained by running his auto off a turn at the Johnson Creek road, near Milwaukie. The machine went over a 48 foot embankment, demolishing the car, which he says was worth $3,000. With over $500 for repairs, and the loss and use of his machine, he asks the above sum. The county of Clackamas answers and says he negligently ran his car over the declivity.

H. J. Parkison, of Portland, has sued Olive Parkison for divorce, alleging that the wife has neglected him during times that he was ill and confined to his room. He says that last summer, when he was in ill health Mrs. Parkison went to Oswego for a month, and while she visited Portland several times she did not call on him to see whether or not he needed attention. The plaintiff is the party who is secretary of the League that issued the referendum of the appropriation bills passed by the last session of the legislature.

T. R. Davis, of Jolly Plains, was in the city Monday. He says he hopes the special tax for road purposes will be carried in his district, and as he is one of the heavy tax payers he will be as hard hit as any of them. Nearly all the heavy taxed voters in the road district have signed the notice, and a tax will accomplish wonders in the way of macadam out that way.

Mayor Bagley presided at the Social Hygiene meeting at the Commercial Club rooms, last Friday evening. The session was well attended. Those addressing the meeting were Drs. Erwin and Robb, Principal McKay, Father Lappen and Rev. Cook, of Hillsboro, and Dr. House and W. F. Woodward, of Portland. Quite a number were in attendance from Orengo.

A. A. Morrill, returned from the Klamath section, the first of the week, after two weeks of surveying. He had 13 miles of lines to run, and in order to do so had to travel about 1300 miles. He encountered no very bad weather, and was able to transport his crew with an auto.

Taken up: At my farm, one mile west of Dilley, one aged yellow bull. This is a request to the owner to prove property, pay all charges, cost of advertisement, etc., and remove said gentleman from the premises. Frank Knight, Dilley. 32-4

Wm. Souls, well-known here years ago, is now one of the deputy clerks in the Multnomah court house. Billy followed newspaper work for a number of years in Portland, but concluded to get into something not quite so strenuous.

Chas. Hickethier, of Cedar Mill, and his son, Augustus, a Portland motorman, were in town Monday. The latter has just bought eleven acres of land near Cedar Mill.

It is surprising how soon the China roosters become tame after the shooting season closes. Every trip into the country finds the big fellows "squalling" at you when you pass.

Orengo has an attack of sidewalk improvements, and lumber is scattered far and wide. This will be appreciated by the school children, as well as the business men.

Over twenty new coaches for the Portland, Eugene & Eastern are on the sidetracks and in the shops, at Beaverton, waiting for the opening of the electric service.

F. M. Crabtree, of above Laurel, was in the city Monday. F. M. has had a busy fall, what with his hop crop and his fruit.

Jos. Cawse, the North Tualatin Plains hopgrower, was in the city the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moon, of Centerville, were in town Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Collier, of Scholla, were in the county seat Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Raffety, of Mountandale, were city callers Monday.

Wm. Schendel, of south of Cornelius, was in town Monday.
