CHARLES P. MARQUIS KILLED BY DYNAMITE

Expert Powder Handler Blown Up
at Oreco Saturday Afternoon

TWO OTHERS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Dead Man was Shooting Stumps on Paul
Henschke Place, South of Town

Charles P. Marquis, of 710 Front Street, Portland, was blown up and instantly killed by a premature explosion of dynamite at the Paul Henschke place, South Oreco, Saturday afternoon, shortly after one o'clock. He had been working over near the Scott Allen place, and went over to Henschke's Saturday morning to do some powder shooting. He loaded fifteen holes in the forenoon, and fourteen of them were ignited. After dinner he went back, accompanied by Mr. Henschke, and put down two or three more loads. While he was working at the last charge, getting it in readiness, the old charge exploded, throwing Marquis in the air. His left arm and half his face were blown away, and death was instantaneous.

Marquis' body was also badly mangled, the left portion of the diaphragm being torn away.

Mr. Henschke, who was standing within two or three feet of him, was slightly injured by dirt being blown in his face, and Elmer Handley, a young fellow of about 16 or 17, son of I. W. Handley, also near the scene, lost two teeth and suffered abrasions of the face. It was very fortunate for both Henschke and Handley that they were not more seriously injured, or even killed.

Marquis was an oldtime powder expert, and had done a great deal of work of this kind. He has a daughter, Mrs. Fred Humbert, residing at 710 Front street, Portland, a son, aged 11 years, who came out Saturday evening. The boy says he thinks his father had some insurance in an Indianapolis, Ind., concern, and telegraphed east to find out the real status of the policy.

Coroner Dr. Barrett went to the scene of death, but held no inquest, simply taking the deposition of Henschke.

Marquis was divorced, his wife being married again, Mrs. Pamela Johnson.

JAMES SANFORD DEAD

Word was received here Friday that James Sanford, of Eugene, one of the pioneer capitalists of that place, died Nov. 13. Deceased was an uncle of Mrs. A. A. Morrill, who was at his bedside during his last illness. Mr. Sanford crossed the plains in 1853 and settled in Lane County. He amassed considerable property, a business block in Eugene being one of his holdings. One sister, Mrs. Susan B. Lowell, and the following nephews and nieces survive: Mrs. Theresa Gray, Oakridge; Mrs. A. A. Morrill, Hillsboro; Mrs. Lulu Laxton, Springfield; Richard Orr, Salem; Thos. Orr, Eugene, and Robert Orr, Goldson. The funeral took place Saturday.

F. Unger, of Chehalis Mountain, was in the last of the week. He is still favoring that injured foot, using a crutch.

If you want a range that beats the world for the money, call on David Corwin, Bank Annex Building, and see his Quality Ranges, all the way from $25 to $65. These are the best ranges ever placed on the market in Hillsboro. Call in and see them.

It might be news to Washington County people to know that the relatives of Hansel, the man who killed Judge Taylor, for which crime Hansel was executed Friday, charged that A. W. Norblad, the young attorney who defended the murderer, took advantage of the man's plight, and secured practically all of the executed man's property, and suit has been filed to recover. Norblad ran in the republican primaries against E. B. Tongue, and his campaign was fruitless, although quite effective even in Washington County.

I represent Spirella corsets—not sold in stores. Will call at homes on request, and do the fitting, and teach how to adjust and wear the corset. Our tailored-made-to-measure corsets, including the latest front lace, with an experienced corsetier service, cost no more than high class corsets purchased in stores. Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. 584.

John Becker expects to plant six acres more of basket willows next February, and if he can not handle them in his own manufacture, he will sell them to the trade. His place northwest of town is one of the best willow producers in this part of the Willamette Valley. Mr. Becker and his father are basket makers par excellence, and if they can get the men to do their work they will take care of all of the timber they can grow—otherwise they will export.

When wanting an ice cream soda, why not get it at a modern, up-to-date fountain where the syrup is kept in sanitary wells, pumped into the glass by a sanitary pump. That's the kind of fountain you will find at Koerber's.

When Miss Ada Park, of Hillsboro, was at Bar View, Aug. 27, she wrote a note, giving her name and address, and placed it in a bottle, consigning it to the waves. She asked the finder to report where it was picked up. About 30 days later L. J. Holtz, of Blooming, picked the bottle up on Netarts Beach, and the Argus conveys the information as to where it drifted ashore. The glass had wandered down the coast 20 or 25 miles.

Some one has a cow that evidently is kale hungry, or has an owner who thinks she is, for Fred Schomburg's patch has been robbed several times within the past two weeks. The purloiner pulls the "fodder" up by the roots and is very careful to leave no tracks that can be identified.

Wanted: Young Jersey bull, old enough for service, eligible to registry; also five or six young heifers, either fresh or coming fresh soon. George Denton, Reedville, Oregon, Ladd & Reed Farm.

Mrs. Mary E. Risner, who has resided at Pasadena, Cal., for about fifteen months, returned to Hillsboro, Friday evening. She says that Oregon looks better than ever, and that she sees a great deal of improvement in Hillsboro. Mrs. Risner owns a home out near Jolly Plains.

We cut dimension lumber and timbers to order. Rough lumber, all sizes, on hand.—S. R. Cogan, on Jas. A. Sewell place, Hillsboro, Ore., Route 1. Phone, Farmers 468.

Mrs. May Hendis and daughter, Miss Susanna, departed Friday morning for their home in Beloit, Wis. Mrs. Hendis recently came West to join her daughter, a teacher, who has been quite ill at the Gibben home. Agent Myers ticketed them over the Electric and Hill lines.

For sale—Pedigreed Duroc Jersey boar, two years old.—Box 6, Route 4, Beaverton, Ore., Tel. 551, Line 4.

Attorneys Geo. R. Bagley and Thos. H. Tongue, Judge Reasoner and Commissioner C. A. Hanley were Oregon City visitors, Friday, the two attorneys arguing the injunction case of the wets, before Judge Campbell.

Why pay a big price for mouldings, when you can buy the best at wholesale? See the Hillsboro Planning Mill.

J. A. Thornburgh, president of the Forest Grove National Bank, was in town Friday, returning from a trip out to the Tualatin Plains section.

Fred Seofield, formerly of the Banks-Buxton section, now residing in Yamhill County, was drawing for the circuit court term, McMinnville, last week.

H. J. Goff, the Forest Grove hardware merchant, was in town Friday, enroute to Portland.

BURNED WOMAN DIED SATURDAY MORNING

Sad Ending of Bohemian Woman
Who Was Mentally Deranged

SHE HAD THREATENED LIFE BEFORE

Leaves a Husband and Little son to Mourn Her Loss

Mrs. Thomas Vavrin, aged about 25 years, died Saturday morning, about 2:30, at the Gardner Sanitarium, after suffering a week from burns self-inflicted on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6.

The woman had been ordered committed to the asylum, and the court was waiting for her recovery in order to have her sent to the State institution.

Several days before the accident the woman showed every evidence of mental derangement, but when she was taken before the court her husband, in order to protect her, said she was just a little erratic and homesick. It was afterward ascertained that she had, during her attacks of mania, tried to injure the little son. On Nov. 6, Mrs. Vavrin set fire to her clothing and rushed from the dwelling. It is said that before she applied the match she poured coal oil on her garments, and the result was that before the blaze was extinguished she was nearly burned to a crisp.

Mrs. Vavrin was born in Bohemia. Her husband has finally admitted that she had threatened her life several times, and that she at one time tried to throw herself under a train.

The husband is a hardworking man, and well-intentioned, but there is no doubt if she had been committed the first time she was tried on the insanity charge, she had a chance to recover. It was only his sense of care for the unfortunate woman that caused her to be released.

Also 2 fine Holstein bulls, 2 years old; one Durham bull, one year old, on the Palentine Hill place, 1 mile west from Revere Station, on the Southern Pacific Railroad, Oswego, Oregon.

Lunch at noon.

Terms—$10, cash; over $10, 6 months time, at 8 per cent bankable note.

John Naegeli,
John Arnet,

Owners.

J. C. Kuratli, Auctioneer,
Christ Naegeli, Clerk.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Boleen, of near Laurel, celebrated their silver wedding, Nov. 9, 1913, in the presence of many relatives and friends. Dinner was served at 2 o'clock, and the afternoon was spent in social converse. The host and hostess received many beautiful presents.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames C. J. Foleen, A. Johnson, P. I. Lillegard, Julius Christenson, B. Pederson, E. O. Morrow; John Nyberg and family; Misses Emma Nelson, Victoria, Signe and Esther Boleen; Messrs. D. Cole, Fred Norman, S. Kinman, Victor Boleen.

Corvallis overland, p. m. 4:57

On Sunday, McMinnville passenger does not leave Hillsboro for Portland until 8:50.

From Portland
Corvallis passenger, a. m. 8:22
Tillamook passenger, a. m. 10:00
Sheridan passenger, p. m. 5:14
McMinnville passenger, p. m. 6:45

Argus and Journal, $2.25.

Mouldings, mouldings, at wholesale. See the Hillsboro Planning Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Snodgrass, of below Newton, were in town Saturday.

Rev. Ewing, pioneer minister of Washington County, having been in Oregon since 1852, writes from Portland for another year of the Argus.

W. N. Hathorn was in from Laurel, Saturday.

A. W. Walker, of South Tualatin, was a city caller Saturday.

John Uebel and wife, of Mountdendale, were in the city Saturday.

Herman Rannow, near Farmington, was in the county seat Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Shaner, of Jolly Plains, were in the city Saturday.

Carl Meier, of north of town, was a city caller the last of the week.

John D. Koch, of above Blooming, was in the county seat Saturday afternoon.

Marshal Baker, of Chehalis Mountain, was in the county seat Saturday.

R. Oppiger, of Cornelius, was down to the county seat Saturday morning.

The Christian Advent Church people are very proud of their new bell, which was swung in the steeple a few days ago.

Tares for sale, mixed with quarter wheat, quarter oats, and vetch, all cleaned and ready for market.—Wm. Schuimerich.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Dryden, of Oregon City, were in Hillsboro Monday. Mr. Dryden is connected with the Oregon City Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Rhoades departed Friday to take up their residence on a farm near Sheridan. They were accompanied by Mr. Rhoades Sr.

Found: Gentleman's umbrella, at Fair Ground station, near Forest Grove, at Fair time. Loser may prove property at Argus office.

Geo. Hathorn, of Salem, was down last week, visiting with home folks, out at Laurel. Geo. is working at the carpenter trade at Salem, and doing nicely.

Lost: Last week, between Portland and Gaston, a prestolite tank for auto. Finder leave at or notify Wilkes Auto Garage, Hillsboro, and receive reward.

Taken up—Heifer, 2 years old, black. Owner prove property, pay charges and take same away.—Jos. Arnold, half mile west of Beaverton.

C. C. Whitmore, of Chehalis Mountain, near Laurel, was in town Saturday. He says the potato vines were growing green on the hills until last week, when the heavy frosts wilted them.

J. H. Haase, of the South Tualatin section, was in town Monday. He says that potato harvest is on over his way. His yield was 200 sacks per acre this year.

Hazel Ledford was in town the last of the week, visiting with his parents, G. T. Ledford and wife. He expects to go to California in a few days, going down with Capt. McCann, who has a string of horses at the Forest Grove race track.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. F. Lappen, of Providence, Rhode Island, arrived here Thursday, for a visit with Mr. Lappen's brother, Father Mark Lappen, of St. Matthews' Church. They will visit California and the South before returning East.

John and Jake Milne, of the Plains, were in the city Saturday. Both are enthusiastic over the proposal to levy a special tax, and as the Milne ranch pays heavy taxation, their interest is not from a selfish standpoint—excepting that it means better roads out their way.

McMinnville is now trying to interest the people of the city in a rest room for those who trade in the Yamhill county seat. This is a move in the right direction. Hillsboro has had one established for a number of years and it has proven a blessing for the women who come to town on business trips.

Franquette walnut trees grafted on California Black Root—the kind that grows vigorous and bears heavy crops here in Western Oregon. The tree mentioned in my former ad., topworked, 4 years ago last April, produced 125 pounds of dried nuts that can be sold easily for 20c per pound, wholesale, making an income of $25.00. We have acres here in the northwest that are producing over $300, net income, trees averaging less than 17 years old. It is time that Washington county was waking up to this new industry. My first and second plantings, 5 and 6 years old are beginning to bear.

I also have vetch seed in small or large quantities.—Ferd Groner, Hillsboro, Oregon, route 2, phone Scholls 555 line 16.

LOOKS LIKE 10 MILL TAX FOR CITY OF HILLSBORO

Ten Thousand Dollars is Estimated as Needed for Coming Year

PROPERTY VALUED AT ABOUT MILLION

Levy Will Probably be Made First Meeting in December

Hillsboro's budget for 1914 will reach the ten thousand dollar mark provided that estimates of those well in hand with the question are not mistaken. There is a $2,500 damage suit to settle with Margaret Jane McGowan, who was injured by a fall near St. Matthews Church, when street improvement was in progress there several years ago. Mrs. McGowan received a verdict for $3,000, and the case was compromised at $2,500. This amount must be taken care of by the tax levy, and it is estimated that it will require at least $7500 more for other purposes, such as street cleaning, the fire department, and other necessary expenses, like marshal and deputy. The city stands to lose the saloon license revenue, which has been $2,500 per year.

The levy will make quite a hardship on those who have sewer and paving payments to make, and will also make those squirm who must put down cement walks.
