UNION STOCK YARDS

Receipts for the week have been cattle, 338; calves, 1; hogs, 2727; sheep, 2429.
Cattle liquidation has been somewhat less this week than it was a week ago, but the arrivals did not furnish a very large number of prime head. Killers are not very keen for the half-fat grade, and prices are generally lower on this class; 7.25 to 7.50 was bid for the few choice cars of steers offering the early part of the week with the bulk top at 7.40. Sixteen head of steers sold Friday morning for 7.60, the extreme top for the week. Much of the stuff arriving shows shrinkage in transit from being fed short grass.
Butcher stock was in fair demand during the entire session. Cow stuff was the only kind to suffer price declines, and this occurred only when quality averaged poor; 6.50 was bid freely for smooth fat she stuff, but there was a short supply.
Swine values lowered 20 cents from the old price Monday. The first half of the week furnished big receipts, Monday having one of the largest totals on record. Quality of stock has been generally good and pork is being finished more carefully; $8 as a light hog quotation has stood the test right through the week. Good demand prevailed at the lowered prices, market closing steady to firm.
A plentiful supply of choice lambs and mutton was offered the buyers, who have been short handed for some time. They advanced prices Monday, but later receded, and the close was about where it was seven days ago, but is steady. Prices on best grades are as follows: Yearlings, 4.75 to 4.90; old sheep, 4.25 to 4.50; ewes, 3.90 to 4; lambs, 5.50 to 5.75.

HONEY-HATHAWAY

A quiet wedding was celebrated at Aloha, Nov. 12, 1913, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hathaway, when their daughter, Miss Nan, was united in marriage to Jay Honey, of Tillamook. Both are well known at Tillamook, where the groom is a popular salesman. The presents given the young couple were many and valuable, among which was a house and lot in East Tillamook. Mr. and Mrs. Honey departed for Tillamook, Thursday, to take up housekeeping in their new home.

Leonard Hellebuyck, of below Roods, was up Monday, wondering how he was going to get excused from that jury panel, which convenes next Monday.

J. B. Schaeffer, mayor of Linton, was greeting friends in the city Monday. He is interested in a telephone system at Linton, and with the mayoralty included, has about all that one man can attend.

W. E. Smith, of South Tualatin, was in the last of the week. He and his neighbors have been doing some volunteer hauling of rock from the Burkhalter quarry, laying macadam on the road beyond the Jas. Withycombe place.

The Estacada eleven came over to Hillsboro, Friday, and beat the Hillsboro High eleven at football, on the High School grounds. The locals failed to score. Forest Grove High beat Tillamook at the Grove, Saturday, by a score of 16 to 3.

Deputy Clerk Henry Kuratli has moved into his newly acquired property, on the corner of Third and Oak. He has spent several hundred dollars in putting the new home into shape, setting the house back from the street front, and building an addition, as well as a barn.

Richard E. Wiley, of the University of Washington, was over the last of the week, to witness his college team beat the University of Oregon, at Portland, score 10 to 7. He spent Sunday in Hillsboro, with his father, W. V. Wiley, and returned to Seattle Sunday afternoon.
