SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Washington.

Clyde E Taylor, Plaintiff, vs Sarah G Taylor, Defendant.

To Sarah G Taylor, the above named Defendant:— In the Name of the State of Oregon, You are hereby notified and required to appear in the above entitled court and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled cause, on or before Saturday, the 28th day of February, 1914, said date being after the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons in the Hillsboro Argus, the date of the first publication being Thursday, the 15th day of January, 1914, and the date of the last publication thereof being Thursday, the 20th day of February, 1914; and you will please take notice that if you fail so to appear and answer said complaint, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in his complaint, to-wit: For a decree forever dissolving the marriage and marriage contract, now and heretofore existing between the plaintiff and defendant, upon the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, rendering his life burdensome.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof, pursuant to order of the Honorable D. R. Beasner, County Judge of Washington County, Oregon, made, rendered and dated on the 10th day of January, 1914.

Bazley & Hare, Attorney for Plaintiff.

Notice of Final Settlement

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has filed his final account as administrator in the office of the county clerk of the State of Oregon for the county of Washington in the matter of the estate of Tillie Johnson. That by order of the said court the 30th day of January, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M. of said day in the county court room in the court house in the City of Hillsboro, County of Washington, State of Oregon, has been fixed as the time and place for hearing objections to the said final account and settling the same.

Oliver Johnston, Administrator of the estate of Tillie Johnson, deceased.

HUNDREDS VISIT THE DEMONSTRATION TRAIN

Crowds Hear Lectures and See Exhibits in Several County Towns

SOME FINE LIVESTOCK ON CARS

Wm. Schulmerich Goes With Party to Lecture in Southern Oregon

The big hog and dairy demonstration train sent out under the auspices of the Southern Pacific, Oregon Agricultural College, and P. E. & E. made its trip through central Washington County, Tuesday, and was visited by hundreds of people at Gaston, Forest Grove and Hillsboro. Failure to advertise the place the train would park in Hillsboro caused hundreds not to see the exhibit and hear the lectures, and another thing militating against the best success as a matter of attendance was the fact that the train was scheduled

CALLING HIM TO TIME.

A Touching Family Reminiscence Which Effected the Purpose Desired.

The young man was slow in declaring himself. "I had an aunt," said the dear girl fondly, "who was engaged for twenty years. She gave up all her spare evenings to the man and never went anywhere with anybody else and burned lots of gas and coal for him and gave him a nice supper every little while."

"That's very strange," said the slow young man. "Engaged for twenty years?"

"Yes, twenty years. The young man didn't know it, but auntie did. And finally—they were growing old, you know—she actually had to ask him to name the day. Wasn't that dreadful?"

"It was," said the young man. "I never heard of any one as slow as that."

The girl opened her blue eyes very wide.

"Didn't you?" she asked, with painful distinctness.

A great white light beat upon his dull brain.

The cards are out.—Cleveland Plain Dealer

No Mercenary Lover.

"Sir," said the young man with much respect, "I know that you are a millionaire and that I am poor. It seems presumptuous in me to aspire to the hand of your daughter. But I have here at 3:30—an hour that meant many could not attend from a distance and get home until after nightfall. Notwithstanding this it is estimated, conservatively, that over a thousand attended. Forest Grove likewise had over a thousand visitors.

Hillsboro school put the management in a great, big, round hole—and the youngsters swarmed like locusts, overwhelming the capacity. The students were gloriously attentive, but the crowd meant anxiety for the train, and no more schools will be invited—so Hillsboro can claim a distinction enjoyed by no other school.

The dairy lectures by Chas. Myhre, the Junction City Danish colonist dairymen, were enthusiastically received, and the addresses on swine raising was also a feature.

Wm. Schulmerich departed with the demonstration train to lecture with the caravan in Southern Oregon. Mr. Schulmerich is a welcome addition to the party, as he has lectured for several years, and his talks are practical.

thought the matter out, and with some diffidence I have resolved to make my request. Love, sir, is not bound by sordid considerations or by mere social convenience. I have a very real attachment for your daughter."

The old man seemed interested in the young fellow and inclined to listen.

"Quite so," said he. "As you know, I am not in the habit of sticking at trifles, providing the main purpose is straight. But which of my girls do you want?"

The young man breathed a sigh of relief and courteously replied, "Oh, I'll leave that to you, sir."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Her First Thought.

When the clever acrobat jumped into the air and turned three different ways before alighting the audience yelled its approval.

"Ever see anything like that before?" enthusiastically cried a young man who sat in one of the front rows with his best girl.

"Yes, indeed," answered the girl. "That looks just like the way the average man turns a griddlecake."—Judge.

A Compensating Condition.

A woman visited a friend whose husband thought of moving out into the country.

"Getting back to the land is all well and good," she said, "but could you be contented to live in a little place?"

"Yes," replied her friend, "I think I could if I were the only one there who owned an auto."—New York Times.

Hard to Impress.

"Didn't I tell you the last time you were here," said the magistrate sternly to the prisoner who had celebrated not wisely but too well, "that I never wanted you to come before me again?"

"Yes, sir," replied the prisoner, "but I couldn't make the policeman believe it."—Chicago News.

Revenge.

Girl Shopper—Why did you make that poor salesman pull down all that stuff and then not buy anything?

Second Ditto—Why, the mean fellow was in a car yesterday and never offered me his seat, though I looked right at him. So I just decided I would get even.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Answered Question.

"Where is the center of population around here?"

"I don't understand you, mister."

"Where is the population densest?"

"Dunno what you mean."

"I guess the population is densest right here," opened the stranger, and he drove on.—Kansas City Journal.

Between the Acts.

"My love," said Diogenes to his wife as the curtain fell after the first act of the tragedy, "I am going out for a moment to see an honest man."

And although her beautiful eyes said plainly, "I am on to you!" he heeded not, but went.—Puck.
