

IRON'S Ambassadors

Musical Aggregation and Instrumental number best ever visiting the theatre at the

Crescent Theatre

Opening of Wednesday,
March 11, 1914

entertainment that cannot fail to please. Press and people are in high praise. These people are under the auspices

MOOSE LODGE

Members should see to it that they share to fill the Theatre. Prices, Tickets on sale at McCormick's.

Theatre One Night

Monday, February 23

MISSOURI GIRL

THE BIG FUN SHOW

With Present Fred Raymond's most SUCCESSFUL Comedy with

"KE" and "DAISY"

Also "MUTT" and "JEFF"
Starring Cast. A Scenic Production.
A Big Scream

Now Selling at McCormick's and Mail Orders Accepted.

Prices: 25 35 and 50 cents

Will and Mildred Ford as "Zeke and Daisy" in "The Missouri Girl", Crescent Theatre, Monday, Feb. 23rd.

FARMER PAYS TRIBUTE TO DR. LINKLATER

Sends a Few Thoughts on Life in Washington County

SYMPATHY OF DEAD PHYSICIAN NOTED

Traits of the Doctor Set Out in New Light and Form

Editor Argus: Professional men, when of the right kind, come in for a greater share of admiration than do others. This is, true in regards to our ministers, doctors and lawyers.

Drs. Bailey and Linklater have been familiar names in our family for many a year. All praise to those who have stood the storm and borne the burden in the heat of the day—and done it bravely. It might be said of Dr. Linklater, as has often been said of a noted Shorthorn breeder—"There never was but one Amos Cruickshank." Cruickshank was a Quaker, and by nature speechless, but he had eyes to see, hands to handle, was quick to discern faults in his animals and discard them. His success is unparalleled in the history of his profession.

Dr. Linklater ranks amongst the best men I have known—ranks with Bellinger and Scott. His faults were the smallest part of his character, and are soon forgotten, while his deeds remain. Like some other men I have known, he lived as he died. It was a kind providence he was not killed long before. No little romance was there about some of his automobile rides, his run-aways and turnovers—no bump was seemingly too hard for the doctor, and although a student just from the streets of Edinburg, he took kindly to the mud and mire, and a horse's bit and bridle seemed good to him.

Two things made him a good doctor—he had a strong sympathy for those in trouble, although scarcely ever expressed except by his deeds. His mind ran in a different channel from the most of men. His advices were not frequent, but when they came they were true to himself, with a little humour mingled with them, often from the "good book," as he called it. He was no hand to condole, did not care to hear peoples' troubles, and never told his own. By this trait he lost practice, especially from those who suffered from chronic ills, and amongst those who like to be coddled.

It was in 1894 that Mrs. Garson, a sister of Dr. Linklater, of Portland, called at our place, (alone with Mrs. Ross.) She evidently had a mission—never was here before nor since. I had just been sued for over $2300, mostly security notes. She listened to some of my misfortunes, and then said: "Don't sell your property—there's no one to buy now. Keep your land, and keep your cattle, and give some one a mortgage on them, and look out they don't cheat you. It's not going to be this way always." She then took $5 from her purse and divided it amongst the children.

Some time later I saw Dr. Linklater, and he said, "If I had the money, I would help you," which sounded mighty good to me, and in a few years he and Dr. Tamesie went to the Shute Bank and took up a debt—once $1600—but had been reduced a little less than half, which Dr. Linklater after assumed, and said, "When you get into trouble come to me," and he has been as good as his word.

The blackest day I ever saw I never called on the Doctor for a favor in his practice, or in business, that he turned me away. No wonder his death almost broke my family up. His actions and sayings now almost take them by storm, because they have got to know his heart.

His sayings are numerous and will live in the hearts of the people. One of the best to represent the man and his business is this—he stood by the gate looking at a dog, which was barking furiously, yet at the same time wagging its tail. The lady called for the doctor to come in—that she did not think the dog would bite. On approaching the house, Dr. Linklater said, "I looked at the brute, but did not know which end to believe."

To every class of human ills, The Doctor's aid would be— He never thought of pay or graft, But just their cure to see.

He soon was on his way in rig, When up did trouble come, And just as soon as service done Was on his journey home.

His "buts" were small, his heart was large, For such a man was he, The day was cold when he could not hold A spark of sympathy.

—C. A., Forest Grove.
Emmett Quick, of Forest Grove, passed through town Monday, enroute to Portland.

OREGON ELECTRIC TRAINS

To Portland—

| | |
|-------|-----|
| 6:24 | a m |
| 6:59 | a m |
| 8:45 | a m |
| 10:49 | a m |
| 1:19 | p m |
| 3:55 | p m |
| 6:15 | p m |
| 8:20 | p m |
| 9:58 | p m |

From Portland—

| | |
|-------|-----|
| 7:48 | a m |
| 9:07 | a m |
| 11:25 | a m |
| 2:28 | p m |
| 4:48 | p m |
| 6:24 | p m |
| 7:38 | p m |
| 9:22 | p m |
| 12:30 | a m |

SIRES AND SONS.

Howell Peoples, a business man in Atlanta, Ga., has attended thirty-four weddings, at twelve of which he has acted as best man. He calls himself "an assistant to cupid."

Maurice Paleologue, succeeding Theophile Delcasse as French ambassador to Russia, is chief of the department of political affairs at the French foreign office. M. Delcasse resigned to re-enter French home politics.

The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, announced to retire from parliament at the next general election, has been a member of the house of commons since 1876. During this entire time he has represented West Birmingham.

John William Burgess, who has just been appointed a visiting American professor at the Austrian universities for 1914-15 by the Austrian government, is emeritus professor of political science at Columbia university. He was born in Tennessee in 1864.

George Westinghouse, inventor of the air brake, has been awarded the Grashof medal by the Verein Deutscher Ingenieure of Leipzig, one of the highest honors within the reach of the engineering profession. He was too ill to attend the meeting at which the award was made.

Winter Baseball.

Hot air is doing most of the baseball playing now, but it will be different next summer.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A lot of pitchers in the American league are no doubt sorry that Ty Cobb is not going to jump to the Federals.—Detroit Free Press.

Rivalries among baseball managers help to keep up the interest while the keen competition of the actual game is not in evidence.—Washington Star.

Federal league officials appear to consider it an unpardonable outrage when attempts are made by officers of the older leagues to tempt players away from the new organization. One wonders why the Federal league people should be sensitive in that respect.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Writers.

Selma Lagerlof is the only woman who ever received the Nobel prize for literature.

Kuprin, Russia's most talented novelist since the death of Tolstoy, does not look his part. He is a stout, bearded, bourgeois type, who, judged by his looks, ought to be selling butter instead of writing passionate stories and living a passionate life.

Homer Croy, humorist, founder of the "Pay as You Enter club" and various other forms of amusement, has started on a seven months' trip around the world for a weekly magazine, carrying as a side line a persistent delusion that he will get material to write a funny book about China on his return.

Their Queenly Way.

It matters not
How fair her face
Nor how bedight
With silk and lace,
A woman still
Will trump an ace.
—Detroit Free Press.

Now it is Done.

Owner—What'll it cost to repair this car of mine?
Garage Proprietor—What ails it?
Owner—I don't know.
Garage Proprietor—Thirty-four dollars and sixty-five cents.—Puck.

Song of the Disconsolate Politician.
My passes, they tell me, are canceled;
No more transportation that's free.
I cannot be happy without them.
Oh, hand back my passes to me!
Hand back, hand back,
Oh, hand back my passes to me!
Oh, hand back my passes to me!
—Chicago Record-Herald.

Historic Souvenirs.

"Shakespeare once owned this chair."
"I love old relics. Fine old chair, and here is a wad of chewing gum on its under edge. Now, Queen Elizabeth may have stuck fast there."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Order of Beans.

This last house slang I must abhor.
It is a thing I hate.
I asked for beans. The man yelled for "A thousand on a plate."
—Kansas City Journal.

Proof.

"Charley has a fortune in politics. He knows the ropes," declared the admiring friend.
"Yes; I judged that he did from the campaign cigar that he gave me."—Buffalo Express.

Paris society is crowding out the ordinary students at Professor Bergson's lectures, but perhaps society is more in need of the uplift, and we shall continue to hope for the best.

Breakfast cans proposed for the New York subway. Menu would have to contain condensed milk, pressed beef, flat fish, jam, crushed oats, split peas, mashed potatoes, ground rice.

The tango has been barred out of Switzerland. It will surprise some people to hear that there is in Switzerland a level place which is large enough to make barring out the tango necessary.

Pacific States

Fire Insurance Company of Portland, Oregon. The only big Oregon Old Line Company. Losses Promptly Paid.

John Vanderwal
Agent
Hillsboro, Oregon

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Washington.

Clyde E Taylor, Plaintiff, vs.
Sarah G Taylor, Defendant.

To Sarah G Taylor, the above named Defendant:—

In the Name of the State of Oregon You are hereby notified and required, to appear in the above entitled court and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled cause, on or before Saturday, the 28th day of February, 1914, said date being after the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons in the Hillsboro Argus, the date of the first publication being Thursday, the 15th day of January, 1914, and the date of the last publication thereof being Thursday, the 25th day of February, 1914, and you will please take notice that if you fail so to appear and answer said complaint, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in his complaint, to-wit: For a decree forever dissolving the marriage and marriage contract, now and heretofore, existing between the plaintiff and defendant, upon the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, rendering his life burdensome.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof, pursuant to order of the Honorable D B Rossiter, County Judge of Washington County, Oregon, made, rendered and dated on the 10th day of January, 1914.

Bagley & Hare,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

Notice of Final Settlement

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has filed his final account as administrator in the office of the county clerk of the State of Oregon for the County of Washington in the matter of the estate of Tillie Johnson. That by order of the said court the 30th day of January, 1914, at ten o'clock A M of said day in the county court room in the court house in the City of Hillsboro, County of Washington, State of Oregon, has been fixed as the time and place for hearing objections to the said final account and settling the same.

Olyver Johnson,
Administrator of the estate of Tillie Johnson, deceased.
Date of first publication, January 1st, 1914.
Fiegel, Reynolds & Fiegel, 402 408 Felling Building, Portland, Oregon, attorneys for estate.

Argus and Oregonian, $2.25

Will You Build?

If you are going to build this Spring or Summer, see J. S. LORSUNG, for prices on building and excavating. Estimates given free. All work is guaranteed. No payments until work is completed. J. S. Lorsung, south Third Street, at S. P. Track; Telephone Main 234. Hillsboro, Oregon

Give Me a Trial

AUCTION SALE of Horses

The undersigned will sell at public sale at the Second Street Livery Stable in Hillsboro, at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday Feb. 21, '14

One Team of Black Mare Colts, 2 and 3 years 2400;

One Team, 11 and 12 years, 3200;

Team, 6 and 11 years, 3200;

Horse, 10 years, 1300;

Mare, weight 1075;

Colt, 3 years, 1300;

Bain Wagon, 3 1-4; 2 sets double work harness

All of these animals are in good shape and are all first class work horses.

TERMS: Six months bankable note at 8%

T. C. BAILEY, Owner

Scholls Roller Mills

Wm. HANSON, Prop.

Flour and Feed, Aetna Brand of Spray, Custom Chopping a Specialty, Poultry Supplies, Manufacturer of Whole Wheat Flour, and Wheat Heart Flour, Graham etc.

Our Prices always Reasonable
TRY US the Next Time

R. F. D. 2, Hillsboro, Or.

WALL PAPER AND PAINTS

My New 1914 stock of Paints, Varnishes and Wall Paper has arrived and is ready for your inspection. Retail Prices are guaranteed to be 15 to 25 per cent lower than in Portland. Save your cash. The largest complete stock of its kind in Washington County. Call and see for yourself. House painting wall tinting and papering. Estimates furnished upon application.

MURROW WALL PAPER & PAINT CO.
J. MURROW, Prop.
Second Street, Hillsboro, Oregon