THE FAMOUS AETNA BRAND of Lime and Sulphur Spray

The spray that made Washington County famous. W. K. Newell, President of the Oregon State Board of Horticulture says: "I have used the Aetna Brand in my orchard for years, and I am sure you are making a good article." A. C. Goodrich, Commissioner of the First District, says: "I have used Aetna Spray and have found every barrel full up to test and very free from sediment." H. C. Atwell, ex-president Oregon State Horticultural Society: "I don't think there is a better spray made." S. J. Galloway, ex fruit inspector, says: "After severe tests I find the Aetna Brand O. K." B. S. Worsley, Fruit Inspector for Clatsop Co., "I desire to congratulate you on the supreme article of lime and sulphur solution, the Aetna Brand. It gives results and universal satisfaction." I absolutely guarantee the Aetna Brand to do the work if the operator does his part. Failure is impossible.

MOOSE LODGE TAKES OVER BALL GROUNDS

National Game Will be Controlled Here by the Lodge Committee

BOYS PROMISE SOME GOOD GAMES

Grounds Will be Groomed at Once and Talent Secured Soon

The Moose Lodge Entertainment Committee has been instructed by the lodge to take up the lease on the Athletic Realty Grounds, near the city park, and get into the game. Lou Adams and Fred J. Sewell will be the managers at present, and they are anxious that things be arranged for an early campaign.

Members of the Moose will be called upon to help out getting the diamond stripped, and work will be commenced at once. Stripping of the field should be done at once, as it will save considerable expense later on.

Messrs. Adams and Sewell state that they are going to get the best players they can pick up from the local contingent in the county, and endeavor to get a schedule with Beaverton, Banks, Cornelius and some of the best Portland amateur teams.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Miss Henrietta Hoegh has been appointed first secretary of the Norwegian legation in Mexico. She is young, quite pretty and proficient in international law.

Mrs. Francis Wayland, whose husband was for many years dean of the Yale Law school, recently presented to Yale university a valuable collection of Palestinian pottery.

Miss Elizabeth Dinwiddie of New York manages 340 small dwellings owned by Trinity church in that city. She spends all of her time attending to the repairs of these houses which shelter 1800 families.

Katie Reade, the adopted daughter of the famous novelist, Charles Reade, is an inmate of Sunbridge workhouse infirmary in Kent, England, and is completely penniless. She was the wife of John L. Shine, a well known actor, whom she divorced after years of unhappiness. She was Reade's great niece, and he adopted her as his daughter when she was quite a little girl.

German Cleanings.

Germany has ten sixteen-year-old widows and one sixteen-year-old divorcee.

Some of the large factories in Germany are now provided with swimming tanks for the employees. Many of them have halls with stage and dancing floor. A brass band provides entertainment, and for the children there are kindergartens.

The following are stated to be the largest incomes in Germany. The emperor, $5,000,000; Frau Bertha Krupp, over $4,500,000; Prince Henckel, $3,000,000; the Duke von Ujest, $1,500,000; and Herr Ziese, shipbuilder and landowner, about the same.

The Royal Box.

The kaiser is now said to be the richest person in Germany. His fortune, it is claimed, amounts to $68,500,000.

One royal lady who has been led by extravagance into dire trouble is Princess Alexandra of Iseburg. Her debts are said to amount to $15,000,000, and she herself has been left in a penniless condition.

Only one sovereign known to history has reigned longer than the Emperor of Austria, who completed the sixty-fifth year of his reign on Dec 2. That sovereign was Louis XIV, who ascended the throne of France at the age of five and wore the crown for seventy-two years.

Pert Personal.

Colonel Goethals could have saved a lot of trouble by being twins—New York American.

Says a Mexican paper, "John Lind b quoted as saying," etc. A rank fake on the face of it. Lind can't talk—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Just think! If the worst should come to pass the newspapers would have to be printing pictures of Villi in a dress suit—Mexican Herald.

Shaw's latest play has been pronounced "utter nonsense," from which it is obvious that George Bernard is still maintaining his batting average—Washington Post.

The Cook Book.

Never put sugar into batter puddings before boiling, as this makes them heavy.

When meat is being roasted and there is danger of its becoming too brown place a basin of water in the oven. The steam will prevent scorching and the meat will cook better.

The few spoonfuls of left over mashed potato can be used to form the foundation of rice soup. If mixed with cold chopped meat and rice and an egg and suitable seasoning they make appetizing croquettes.

Fashion Frills.

The return of hoop skirts is threatened, it being a cinch that skirts can be no narrower—Detroit Free Press.

Instead of making her look like a peach the new fashioned gowns cause women to resemble a sweet potato small end down—Houston Chronicle.

How long will it be before some of the men in street cars and other public places whose eyes are endangered by the projecting plumes of women's hats will carry pocket sensors for protection?—Boston Globe.

Town Topics.

Chicago is where the Sunshine society ought to make its headquarters if it would be free from competition with nature—Chicago News.

Jerusalem is to have waterworks, electric lights and a street railway to Bethlehem. Even the "unchanging east" changes—New York World.

Before Colonel Goethals goes to New York Colonel Gorgas should be called to disinfect the place and make it reasonably healthy for police reformers—Chicago Record Herald.

Foreign Affairs.

Life for the Turkish government is just one loan refused after another—New York American.

Perhaps when these earthquakes and volcanoes get through with Japan there will be no Japanese question—Rochester Herald.

"He will turn out our Moltke yet," Kaiser Wilhelm is said to have remarked of his crown prince. Germany doesn't need another Moltke half as much as it needs a Lloyd-George—New York World.

Don't put up a bluff unless you are pretty sure the other fellow can't surmount it.

It's all right to have plenty of go, but staying qualities should not be overlooked.

Seems easy enough to build a cup defender compared with picking a name for it.

With only twenty persons shot for treason, China must have its opinion of Haiti as a republic.

THAT'LL BE ABOUT ALL.

HOW his bonnet smells with pride. How he sighs in deep relief. How he feels a heavy debt. That is most beyond belief. How he laughs and shakes in glee. How he almost chokes with joy. When the nurse comes down the hall. And she whispers, "It's a boy."—Salt Lake Herald.

How he scolds and shakes his fist. How he roars as if to fall. How he exclaims, "There, there, there." How his mind is full of doubt. And his heart is in a whirl. When the nurse comes to his side. And she whispers, "It's a girl!"—Los Angeles Express.

How he clutches at the wall. How he gasps as if to fall. And his face turns white as death. How he groans in his despair. And the nurse softly greets. As she meets him on the stairs. And announces, "They are twins."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

How he stands in blank amaze. How he looks on and distraught. Turns to heaven his vacant gaze. Has not power to frame a thought. How his grief no poison lacks. He's all in and to the back. And he drops dead to his tracks. When the nurse says, "Triplets, dad!"—Nebraska State Journal.

How he opens wide his mouth. How his wild screams fill the night. How he rushes north and south. Fit for murder, arson, fight. How he tumbles in his pain. How he rages and is sore. When the doctor counts again. Whispering to him, "There are four!"—New York Sun.

Fatal Recognition. The minister's wife was busily engaged one afternoon mending the family clothes when a neighbor called for a friendly chat. After a few moments of news and gossip the caller remarked, as she began to inspect a basket of buttons.

"You seem to be unusually well supplied with buttons of all kinds. Why, there's one like my husband had on his last winter's suit."

"Indeed," said the minister's wife with a sigh, "Well, all the buttons were found in the contribution box and I thought I might as well make some use of them. What must you do? Well, goodbye. Come again soon!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Auspicious Beginning. The young man edged himself diffidently into the presence of the old man. "What can I do for you, sir?" asked the elder.

"I shall come directly to the point," said the younger. "I wish to marry your daughter."

This was the old gentleman's cue to get out his handkerchief, and he did it. "Alas," he wept, "how shall I ever spare her? Her mother is dead, and she is all I have left. And I am an old man—not long for this world."

"You interest me strangely," put in the suitor cheerfully. "What other recommendations has she?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Terrible Slight.

"Why did the great pianist refuse to play?"

"Temperament. He got mad because his name was printed in smaller type on the program than the name of the piano on which he was to perform."—Chicago Record Herald.

Easy Up to a Certain Point. "How did the votes for women idea get on in your village?"

"Very well, until it came to the voting. After the campaign was over so many were not speaking terms that no one would go to the polls for fear of being snubbed."—Washington Star.

A Ballroom.

Old Timer—Is your married life one sweet song?

Newly Wed—Well, since our baby's been born it's more like an opera, full of grand marches with loud calls for the author every night.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Unfeeling Wretch! Mrs. Scragginton—You never amounted to anything until I married you. If I were suddenly taken away where would you be?

Mr. Scragginton—At the Kansas City Times.

Inauention. Boarding House Mistress—Mr. Dig Inn, do you know what butter costs now?

Hearty Eater—No, ma'am, but I'll inquire if you'd like to buy some!—New York Globe.

Sure Thing. "There is one crusade which the young people at least will always set their faces against."

"What's that?"

"The anti-kissing reform."—Baltimore American.

It gives one a feeling of millionaire importance to join the chorus against "the high cost of radium."

"Papa, what does being disappointed in love mean?"

"Why, either marrying or being jilted by the girl you are in love with."—Houston Post.

Of the iron age we often hear. And the faded age of gold. But now the income tax brings near. An age of wealth untold. —New York Sun.
