

HILLSBORO DRAMATISTS PLEASE McMINNVILLE

Telephone Register Prints Glowing Account of Play

GRAND TRIBUTE TO THE CAST

Support Given Visitors at Close of the Evening

The Telephone Register, of McMinnville, in last Thursday's issue, has the following article on "The Man of the Hour," presented by Hillsboro people for the benefit of the library in that city:

"E. L. Moore, as director, has good reason to feel proud of his group of players which appeared at the opera house in this city Saturday night, presenting 'The Man of the Hour,' for the benefit of the McMinnville Library. This is the second time that Hillsboro people have delighted us with their home productions, and have on both occasions greatly pleased. This was a heavy play, but they carried it well. It depicts the methods of corrupt men in handling city government with graft and control of utilities and courts, all being required to bend to one political center of business, till broken by honest citizenship. Mr. Applegate as boss, working in conjunction with Geo. Emmott, the rich owner of franchises, opposed by Geo. McGee as mayor, who proved an honest man contrary to their expectations, ably seconded by L. C. Boyatt as Phelan, constituted the principal framework of the play, and Mr. Boscow made a good judge playing into the hands of the plotters for spoils. Miss Ruth Harrison ably played her position between two lovers as leading lady, spurring the rich young fellow to do his full duty, and really winning out. Other female parts were well sustained by Miss Lucy Weathered and Mrs. Grace Jose. Other gentlemen in the rendition were James Joe, Will Harris, Kenneth Robb, Dr. J. R. Marshall, Roy Heater, Will Willis, Chas. Lange and Barney Lewis. Good music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Howard Kaufman, violin; Clark Allison, clarinet; F. A. Mead, cornet; O. F. Toney, trombone; D. A. Doty, traps, and Walter Doty, piano.

After the play a banquet was given by the library board to the visitors at the Antlers restaurant, where W. T. Macy presided as toastmaster. There were about 35 present. Responses were made by Mr. Moore, Mr. Emmott, Mr. Boyatt and Mr. Boscow of the visitors, and by Dr. Toney, Frank Wortman and D. A. Doty on behalf of the home folks."

Hon. Geo. C. Brownell, of Oregon City, spoke at the court house, Saturday evening, defining his position in the race for the gubernatorial nomination. Brownell is seeking the republican nomination, and is running on a dry platform, urging economy and the abolishment of useless commissions. Brownell is well known in the east portion of the county, and he says he expects the county to give him quite a vote, although he says openly that Withycombe is entitled to his former home district.

Since coming here they have resided in the McQuillan property.

The P. E. & E. will change its passenger schedule, the new timetable to take effect next Sunday morning. The road is picking up a great deal of the local travel, and the new schedule is made for the purpose of better accommodations in and out of Portland, so far as timely service is concerned.

Do not forget to ask for a Schiller when you want a good 10 cent smoke—no "rough dust" in the Schiller. 12tf

MOUNTAIN BURBANKS GO TO 75 CENTS

Larger Lots are now Cleaned up in the Mountain Districts

BULK, HOWEVER, SOLD TOO EARLY

Crop of 1913 Sold Lowest at Fifty Cents, Early in Winter

Farmers from the hill districts have been busy delivering their 1913 potato crop, the top of the market having reached seventy-five cents per sack, the last of the week. Quite a number of larger lots, here and there, were disposed of last Friday and Saturday, at the 75-cent figure. John Koch, of above Blooming, was one to get this price for over 400 sacks. The demand has been very brisk the past week, and the price jumped 20 cents in a short time.

The bulk of the crop has sold at about an average of 55 cents, many, however, going at 60. The first demand paid but 50 cents, and thousands of sacks were sold at that figure.

Washington county is possessed of the reputation of growing the best Burbanks in the Northwest, the soil of the hills being especially adapted for potato culture. For a while it looked as if there were to be no market for the tubers, and that many hundreds of sacks would rot in the pits.

H. H. Maller, of above Banks, who had 15 acres in, was holding the last of the week, and if he sold on the raise his sturdyness has brought him many a dollar.

UNION STOCK YARDS

Receipts for the week have been cattle, 1736; calves, 86; hogs, 3246; sheep, 2749.

Cattle receipts fairly heavy this week, market steady. Bulk of light steers sold 7 75 to 8 with a few grain-fed and baby beef varieties 8 to 8 25. Heavy bullocks 7 50 to 7 75. Strong demand for deborned heifers and cows.

Hog market heavy to a shade weaker during the first half of the week, but partially recovered toward the close. Bulk of best light hogs sold from 8 50 to 8 65 with a few loads at 8 70. A good supply of stock hogs at country points, but feed is scarce and growers are not getting their holdings ready for market as easy as usual.

Sheep house receipts light. Lambs sold up to 6 75. Best wool wethers 5 75 and 6 featured, but few ewe sales were made. Mutton feeling was just steady with little change, and absence of select quality prevented a satisfactory gauge of the market.

J. W. Connell, of the Hillsboro Mercantile, has concluded his campaign in the potato market, and it is safe to say that this firm has bought more potatoes the past month than any other agency in the county.

Green Hale, of Portland, was out to Hillsboro the last of the week. Mr. Hale was sheriff of the county in the seventies, and still keeps a piece of county soil for Summer use, having a nice outing resort at Oak Park.

Sylvester Doohar sustained a fall from Father Lappen's riding horse, Saturday evening, and for a few minutes was unconscious. Dr. Smith attended him. He was riding without a saddle, when the animal, which was on a lunge, suddenly stopped, throwing him to the ground. Sylvester was able to be around in a few hours, not much the worse for wear because of his experience.

Reports here and there from outlying districts confirm the statement that the frosts have not materially damaged the prune prospect, excepting in a few exposed localities. The demand for Oregon prunes in the East is the best for years, and the Oregon product is ahead of all others in price. The days of poor prices for this splendid fruit appear to have vanished forever, and the Washington County prune grower should cheer up.

Joseph Stream, formerly of Forest Grove, now in the insurance business near the Mexican line, in California, writes a Washington County man that the situation down that way since the occupation of Vera Cruz is intense, and that Americans are fearful the Mexicans will cut off the irrigation supply in the Imperial Valley, where thousands upon thousands of acres of crops are now being watered. The government will send a detachment of troops down to see that nothing on this side of the line is molested.

JUVENILE COURT

Judge Reasoner Monday issued orders committing two little girls to the Boys & Girls Aid Society, and Mrs. Barber was commissioned to deliver them to that institution in Portland. The first child was Lula Bowbeer, aged eleven years, the victim of Frank Scott, sent to the penitentiary last week. The child's parents were supposed to have perished in the San Francisco earthquake, according to the statements of those best informed, and later the little girl was adopted.

The other was the twelve year old daughter of J. F. Sticher and wife, of near Middleton. This girl is aged about twelve years.

Mrs. Barber conveyed them to the Society on Monday afternoon's train.

FRANK SCOTT RECEIVES SENTENCE 3 TO 20 YEARS

Jury Was out Deliberating Not Over Fifteen Minutes

ONE BALLOT SAYS GUILTY AS CHARGED

Railroad Foreman Taken to Penitentiary Last of the Week

A jury in circuit court last Thursday evening made short shift of the case of State versus Frank Scott, the former railroad foreman who was charged with a statutory crime, the state's witness being Lula Bowbeer, an eleven year old girl, the adopted child of Mrs. Susan Bowbeer. Mrs. Bowbeer, who was brought back from Eastern Oregon by the state, was a witness for Scott, but her evidence did not go far, evidently, toward convincing the jury that Scott was innocent.

The jury deliberated about fifteen minutes, and it is said that but one ballot was taken and a return of "guilty" made.

Judge Campbell sentenced Scott, Friday afternoon, giving him from 3 to 20 years, the imprisonment prescribed by law.

Sheriff Reeves took Scott to Salem the last of the week.

The jury trying the case: Ed Morton, Jacob Shearer, Chas. Casteel, A. W. Wright, Ernest Olson, W. P. Brooks, Joseph Kyle, Geo. C. Thompson, John Olson, A. V. Denny, Samuel Graf and Wm. Thornburgh.

In the case of August Kuhnassen vs H. D. Bryant a decree was given plaintiff.

Poster vs Washington County—demurrer overruled.

Marking a Date

The custom grows of giving a ring to mark an anniversary—such as a wedding day or some other—with the date and occasion engraved on the inside. A ring is a peculiarly happy gift for such a purpose, because so easily worn and so often in sight, without the wearer making any special effort to see it. It is quite unlike any other piece of jewelry in this respect.

My display is so large and varied that people seem to take the greatest pleasure in looking it through, to find something peculiarly fitting.
