LOCALS MEET WATERLOG ON DIAMOND SUNDAY

Knights of Columbus Team Walk Away With Easy Victory

HOME RUN BY VISITOR MAKES TWO

Luckey Makes Lucky Homer, But Fans Twice Afterward

The Knights of Columbus team, of Portland, gave the Hillsboro team their first trimming this year, and it was a game full of thrills from start to finish. The first man up got a pass to first, and then Luckey went to bat—and a homer over the right field fence meant two scores. Later in the game another homer, caused by a lost ball, at the foot of the right field fence, meant three more scores. The visitors landed the game by a score of 13 to 4—and the defeat spelled humiliation to the locals, for they had met no Waterloo yet this season. Martin pitched good ball at that, for he allowed but six hits. Eddie Henderson feels worse than any of the boys, for he had three errors charged to him, that many fast ones going through him. Four went by his position, but one was so ugly the scorer could not conscientiously charge him with an "E." Henderson has been playing great ball all year, and the lapse affected the other members of the team. Phelps sustained a split finger and he was relieved by Flystinger.

Geo. Moyes fielded a high fly, and as he started to throw it, it fell from his hand and the batter was safe.

Eddie Henderson made three hits—which was some redemption for his crowding the error column.

The boys play Banks Friday and Banks comes here Saturday for the return game.

C. W. RANSOM

C. W. Ransom, well known here years ago, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland, Sunday, from an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Ransom was born in Pennsylvania, Sept. 30, 1857, and came to Oregon in his boyhood. He has made this state his home ever since. He was married to Mary E. Gibson, in Hillsboro, August 28, 1879. For many years Ransom conducted a drug store in this city, and at one time was a partner with Wm. Weathered. After going out of the drug business he went on the road for a number of years, traveling for a wholesale drug house. Later he became interested in mining, and his ventures were uniformly successful. His wife and one daughter, Mrs. Homer V. Carpenter, survive. The funeral took place Tuesday at Finley's Chapel, Portland, and the remains were brought to Forest Grove for interment. Mr. Ransom was very popular and had a host of friends over the Pacific Northwest.

Mrs. R. M. McClure, of Scholls, was severely injured Sunday by the kick of a horse. She was in a buggy, in company with her husband, and a young man jumped from an auto directly at the side of the horse. The animal became frightened and commenced to kick, smashing the buggy. One of the kicks landed on Mrs. McClure, badly injuring the knee joint. Dr. E. H. Smith attended the injury, and Mrs. McClure was brought to the city Tuesday to have further attention by the physician.

Mrs. V. Ackley, who has been the guest of the month with her brother, L. W. House, departed for her home in Kansas City, Tuesday morning. She returns more than ever charmed with Oregon, and expects to again revisit the state in a year or so.

Forest Grove is again paving a few blocks this year, and the contractor started excavation last week.

A prominent feature of the Pacific-Pacific exposition will be an extensive Oregon out-of-doors life display to cost approximately $10,000. An area 60x150 feet between the Oregon building and the bay shore has been secured by the Oregon Commission and contracts have been let for the initial work. This feature will be unique at the Exposition, nothing of the sort being attempted by any other state. One of the most interesting features will be a miniature reproduction of 200 miles of the Columbia River, showing fisheries, right signals, rapids and waterfalls. This realistic bit of scenery will extend approximately 60 feet. In addition, it is announced that a reservation of 7,000 square feet has been made for Oregon in the palace of horticulture, agriculture and food products.

Calvin Jack, Jr., cashier of the American National, has found the swimming hole, the few warm days of June suggesting his boyhood days, when he plunged into the waters of the Tualatin river. The waters of the big bend, south of town, still lure the lure for a few of the boys who are old enough to know better, but are "still young" when it comes to the "ol' swimming' hole."

Alfred McVoy was down from Gale's Creek the last of the week.
