J. W. Jackson, of North Plains, has appealed to the circuit court, asking that tribunal to give him more than $77 damages, the amount awarded him in the establishing of a county road, as per petition of Chas. Haefliger and others. Mr. Jackson claims that it-the road-will take 6 acres of land, and that he already had a good road by the place. He asked for $1,775, and avers that the amount awarded will not be accepted until the circuit court says he must, and he is of the opinion that he can get justice. The land in question is valuable.
