NO. 27

DAVEY OF SCOGGIN GETS LIFE SENTENCE

L. McDowell, who Killed Avery Scoggin, July 31, Found Guilty

MAN MARRIED IN HILLSBORO

Well known here Twenty Years Back as Resident of County

L. McDowell, a stage driver, was found guilty, at Hillsboro, last week, of killing Avery G. Scoggin, in the home of the latter. The two had been residing for several weeks, contention being over Scoggin's wife. After a night of bickering between Scoggin and wife, McDowell being the aggressor in the matter of their trouble, Scoggin arose the next morning and went into the dining room. McDowell shot him from behind, using a .32 shot which belonged to the dead man. McDowell was immediately arrested, and made a confession that Scoggin had threatened him through jealousy. McDowell received a life sentence, Saturday, and was committed to the penitentiary this week.

Avery G. Scoggin was well known in this county, having been in Scoggin Valley when a boy. He and Mary Bell Pointer were married at the Hotel Hillsboro, Jan. 4, 1894. Judge Rodolph had performed the marriage ceremony. After their marriage the Scoggin family moved to Clatsop County, where the groom went into the stage-line business and prospered.

The Scoggin was well known in Clatsop County, and she is the daughter of the late Perry Pointer, a brother of the late Wm. Pointer, once county treasurer of Washington County. The evidence at the trial showed that McDowell went into the dining room and shot Scoggin from the rear, while the victim was seated at the breakfast table. The old hotel building in which Scoggin was married burned down a few years ago, and in the fire he lost his life.

McDowell will sell at public sale at his place, a quarter mile west of Laurel, at 10 o'clock, on Monday, Sept. 28. He has a head of Cattle; Seven fresh and due to be at time sale, 1 in milk now, 3 are high de Holsteins, all heavy milkers; 7 head of heifers, 1 year old upward, 2 Jerseys and 5 high de Holsteins. Cows tuberculated.

For sale: Two cows, fresh; and four heifers, fresh soon; graded Jerseys and Holsteins. Fred Delplancher, near Bagley Station, Cornelius, R. I. 26-8

W. V. Bergen and Grover Combs have received their patent on their fire alarm system. The boys are feeling good over their invention, and will soon have their system to work in Hood River, as well as Hillsboro and McMinnville. They are constantly adding new features to the plant.

He is a gifted talker, his "Travel Talks" have been the source of much pleasure to Chautauquas all over the United States. There will be no admission charged. He comes under the auspices of the Manufacturers and Land Producers, and everybody is cordially invited.

TWO HUNDRED CITED FOR RAISE IN VALUES

Lands Under Cultivation in Cedar Mill District

UNDER SCRUTINY OF THE TAX BOARD

Board of Equalization Will Hear Cause on September 26

Over two hundred taxpayers residing in the Cedar Mill section have been cited to appear on Saturday, Sept. 26, to show cause why their valuations on the 1914 assessment rolls shall not be raised. Service of the citations was made by Deputies Thos. Emrick and John Wimer, and it was no small task. The bone of contention appear to be the valuation of the tillable lands, which has been assessed at from $70 to $80 per acre. Like lands in other sections of the county have been put on the rolls at a higher valuation, and the board feels inclined to raise on the assessment. It is either a raise in these cases or else a lowering of other assessments. The Board of Equalization wants to get an equitable assessment, and concluded to serve the citations. Those cited may appear or not, as they feel inclined.

The complaint is made that tillable lands there are assessed at from $10 to $20 lower than to the westward, and the claim is made that improved property down there is just as valuable as it is up on the United and also along the Oregon Electric and Southern Pacific.

The court will give all a hearing if there are any number who are wishing to protest against a raise.

JOHN WESLEY JACKSON HAS SOME BUSINESS HEN

Trying to Make Some Money for Owner. Lays Two Eggs Per Day

STUNT PULLED WHEN PRICE RAISED

Got Off Wrong, First by Laying Big Eggs—Then Saw Error

John Wesley Jackson, of near Glencoe, has a hen that knows her business, or thinks she does, for she is breaking the record by laying two eggs daily, or, at least, that is the supposition, as she accomplished that feat the other day, without a hard try, either.

When the price of henfruit went up the hen tried to help out by depositing eggs of extra size in her nest. Mrs. Chanticleer evidently discovered her error, and found out that large eggs sold for no more, per dozen, than small eggs, so she evolved another stunt—that of laying two eggs per day.

The breakfast was being prepared the other morning an egg, which was rather good sized, was about to be broken, it was remarked that this particular cackleberry should be good for two yolks. When broken and ready to deposit in John Wesley's frying pan for his breakfast, it was discovered that there was an egg within an egg. The second edition was about the size of a robin's egg, and was perfectly formed. J. W. is now trying to discover which particular hen laid that egg, and when he does he is going to have her sent to the patent office and listed, and then send the madam back to Bill Bryan for a present.
