The Recreation Center has been the scene of much activity this week. It has been open each night, and has had a most liberal patronage, especially by the younger set of the community. Privileges have been free to all this week, while the committee in charge study the number of users and their needs with a view to getting a schedule arranged. The floor will be open to all tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock. Dr. Hyde will meet his class in boxing there, 8 to 9. Friday night will be men's night; Saturday the building will be open from 2:30 to 5 p. m. A general invitation is extended to all to view and try the facilities offered during the remainder of this and next week. The formal opening will probably be Dec. 2. The lawyers have challenged the bankers to an indoor baseball game next Wednesday night. The public is invited.

Real estate transactions are more numerous than usual, the past ten days. That's some indication of a move for the better—or is it due to the fact that since Chamberlain was elected the administration papers have quit their jeremiads on depression.

Oregon's unofficial vote declares that the state will dispense with hanging. There was no great effort to educate the voters, the press having been unusually silent on the measure. Inasmuch as hanging has never stopped murder the invention of a hangless state will be watched with interest.

WILL YOUR NAME BE THERE?

Did you ever stop to think to what an extent the telephone directory has come to be an alphabetical index of the live people of every community? In business circles generally the person or firm whose name appears in the telephone book, if otherwise unknown, is considered of standing and worthy of credit. The service puts you within reach of everyone. It is a wide open door of entry to your business office, a daily social convenience and a constant protection in case of emergency. Can you afford to be without it? Our new directory goes to press shortly. Have your name in it. Hillsboro Telephone Co. COUNTY COURT.

The petition of Cheisler & Hershey, of North Plains, for liquor license, was withdrawn from court, because of the insufficiency of the remonstrance. This leaves North Plains abouless for the time being, but it is understood another petition is being circulated. The court canvassed the Sherwood election, declaring the town dry by a vote of 113 to 88. The Beaverton vote stood 107 dry and 109 wet—and the staves remain, under control of the council. L. D. Westfall was appointed J. P. for Tualatin, vice L. J. Francis, resigned. D. B. Bamp was granted telephone franchise, and J. H. Ballweg was granted electric light franchise. Thos. Connell and A. J. Roy appointed to view Road No. 618.
