ASK FOR CHANGE IN GAME LAWS
Too Many Hens and Too Few Roosters Among Mongolians

Fifty members of the newly reorganized Hillsboro Rod & Gun Club were tabled at a duck dinner at the Hotel Washington, Tuesday evening. The purpose of reorganizing was the result of taking up the matter of game legislation with farmers from various sections, who say that the killing of so many Mongolian male pheasants has left too many hens for proper propagation. Nest after nest, said one farmer, was this season found unhatched because of lack of fertilization of eggs.

It was voted at the meeting to ask the legislature to make the limit of Chinese pheasants five, as usual, but to have the statute read pheasants, so hens could be killed as well as the males. This will equalize things. It was also voted to ask legislation to reduce the number of deer to two, and not discriminate as to male or female, or, if a distinction is to be made, perhaps to have it one buck and one doe.

The dinner was marked with the best of good feeling, and the new club will talk of over filling the streams with those who live in the country, and their ideas on the hunting laws will be sought between now and legislative time.

Those who responded to toasts at the dinner were:

T. H. Tongue, Wm. Nelson, E. L. Moore, W. C. Gifford, J. W. Connell, Geo. Emmott, Grover Combs, C. B. Buchanan, E. L. Perkins, W. Mahon, C. Jack Jr., C. E. Kootz, Geo. McGee, F. J. Sewell, O. Phelps, and W. G. Hare, representative-elect, making the benediction toast, and promising the boys that he would work for any legislation agreed upon by the Club and the farmers of the county.

FAMILY FIRE LOSS

The home of Harry Richards, at Kinton, was totally destroyed by fire at 2 p. m., Monday. The blaze started upstairs from defective stove piping, and all of the upper part was aflame before the family noticed it. In the house at the time were Mrs. Richards and children. Mr. Richards was out in the yard when he noticed smoke and fire coming out of the roof. He rushed into the house and gave the alarm. Mrs. Richards started upstairs, to get their clothes, and, on opening the door she found that everything was aflame, and the smoke too thick to see. Nearly everything was saved downstairs, but all the bedding, clothes, family records, photos, etc. were lost.

The family of thirteen which was living so cozy together that morning, that night was scattered among the neighbors.

The house was built about 18 years ago, and owned by James Jaquet.
