CITY COUNCIL MAKES LEVY OF EIGHT MILLS

Will Raise Over Ten Thousand Dollars for the Year's Budget MEETING AT CITY HALL, TUESDAY EVE

Valuation of Property Will be Million and Quarter Dollars The city council and mayor met Tuesday evening and levied the tax for the year 1915. Eight mills makes up the budget, and it is expected to raise about ten thousand dollars. The property list, aside from the railway property, amounts to $1,179,390, and with the company's valuations added, the roll will go over a million and a quarter.

Of the millage the sub-division is 7.2 mills for city expenditures and paying off a portion of the indebtedness, and .8 of a mill for the Carnegie library.

It is not likely that there will be any extensive improvements except on principal streets where necessity knows no law. These expenses, however, are paid by property owners, and have no lien on the tax, excepting the ordinary routine of business involved.

No provision was made for park improvements, as there is a small balance in that fund. Many thought the levy should have been another mill—but the taxpayer will no doubt think the figures are sufficiently high.

SCHOOL MEETING There will be a meeting at the High School Building, in Hillsboro, Saturday, Nov. 23, 2 p. m., at which time the legal voters of the district will vote for or against a nine months school, as well as for or against raising money to pay off a portion of the indebtedness.
