

HON. W. N. BARRETT HILLSBORO'S MAYOR

Defeats J. H. Garrett by Narrow Margin of Twenty-Two Votes

CLOSEST ELECTION FOR MANY YEARS

New Councilmen Elected are Vaught, Trullinger and Walsh

Over six hundred votes were cast Monday at one of the closest city elections held in many years. Hon. W. N. Barrett was elected mayor over J. H. Garrett by the narrow margin of 22 votes out of 635 cast. Women figured largely in the election.

The day was replete with drizzle, but the rain did not appear to dampen the ardor of the man or woman who desired to cast a decisive vote toward the city administration.

The newly elected mayor has been city attorney for Hillsboro through the last administration—that of Mayor H. T. Bagley, and he has given the affairs of the city a conscientious attention. He pledges an economic administration and states that he will give city affairs his earnest care.

The fight put up against the mayor-elect was no school boy affair, as is attested by the vote. Indeed, it was thought at one time during the day that Barrett was beaten, and the forces against him were well organized and determined.

E. L. McCormick was elected recorder by a vote of 349 against E. L. Perkins, who received 275.

The vote, as returned by the canvassing board, was:

Mayor
Barrett.....326
Garrett.....304

Council
Vaught, Ward 1.....309
Kerr.....305
Trullinger, 2nd.....322

INDUSTRIAL REVIEW OF OREGON STATE

What is Doing in the Garden of the Gods

FROM TILLAMOOK TO TUTUWILLOW

Facts Concerning Improvements and Oregon Industries

Touching on the week just closed we find that Oregon is moving, viz:

Hillsboro dedicated her new $10,000 library Wednesday evening.

The heads of the state insane asylums are drafting a parole law that will result in reducing by 200 the number of patients kept at state expense.

The Tillamook cheese product for 1914 will total 4,101,962 lbs.

Central Oregon irrigation projects are planning to get $450,000 from reclamation funds.

The fight to cut state expenses half a million and to limit introduction of bills to five for each member is receiving unanimous support from the state press.

The Newberg cannery closed with a pack of 500,000 cans.

A $20,000 brick will displace the old Comstock hotel at Klamath Falls.

At Ashland the Home Steam Laundry has put in a new steam press.

Concrete work has started on the Southern Pacific Bridge across Coos Bay.

North Bend banks are cashing more pay checks than ever before.

Last half of November coast ports shipped 17,000,000 feet of lumber to 'Frisco.

By eliminating the useless 1915 census the state will save $100,000.

Working men's Compensation Commission asks salaries for two years of $90,720. State Labor Commissioner collects $21,000. These two bodies are to be consolidated.

Carlton boasts a new steel bridge and eight blocks paving.

Silverton has more buildings going up and taxes coming down.

A 31 lb. gold brick was brought out of the Ogle mine, Clackamas County, the past week.

Portland gave a local firm of contractors the big Shattuck School contract over a lower bidder in Montana.

A modern two and a half story concrete dairy barn for 100 cows will be built at Rose City.

Lents has $75,000 in new buildings going up.

The Celilo canal is being rushed to completion with 850 men.

Mertz & Latta are going to give Forest Grove a creamery and ice cream factory.

The Oregon State Fair board asks for $123,638 to erect new buildings in 1915.

The legislature will tackle covering $687,000 fees now collected by state officials into the general fund.

COLLEGE TO TOUR STATE

As a great many of the farmers of Oregon find it impossible to attend the short sessions of the O. A. C., at Corvallis, school will be loaded upon a special train and taken over the state in order to distribute important instruction almost at the farmer's door.

The first sessions of this traveling school will be held at Molalla and Estacada beginning Dec. 8. Although the complete schedule has not been definitely arranged, it has been decided that there will be 24 sessions in 24 different parts of the state, each session lasting five days, the school term ending March 27.

Six members of the staff of the extension division of the college work will give up all their time to this instruction, discussing all the important phases of production and marketing, special attention being given to local problems. Certain subjects will be treated on certain days, making it possible for a busy man to attend only on the day when the special subject in which he is interested is taken up.

After Friday, Dec. 4, we will not roll and grind feed any more on Fridays, but will run every other week, commencing Saturday, Dec. 19, Saturday, Jan. 2, and on Saturdays thereafter, every other Saturday.—L. Siegen-thaler, 282 1/2 2nd Street, Portland, Oregon. 37-9

W. H. French, of Forest Grove, was in town Tuesday, a guest at the J. W. York home.

I. C. Nealigh, of Gladstone, was in the city Monday morning.

Agents Wanted: Salary or commission; seven opportunities. Write for all particulars. Free. First-class lines for both men and women.—Oregon Sales Co., Hood River, Ore. 39-42

A recent statement of the B. M. Behrends Bank, of Juneau, Alaska, of which John R. Willis, a former Hillsboro boy, is vice president, shows a remarkable increase of business since its reorganization last year. It now carries nearly a million of deposits and over a half million of loans.

Don't go to see Dr. Lowe at the Hotel Washington, at 5 o'clock, Saturday, and find that he left for Portland at 4.

Quite a large delegation of Germans from this county attended the lecture of Dr. Kuehne-mann, at Portland, Sunday. Fully 1,500 people were unable to hear the Dr. give his brief for German arms in the big conflict raging across the seas.

Dr. Lowe will leave for Portland at four o'clock, Saturday afternoon, after being at the Washington.

L. C. Nealigh, of Gladstone, was in the city Monday morning.

J. D. MICKLE SENDS OUT OPEN LETTER

Wants Samples of Stock Com-pounds Sold Farmers

GIVE INSTRUCTIONS ON THE LAW

Co-Operation of Dairymen is Asked for Protection

State Food and Dairy Commissioner sends the following letter to the Argus, which should be read by every dairyman:

"Various kinds of mixed stock feeds and dairy foods are being offered for sale throughout the State, some of the mixtures purported to contain food value far in excess of that contained by any of their component parts.

Some of them have proper labels attached giving the purchaser the name of the ingredients and the percentage of protein, fat and fiber.

We have reports, however, that mixed feeds are being sold in some parts of the State without the proper labeling and we ask the co-operation of dairymen and stockmen to help us enforce a proper labeling and thus protect the stockmen and dairymen against the fraudulent salesmen with cheap mixtures of inferior food value.

For your guidance, will say that mixed feeds such as bran, shorts and middlings, when sold separately or mixed with each other need not be labeled, provided they are not mixed with any other feed or with screenings, whole grains ground separately or two or more kinds of grain ground together, do not have to be labeled. But when any other material, such as alfalfa meal, molasses, chaff, screenings, or mill sweepings are mixed with any mill feed or with ground grain, each sack must be labeled as follows:

Name, brand or trade-mark.

Name and address of manufacturer, importer or dealer.

Net weight of contents.

Minimum percentum of crude protein.

Minimum percentum of crude fat.

Maximum percentum of crude fiber, (provided that the percentum of crude fiber may be omitted if it is less than 5 per cent) and, the name of each ingredient.

There are also a number of feeds that must have the above labeling even if sold alone unmixed with any other substance. This list includes: Cotton seed meal, oil meal, pea meal, bean meal, gluten meal, dried distillers' grains, dried brewers' grains, dried beef refuse, malt sprouts, hominy seeds, ground beef, bone meal, clover and alfalfa meal, and all condimental stock and poultry foods.

There is also a provision in the law that the dealer may file with the Dairy and Food Commissioner a statement certifying to the name of the feed sold by him and that it contains certain ingredients and certain percentages of protein, fat and fiber. When a dealer files such a statement with this office such feeds need not have the name of the ingredients and the percentages of protein, fat and fiber upon the sack, but instead of such labeling there must be a tag attached to each sack or package stating that the analyses is on file in the office of the Dairy and Food Commissioner.

The statement on such tag does not relieve the dealer from the other provisions of the law and each sack must have the:

Name, brand or trade-mark.

Name and address of manufacturer or dealer.

Net weight of contents.

Stockmen and dairymen are requested to mail this office samples of not less than one pound of any of the above named feeds that may be offered for sale and not labeled according to the above requirements. In all cases where samples are sent, a letter should accompany the same giving the complete labeling on the sack or package, if any, and the name of dealer or person offering the same for sale.
