

HOUSE KILLS EASTERN OREGON IRRIGATION

So Far as State Support is Concerned, by a Big Vote, Friday

SAVES HALF A MILLION DOLLARS

Representative W. G. Hare Takes Floor Against the Measure

The House of Representatives last Friday defeated the Eastern Oregon irrigation appropriation of $450,000, by a vote of 49 to 11.

There will be a dance at the Hillsboro Hall, Saturday evening, Feb. 13, on the eve of St. Valentine. There will be a charge of 10 cents for admission, and a charge of five cents per dance.

Dr. F. A. Bailey, who travels over the county considerable, has been examining into the injury to Fall and Winter-sown grain. He states that perhaps fifty per cent. of the oats are injured, while in some fields the entire acreage will have to be re-seeded.

Referring to the assertion that if Oregon appropriated $450,000 the federal government would match it with a like sum, Mr. Hare continued: "What assurance have we that the government will give us this money if we make an appropriation?"

He then read a newspaper clipping from Washington, D. C., in which it was stated that this state was not likely to get any money this year for irrigation projects.

"Eastern Oregon is asking too much," he continued. They want this $450,000, a half mill tax for irrigation purposes; they already have been given the coyote bounty law which will mean a cost of $100,000 to the state, and we also have given them a better water code. I think we should kill this bill."

MRS. LYDA MEYER

Mrs. Lyda Meyer, wife of Fred Meyer, died at the family home, near Blooming, Tuesday, Feb. 9, 1916. She is survived by the husband and two small children. She was aged 27 years. The funeral took place this afternoon, Rev. Stuebe officiating at the services, at the Blooming church.

Thieves entered the farm house of D. B. Burkhalter, near Farmington, some time during the last of the week and stole from 120 to 150 quarts of canned fruit, in glass jars. There were strawberries, peaches, cherries and berries of all description. The burglary was performed while Burkhalter Jr. was absent from home. Fruit in jars is not very easily identified, but if some fellow who can't show that he either put up or bought fruit has so large a quantity in his possession it might embarrass him not a little to explain how he came by it. Dan is not feeling in very good humor over the loss, for he says there is one thing that he likes—and that is fruit that Mrs. Kate preserves.

There will be a dance at the Hillsboro Hall, Saturday evening, Feb. 13, on the eve of St. Valentine. There will be a charge of 10 cents for admission, and a charge of five cents per dance. The management is making every effort to make this one of the most popular dances of the season. The public is cordially invited.

Dr. F. A. Bailey, who travels over the county considerable, has been examining into the injury to Fall and Winter-sown grain. He states that perhaps fifty per cent. of the oats are injured, while in some fields the entire acreage will have to be re-seeded. Other fields, however, on some uplands, have not been injured at all. Where it is not too badly burned he thinks that it will stand and show a good stand, anyway, and in this Ben Thurner, of Blooming, agrees with him, saying that many seed too heavy in the first place. Winter wheat has stood the ordeal nicely, and the damage is very slight.

The old Sandford drug store building in Glencoe had a narrow escape from destruction by fire, Sunday night. Paul Paulson, who was passing the building late in the evening, discovered that the place was on fire, and gave the alarm. The flames were soon under control. The place is owned by R. C. Gossman, and he says that he was in the building earlier in the evening, with a lighted candle, and might have gone out, leaving it burning. Gossman owns about 15 acres in old town, and bought the Sandford property from J. R. Sandford, who was the executor of the estate. He also owns other property in the town.

It might be of interest to know that Dr. Wood has left the business of Health Officer for the county in the hands of Dr. F. A. Bailey, during the former's attendance at the legislature. A smallpox patient was discovered at Timber, last week, and Dr. Via, of Buxton, went up and had him placed in quarantine. The patient had been working over at Wheeler. It is not a severe case.

President Wilson has named a man for the Receivership of the United States Land office, at Vale, to succeed Henry G. Guild, who has been receiving official at that office since Roosevelt's appointment. Henry intends taking it easy for a few months, and will then probably gravitate back to the newspaper business. He expects to reside at Corvallis for the time being, after he leaves Vale.

OLD RECORDS BEING GIVEN OVERHAUL

T. S. Wilkes Busy Sorting Over Archives at County's Inception

TUALITY INSTEAD OF WASHINGTON

Record of U. S. Grant's Attachment Sait for Debt and Negro Sale

T. S. Wilkes is busy cataloging the archives of the county from its organization, when it was known as Tuality, and the old files are filled with matters of interest. From the old tomes and instruments speak the voices of the past, and the old parchments breathe delight and sorrow with the solemnity of age.

One of interest is the docket entries showing that U. S. Grant, General and President, was sued in the fifties, and that his horse was attached by R. E. Wiley, then a deputy sheriff. Grant rode his animal off the boat's slip in Portland and the horse was seized upon to satisfy a debt. Grant raised the money and paid the claim.

Another old relic is the bill of sale recorded wherein the chattel was a negro boy. Old court proceedings of the early murder trials teem with interest, and the records of the first county courts, the first circuit courts, etc. are set out in the old stilted style of the age. If Wilkes follows the bent of inquiry and goes to the bottom of every interest he will be busy for several months.

HARVEY GROVE

Harvey Grove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Grove, of Roods, died Sunday morning, at LaGrande, Ore., death ensuing as the result of an accident sustained Saturday afternoon. Mr. Grove was working for a big lumber concern, and at the time he was injured was acting as hooktender. The log being yarded struck a pine sapling, which descended on Grove with so much force that his skull was fractured. The accident took place about five miles out of LaGrande, and the young man was rushed to the hospital, where he passed away early the next morning. His father had been telegraphed, but reached too late to see the son alive.

The remains were brought to Hillsboro, yesterday, and the funeral takes place at 10 a. m., Friday, under the auspices of the Moose Lodge.

Grove was born near Abilene, Kas., Feb. 4, 1886. The parents moved to Oregon in 1888, and a short time ago came to Hillsboro. The son remained in Eastern Oregon, where he was well and favorably known. He was a member of the Moose at LaGrande, and as soon as he injured the lodge saw that he was given every possible care and surgical attendance.

Besides his parents he leaves a brother and five sisters—Mrs. Wm. Wilson, of Portland; Mrs. Florence May, Everett, Wash.; Mrs. Elsie Olney, Seattle; Chas. Grove, Pendleton; Mrs. Edith Grim, Weston, Ore.; and Mrs. Clara Walling, near Carlton.

Little Over Eight Thousand Dollars Added to the Treasury

MISS ROSE CAME FIRST TO PAY

A. W. Wolford, of Buxton, Was Given Receipt Number Two

Treasurer Sappington reports that taxation money is coming in rather slower than last year. This morning the total collections since Friday morning amounted to $7,716.01, as against $11,581.64, for a corresponding number of days last season.

The mail inquiries, however, are greater than last year and hundreds of blank receipts have been sent out.

A. H. Wolford, of Buxton, was the second to settle. By tonight the total collections will reach the eight thousand mark, and then some.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Washington County Teachers' Association will meet at Aloha, Saturday, Feb. 13. A good program has been arranged. Forty schools are now standard. This means there are "none better" in the state.

The Watts school, near Forest Grove, is the latest addition to the list of "standards." This is a modern two-room building, thoroughly equipped and furnished. A bubbling fountain is supplied with pure water by a pipe leading from a spring. During the recent freeze, fire caught on the roof, and as the pipe was frozen, the children were organized into a fire fighting brigade, and with emptied lunch pails carried water from the near-by stream and extinguished the fire. This school is also standard in arithmetic. E. G. Webb, the principal, is to be congratulated for his success in making the school standard.

Schools in the Gales Creek valley are fast becoming standard. A School Rally is being arranged for the pupils, parents, officers and teachers of the Gales Creek section, to be held on some Friday in the near future. Miss Clara Walker, teacher, will have charge of the arrangements. A program, by the pupils, will be followed by discussion of subjects such as Home Credits, Standard Schools, School Laws, etc. A dinner will be served at noon.
