

NO JURIES RETURN VERDICTS OF GUILTY

The Shearer, of Forest Grove, Convicted as Charged

W. O'LEARY ALSO FOUND GUILTY

W. O'Leary Released on Parole—Must Return to Home of Parents

Judge Campbell, Monday, heard the case of State versus John Shearer, an aged capitalist of Forest Grove. The state's witness was a nine-year-old lad by the name of Jensen, and the charge is too "off-color" to publish. The jury was out but a few minutes when they returned their verdict of guilty. The jury: Messrs. Clark, Rasmussen, Underwood, Newell, York, Williams, Wiley, Henry Miller, R. H. Weaver, Albert Banning and C. C. Erick.

The case of State versus John O'Leary, charged with attempting a statutory crime, was tried yesterday. Mrs. Callie Hughes testified as to O'Leary's conduct, and the jury evidently believed her, as well as the evidence of Roy Herst and two other witnesses. O'Leary went to the stand and made matters worse by his evidence. He was promptly convicted, the jury being out but ten minutes. The jury: Edw. Rivett, A. S. Dilley, J. Williams, F. B. Clark, Chris Reichen, J. T. York, Frank W. K. Newell, Garfield Symond, John Kassebaum, and Mrs. Rasmussen, Henry Miller.

The court received the plea of guilty by Bert Gailey, and sentenced him from two to five years in the pen, but paroled him on the grounds that he would return to his home and lead the life of a law abiding citizen. He must report to the sheriff every month, and he was placed under the care of Geo. Thaur Brown, his attorney. Gailey some weeks ago threatened to kill Miss Boyd, a school teacher.

Ed Schulmerich was excused on jury service the balance of the term. State vs John Doe, right name a Ratty, charged with larceny of a horse from M. Waelfler Jr., set for trial today.

State vs Geo. Baldwin, charged with robbing the Cedar Mill and getting stores, pleaded guilty and was given from two to five years on each plea. He was paroled, however, but must report each week, and if his parole is violated he will be taken to the pen.

Marvin Bailey, who assisted in the Cedar Mill store robbery, pleaded guilty, and was given a two to five year sentence in the pen, but he was paroled on condition that he go to school, and report to the sheriff regularly. If he shall attend school, he does attend and does not apply himself, then he will be taken to Salem. Bailey is under 3 years of age.

Default cases—Cora Smith vs Henry Smith; Lowengart vs Lowengart.

Wilkins vs McMannis, decree of foreclosure on tract in Garden tracts.

Heidel vs Graumann, confirmation of sheriff's sale.

Wm. Nelson vs B. L. Wilcox, decree, judgment.

SOLONS CHANGE TAX COLLECTION OFFICER

Pass Law Making Sheriff the Man Who Collects—Emergency Clause

IT IS TO TAKE EFFECT AT ONCE

Governor May Sign Bill, and if so Change to be Made Soon

The Oregon legislature has passed a law repealing the clause which makes the treasurer the tax collector and places that duty upon the sheriff of the various Oregon counties.

The house first passed the new law, but placed no emergency clause on the measure. It was sent to the Senate and that body added the measure making it emergency. It was sent back to the House, and Tuesday that body concurred. Just when the governor will sign up is a matter of conjecture. It is not likely that he will veto it, and inside of ten days it will become a law if not signed.

The legislators held that they were in such a position that they would have to increase the pay of all the county treasurers of the state or else revert the collection back to the office of the sheriff.

The treasurers say that it will take a week to get their balances into shape—but this can probably be overcome, as the daily balances are closed the next morning after the day's collection. There would be no necessity of any change in printed matter provided the sheriff is not "finicky" about using the stationery, or tax receipts of the treasurer. He could add the word "Sheriff" with but little trouble.

There will be no increase of sheriff's salary under the new law, and the office expense will be no more to the taxpayer than at present.

Of course, the Governor might veto the bill and that would leave matters as they are. It is known that he does not believe in the emergency clause being used extensively, and he may conclude to kill the bill.

Wm. Wolf, of Beaverton, was taken into custody yesterday, on a charge of non-payment of alimony, fixed by the court. His ex-wife complained that he was not paying any attention to the court order, and he will have a hearing in a day or so. Wm. takes his arrest philosophically, and says it isn't the first time he has been in the toils on the same affair. The kangaroo court preferred a charge against Wolf soon after breakfast, this morning, and he was fined fifty cents and sentenced to scrub out the inner corridor.

The address of Oswald Olson, at Hendricks' Hall, Cornelius, Monday, was well attended. Mr. Olson, who recently came from Berlin, says that the Germans are a unit in the war, and that the country expects to gain ultimate victory. He says that there is general feeling there that England is at the bottom of the war, and that the feeling is not so strong against France and Russia. The country, Mr. Olson says, has unlimited resources, and there is a feeling of optimism everywhere. He states that the reports from London and Paris, as well as Petrograd, do not tell the true story of conditions at the front, and that German arms are victorious when outside reports give contrary news. All parties in Germany, he says, are united in patriotism and in the Spring there will be a great offensive movement in both the East and West theatres of war.

MARION M. BRIDGES DEAD IN PORTLAND

Was Janitor of the Clinton-Kelley School Building, For Years

DEATH SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY

Leaves a Wife and Two Children—Well Known in Hillsboro

Marion M. Bridges, janitor of the Clinton-Kelley school, Portland, died yesterday afternoon, February 17, 1915, at 3:15. Mr. Bridges had been janitor at the school building for several years, and was held in high esteem by the employer. There had been some complaint made to the principal, and a short time before Mr. Bridges' death the head of the school had asked for his resignation. Mr. Bridges was found dead in the basement a short time afterward, being discovered by some of the smaller pupils.

M. M. Bridges was well known in Hillsboro, and for years was connected with the Climax Mills. He leaves a wife and two children. The son, Forest Bridges, is a promising young electrical engineer.

Bridges was a brother of J. M. Bridges, of Hillsboro. He was a good business man, and stood high in commercial circles when in business here. Several years ago he moved to Portland.

The coroner of Multnomah County is holding an investigation today.

Next Sunday evening a stereopticon lecture of "The Passing of Old China" will be given by Mr. Harris, at the Plymouth Church, at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited.

Pernelia Lawson, of Portland, has sued James Lawson for divorce. She alleges desertion, and wants the custody of four minor children. The husband deserted her in 1908, after 25 years of wedded life.

Pastor Harris, of Plymouth Church, will begin a special series of Lenten sermons next Sunday morning, which will run until Easter. The general subject will be "The Genius of the Christian Life." The opening sermon will be on "The Personal Element in Christianity." Other subjects will be "What It Means to be a Christian;" "The Christian and the World;" "The Rule of Christian Conduct;" "Christian Joy and Power;" "The Leadership of Jesus;" and "The Hope of Immortality." These subjects cover a wide range of thought, and will be a serious effort to meet the vital questions of thoughtful people on the application of Christianity to life.

You and your children are safe if you wear Dr. Lowe's superior glasses—eye safe and price safe, cost you no more than the inferior kinds usually sold and you have the benefit of his skill and more than 22 years' experience as an exclusive optometrist. When you patronize him you receive the combined service of the trained eye specialist and scientific optician. One charge covers the entire cost of examination, frames and lenses. Dr. Lowe guarantees his glasses to give satisfaction whether they cost $2 or more. If you pay less you do so at the sacrifice of material used and service rendered. Dr. Lowe will be in Washington Hotel Parlor, Saturday, Feb. 27. Scores of Hillsboro references. No agents employed, beware of those claiming to be such. Remember the day and date.

The safe of the Badger Lumber Company was robbed of about a hundred dollars, Monday, some time during the night. Mr. Frenzler was in Portland at the time and did not know of the burglary until his return the next morning. There is no clue to the identity of the perpetrator. The safe was not locked, but was resting off the combination. Another robbery was that of the entry of the Kilham house, at Orenco, Sunday night, when Mrs. Kilham was at church. The burglar took away a safety box, which contained an insurance policy and some college papers, which were of no value to the robber. He evidently took the box and did not inspect its contents until after he made his getaway. He entered through a window.

Notice to Farmers: The Bethany feed chopper will run Saturday, Jan. 30, Feb. 13, Feb. 27, March 13, March 27, and every Saturday in April—Al Croeni.

The joy of Marvin Bailey, the young Cedar Mill robber paroled by Judge Campbell, the other day, was short lived. He had no more than left the court room when Sheriff Reeves placed him under arrest on a warrant from Columbia County, charged him with burglary at Rainier. The Columbia County officer came after Bailey today and the youngster will not go to school, but will remain in the St. Helens jail until tried on another charge. Bailey cried with vexation when placed under arrest. He is one of the "smart" kind, and has no particular sense of shame, but he did want to get out into the world.
