NEW TAX BILL NOW IN PRACTICAL EFFECT

Person Can Pay Half Tax Before April 1 and No Penalty
BALANCE MAY BE PAID IN THE FALL.
New Measure Cancels all Penalties, 1914 and 1913 Tax

The new tax measure has appeared to meet with popular approval in more ways than one. The provision cancelling any penalties on the 1913 and 1914 taxes makes it possible to pay half your tax between now and April 1, and the remaining half by October 1. The penalty cancellation does away with anything being added to the tax in the way of punishment—and there you are.

Can now pay half—
So, Mr. Taxpayer can walk up to the tax counter and pay half his tax now without fear of additional expense, and then liquidate the balance next Fall. This provision will mean much to a large element of taxpayers in Washington County, as well as all over the state. There has been a popular demand for the enactment of the two-payment plan ever since the 1913 session of the legislature abolished it. The measure, which aside from the tender of half-payment, takes effect May 24, also remits all penalties on delinquent taxes for the year 1913, and this will mean some work for the office of the sheriff, which, under the 1913 statute, has collected considerable in delinquent penalties. Several already have availed themselves of the half-payment plan, and Treasurer Sappington has been accepting the tenders without question. The new law allows no rebate for full payment.

The tax measure has been the bone of contention at Salem ever since the legislature convened, but in all probability there will not be a change in the tax laws for many years.

The emergency clause was taken off the bill, and about the 24th day of May the change of tax collector will take place. Sheriff Reeves will receive the rolls shortly after that date—as soon as Treasurer Sappington can make up the books.

This leaves the treasurer the ex-officio tax collector through the Spring rush.
