HILLSBORO, OREGON, APRIL 8, 1915

NO. 8

ULRICH HERZIG TAKEN TO SALEM, SATURDAY

Sheriff Reeves Conveys Swiss Without Evidence he is Prisoner

DEFENDANT WOULD GO ALONE

Probability Strong That he Will Not Remain More Than a Year

Ulrich Herzig, who shot and killed Joseph Shalberger at the Herzig home, near Beaverton, in January, appeared for sentence before Judge J. U. Campbell, Friday morning, and was sentenced to an indeterminate imprisonment of from 1 to 15 years in the state penitentiary.

Herzig was allowed to remain in the sheriff's office Friday, and on Saturday morning he was conveyed to Salem by Sheriff Reeves, the officer placing no restraint on the prisoner—in fact, no one would have known that Herzig was under guard.

The prisoner feels the humiliation, but takes it with a grain of philosophy. He has hopes of getting out at the end of a year, and that he will have a good record during his incarceration goes without saying.

Herzig would have been a safe proposition to have followed the precedent set in Portland, when a circuit judge allowed a prisoner to take himself to Salem. Herzig stated that he would have gone to the gates with his own commitment without a word, and those who know him best say that he would have voluntarily gone and appeared at Salem with orders to lock him up.

He has sold the most of his personal property, some of it, however, having been left in the custody of friends. He says that he has already made arrangements to rent a place when he is released, and he states that scores of his Swiss and German friends have offered him places upon his return.

UNION STOCK YARDS

Receipts for the week have been cattle, 2007; calves, 14; hogs, 1863; sheep, 2599.

Cattle situation remains steady after Monday's large run at slightly reduced quotations. One of the largest events of late was the Shorthorn sale Tuesday, 100 splendidly bred animals being disposed of from the leading breeders of the west.

Good hogs found a ready market at advanced prices this week. Tops jumped from 7.40, last week's price, to 7.55 the first part of this week. Market at close of week 7.40.

Lambs sprung the market a quarter this week, ewes and wethers duplicating. Several nice loads of Easter milk lambs brought 12.50. Lambs are quoted at 9.25; ewes at 7, and wethers at 8. Demand good.

COFFEE CLUB COOK BOOKS

The new edition of the Coffee Club Cook Book is now on sale. This is a re-print of the book published in 1911, with 100 additional recipes, and the sale price is 60 cents.

The books are on sale at the following places: Vaught's Grocery, Hillsboro Mercantile Co., Combs' Furniture Store, Board's Grocery, Snodgrass Grocery.

Do not forget that Greers have the largest assortment of bulk garden seeds in the county.

Born, to Joel C. Ash and wife, of near Mountaineer, March 29, 1915, a daughter.

O. Westcott, of near North Plains, was in town the last of the week.

Springtime is here, so now is the time to make garden. Buy your garden seeds at Greer's.

The County Court went out to Jackson Falls, Monday morning, to look over roads and other county affairs.

White Minorca eggs for hatching—setting of 15 for $1.—Willard Tupper, Hillsboro, Telephone City 502.

Herman Hofferbar was taken before Judge Smith, Thursday afternoon late, and pleaded guilty to taking some dies and other tools away from the John Wohl-schiegel place, near Scholls. Judge Smith gave him 25 days in jail, and Herman went to the battle to his lonesome home for the present.

Sheriff Reeves will in a few days have the finest quarters in the court house, even if they are in the old structure. Contractor Beatty has cut out the old vault and made a passage way from the sheriff's office to the clerk's old office, and the Sheriff will have a private office where Clerk Luce presided. The old quarters will be used by Deputy Applegate, in tax collection and other office building. A long collection counter has been installed, and a new vault provided for the tax rolls when not in use. It is some "nifty" office, and Sheriff Reeves and Deputy Applegate are very proud of their new home.

I represent Spirella corsets—not sold in stores. Will call at homes on request, and do the fitting, and teach how to adjust and wear the corset. Our tailored made-to-measure corsets, including the latest front lace, with an experienced corsetier service, cost no more than high class corsets purchased in stores.—Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. Main 384. 52-14

The stove in Jos. Williams pool hall started a riot Sunday morning about 10 o'clock, and caused an alarm of fire to be turned in at the department. The flue must have burned out during the night, and the smoke must have "kicked back" into the building. When the place was entered about ten in the morning the room was full of smoke and it was thought there was a wall fire. Investigation, however, unearthed no fire, and the department had it for nothing—a matter that the owner of the building, Nelson. Not that Nelson is averse to run gratis, but he has no immediate need of the place.

Local fighting was considerably intensified in the fight between Johnson and Jess Williams in Havana, Monday morning. A few dollars were won by Johnson on the engagement of the heavyweights. Some offered to have the fight on betting, but these offers were refused. Williams were installed in their money was the game in the twenty-sixth.

T. S. WILKES FINDS GREAT OLD RELIC

Map of Portland Made When City Was in Washington County

PENITENTIARY ALSO LOCATED THERE

Finds Tracing in old Records and Patches Them Together

Thos. S. Wilkes is very proud of a recent find while going over and tabulating the old county and circuit records in the attic of the court house, and he has laboriously patched the fragments together and made a mount of the historic piece of paper. It was made when Couch first platted his addition—that portion of Portland down river from Ankeny Street. The map is torn and the rats have chewed off the corner so there is no clue to the draughtsman.

The map shows the location of all the churches of Portland by blocks; the location of the penitentiary, and all public buildings as they then existed, and also shows the park blocks running up through town.

There was then no settlement where the city park is now located, except the farmstead of King.

The pen was situated on Block 107-8, away up river several blocks from Jefferson Street.

The maker of the map made a pretty fair job of his work considering the day and date. The date is torn off, but it is known that the paper is at least 60 years old, for it must have been executed prior to 1854—the date the new county of Multnomah was created, for it reads, "Map of Portland, Washington County, Oregon Territory."

Mr. Wilkes spent several hours patching the bits together and pasting them on a good canvas mount, and he will have a relic possessed by a very few in the northwest.

Ada Reinemer has sued Henry Reinemer for divorce, alleging cruelty and unhusbandly treatment. There are four minor children, and she asks for their custody, $100 suit money, and $1,000 permanent alimony. The couple own two lots at Oak Park. The husband is a blacksmith.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stovewood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Skow, Hillsboro, Phone, City 462, or call at Tualatin Hotel.

Jesse Mays, formerly of Hillsboro and North Plains, died at Donald, Oregon, Saturday, April 3, 1915, after an illness covering several months. He was married to Miss Hostetter, a sister of Wm. Hostetter, of Portland. His widow taught school here for several years, and was highly esteemed in educational circles. Mays was a young man, and for several months was interested in the mercantile business at Donald, along with Mr. Mays, a cousin.

Dr. Elmer H. Smith operated on former Councilman Thos. M. Kerr, Friday, for appendicitis. Mr. Kerr rallied nicely after the operation, and was able to talk to his friends the next day or so. He has been suffering from the attack on the appendix for some time, and his case was at a critical period. He will soon be able to leave the sanitarium and be taken to his home.

H. C. and Cecil Kyle, of Gales Creek, were in town Monday. H. C. brought in four wildcat pelts for inspection by the county clerk, and carried away eight dollars of county money as bounty. He killed two of them last Fall, and one had killed a fawn just before he met the Kyle Waterloo. Kyle's dog found the fawn, which had just been killed, and took the wildcat's trail and treed him within a hundred yards of his kill. Three of the cats were good sized, and one was a three-quarter grown whelp. Mr. Kyle last Fall killed a cougar, while patrolling over in Columbia county, as a fire ranger. For that feat he received a ten spot.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO NORTH PLAINS VIA THE CUT-OFF

Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters Help Institute Lodge

FORTY-FIVE VISIT FROM HILLSBORO

Seventy-one Knights and Ladies Enter Charter Number List

Friendship Temple No. 8, Pythian Sisters, was instituted at North Plains, last Saturday evening, by Grand Chief Mrs. Littlefield, of Portland, Phoenicia Temple No. 10, of Hillsboro, exemplifying the work. The exercises were held in the handsome new Knights of Pythias Hall, which is a credit to North Plains, and would be a credit to a city of ten thousand inhabitants. Thirty-seven Knights of Pythias and thirty-four ladies were obligated—the largest class ever entering a charter list in the state of Oregon. Forty-five Hillsboro Pythian Sisters from the county seat were at the institution. A special car was procured from the Oregon Electric, and the run to the new town was made via Oreno, switching from that point to Helvetia, and from there west on the United. It took 30 minutes to make the run, and the same time on the return, the arrival home having been made at 2 o'clock in the morning.

There was a big time, with plenty to cheer the inner man and lady, and North Plains is to be congratulated for the way she entertained her visitors.

The new officers: Mrs. G. Essner, Past Chief; Mrs. J. W. Goodin, Most Excellent Chief; Mrs. Thos. Elford, Excellent Senior; Mrs. Joa. Cawree, Excellent Junior; Mrs. Jake Milne, Mistress of Records and Correspondence; Miss Nellie Gordon, Mistress of Finance; Miss Pearl Corey, Manager; Mrs. Wm. Darity, Protector; Mrs. Fred Beach, Guard; Trustees, Mrs. Leo Schwander, Mrs. Chas. Walter and Mrs. Fred Gordon.

Hillsboro people who attended the institution: Messrs. and Mesdames W. N. Barrett, E. L. Moore, W. H. Taylor, J. A. Imbrie, Wm. Nelson, L. A. Long, C. E. Wells, A. P. Luther, Earl Luther, F. J. Williams, F. J. Sewell, J. W. Connell, Grover Combs, E. L. Perkins, John Moffit, E. L. Shute; Mesdames Henrietta Morgan, E. C. McKinney, J. C. Applegate, W. N. Harris, R. H. Greer, N. R. Greer, H. T. Koerber, J. W. Sewell, Geo. R. Bagley; Messrs. L. W. House and Leonard Brown; Misses Susie Rounady and Clare Imbrie.

Features of the evening were the welcome addresses by Mrs. J. W. Goodin for the ladies, J. E. Zimmerman for the Knights, the response by Mayor W. N. Barrett, and the tribute to the Hillsboro floor work by Grand Chief Mrs. Littlefield.

The passenger train conveying the visitors was the first to run over the link between Oreno and the United Railway.
