

COUNTY BOY GOES THRO' THE WAR ZONE

Vincent Reverman, of Centerville, Wireless Operator, on way Home SHIP TAKEN OVER BY BRITAIN

Vincent Reverman, well known at Centerville, writes his brother, Frank, of Centerville, that he will be in the U. S. A. in a few days. He is 20 years of age, and after going to California became a wireless operator. He sailed on an oiltanker to China and Japan, and from there touched at Bombay, Calcutta, and then went through the Suez Canal, thence to Algeria and then to London. He writes his brother from Thames Haven, near London, under date of March 9:

"I arrived last Thursday from Algeria, smooth weather most of the way, even across the Bay of Biscay, but it was rough in the English channel, and very foggy. Thames Haven is no town—just a wharf line about 30 miles out from London, on the river. This place is guarded by a lot of soldiers, mostly kids and you have to spend a time getting about, especially at night, and it is dangerous, too, because they are so nervous. The other night one of them challenged a 'German spy,' and when he did not halt, shot him. The next morning they discovered that the spy was a bull, and he was as dead as a cornail. Another boy soldier became so excited that he shot himself accidentally. When we got up the English channel we painted out the ship's name, and at 'Texas' on her, and raised the American flag on account of the German submarines. While sailing through the Suez we had barricaded the bridge with sandbags, owing to the prevalence of Turkish snipers. We saw no Turks—live ones—but saw many dead ones floating in the canal. Just before we passed through the English engaged about 7,000 Turks, and 3,000 of them were killed. We have finished discharging our cargo, and will then go to London, where the ship goes into drydock. The British have taken the ship over to transport troops to France, but they will pay us off and send us back to San Francisco, where we were signed for a discharge at that port. The wireless man, myself and the third engineer will all be returned. I may be home in course of weeks, as it takes but four days to cross from Liverpool to New York."

Vincent's parents are down in California. They are Mr. and Mrs. A. Reverman, well known for years at Centerville. Young Reverman has sent postals from all parts of the world. Geo. Bell, of Centerville, and values them highly as souvenirs of the trip made by his old school mate.

"COMMUNITY SING"

Monday evening, April 12th, will take place the much talked of "Community Sing." The place will be the Congregational church, where there are excellent facilities for such an event. While the singing of the songs that are familiar to both the old folks and the younger generation will be the principal feature, there are several other excellent numbers on the program. A little one-act melodrama, acted by the High School, will be the comedy element. All those who are interested in the schools will certainly appreciate the short discussion on the timely topic: "Music in the schools."

The Parent Teachers meetings have been having an increasing attendance at each session, and it is anticipated that with the excellent program offered, a most enjoyable evening of song and entertainment will be spent by a large audience.

MRS. TERESA HERB

Mrs. Teresa Herb died in Portland, March 28, 1915, aged 64 years. She was born in Germany, May 8, 1850, and was married to Charles Herb, Oct. 12, 1868, the husband dying in 1890. There were nine children born to the union, seven surviving: John, Verboort storekeeper; Chas., farmer of near Greenville; Frank, of near Roy; Geo.; Mrs. Van Stralen, Bremerton, Wash.; Mrs. Peter J. Vanderanden, of Roy, and Mrs. A. J. Jennings. Mrs. Herb was a member of the Catholic faith. She had a wide acquaintance in the Verboort and Greenville sections, where she was an early settler.

Walter Robinson, of near Farmington, was a city visitor Tuesday.

A new steam roller will be brought here for the county the last of the week, and the court house square will be rolled so that the lawn can be mowed and the place kept up in ship-shape. The ground is now very rough, and it is some hardship to cut the grass with the small hand lawn mowers. There is some talk that the county will buy a small power mower, and if this is done the entire square will be kept clipped. This is one of the most beautiful squares in the city, and to keep it up in fine shape would be a matter of pride.

All-night dance at Bethany Hall, evening of Friday, April 9, given by the Bethany Grange, Davis & Johnson orchestra. Tickets, including supper, $1. 1-3

Tuesday and Wednesday were anniversaries of the great battles of Shiloh, which were fought April 6 and 7, 1862. H. Harrington, of this city, was shot in the right leg in the second day's battle. Chas. Hickethier, of Cedar Mill, who was in both days' engagements, and was in the celebrated Hornet's Nest, was up to Hillsboro yesterday. It was a coincidence that none of the boys who fought in Shiloh bumped into each other. The father of the Argus reporter was in the first day's battle, and was shot through the right knee an hour or two after the fighting commenced.

Position wanted by lady, in respectable family, has two small girls.—Mrs. E. Ames, Hillsboro, Ore. 1-tf

With the burst of sunshine, Easter morning, came a levy of friends to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Davis, of above Mountaineer, in honor of Mr. Davis' 55th birthday. After a bountiful noon-day feast, the time was spent in music, games and conversation. Those present were Mrs. F. C. Knowles; L. H. Peters, wife and daughter, Leila; I. E. Kelly, wife and daughter, Mildred; Harlen Kelly and family; Miss Laura, Albert and Raymond Lynn; C. C. Garwood and family; Russell Long and Hazel Schmitke.

For sale: Horse, weight, 1300; sound and well broke. Good traveler.—Inquire Hillsboro Liv- ery, Main Street. 1-3

Conductor John H. Dobbins, who has been on the evening car on the P. E. & E. run, has bought a new Studebaker. His first trip out cost him $10 for running into a boy on a bicycle—that is he paid the boy a ten to get the wheel fixed. John thought that he was getting off cheaply, but the next week he drove through the glass front of an ice cream parlor—and now Mrs. Dobbins refuses to ride with him unless she does the driving.

For sale: Two A1 good fresh cows, giving 40 pounds of milk daily.—F. H. Bowly, Cornelius, Route 2. 3

The horse buyer who visited Hillsboro, Monday, did not take away any Washington County horse flesh. He saw some horses that he wanted badly, but he was not up with his price. Several brought in horses for inspection, but they did not remain long. The buyer had been accustomed to buying in Eastern Oregon, where prices were somewhat lower than down here.

For Sale: Good delivery wagon, cheap for cash.—S. H. Clark, Gaston, Ore.

E. W. Bennett, Forest Grove, was in town Tuesday. He walked up to the court house steps, read the street number, 1133, and then sagely remarked, "Well, this court house has been built a good while—a long time before Joe Meek discovered it, I rather guess." It's a cold day when E. W. has anything driven over on him.

Wanted: Stags and bulls.—Tel. City 864.

G. W. Baker, well known below Beaverton, is recovering from a serious accident, sustained some time ago. He was binding a load of hay, when the pole broke and precipitated him. The force of the fall broke his nose and injured his spine. Two doctors worked on the patient, Dr. Robt. Allen, Beaverton, and Dr. C. E. Bockmann, Portland, and straightened the spine.

Henry Wolf, ex-sheriff of Tillamook county, was in the city Tuesday. Henry formerly lived out here, and was a boy when the Courtney Meek home, burned, Monday, was being built. He then resided on the Hundley place, owned by E. B. Tongue.

Wanted: To buy milk cows.—Phone City 864. 3-7

Peter Pacl, of above Bacons, and his neighbor, Fred Bergerson, of Columbia County, were in town today. Mr. Bergerson brought in a wildcat pelt and left his requisition for it.

N. W. Phelps, of Gaston, will occupy the Evangelical Church pulpit, next Sunday, Rev. F. E. Fisher, who has been pastor for several years, leaving to take a charge at Eugene.

CORNELIUS ELECTION WAS HELD MONDAY

F. H. Sholes Elected Mayor Over J. F. Kilgore, Present Incumbent

WILCOX WAS ELECTED CITY RECORDER

Amendment to Charter Decried—Prop- erty Must Pay Two-Thirds

The City of Cornelius held annual election Monday, and the ballot showed an almost two to one vote for the Citizen's ticket. Frank H. Sholes was elected Mayor by a vote of 135 to 91 for J. F. Kilgore, present incumbent. G. A. Wilcox was elected recorder by a vote of 149 to 75, defeating P. E. Phelps, recorder for the past year. The women voted in almost equal numbers with the men, and 228 votes were cast. The amendment to the city charter providing that street improvements must be paid out of the general fund was defeated decisively, but 56 being cast for the measure, while 157 negatives were cast. A. S. Hendricks was the sole nominee for treasurer, and he was given 185 votes. Lester Mooberry, of the council, polled 200 votes. Every man on the Citizens' ticket was elected.

The vote— Citizens' Ticket Mayor, F. H. Sholes 135 Council, L. Mooberry 200 W. B. Vickers 154 Recorder, Wilcox 149 Treasurer, A. S. Hendricks 185 Non-Partisan Mayor, Kilgore 91 Council, O. O. Hughes 72 Recorder, Phelps 75 Amendment For 56 Against 157 The present provision of the charter requires the city to pay one-third of street improvement expense, and two-thirds by the property holders, one-third on each side of the street.

DAIRY INSTITUTE

The Scholls Grange will hold a dairy institute at Grange Hall, Scholls, on Saturday, April 10, having an all day session. Prof. G. E. Dorman, with the U. S. Agricultural Department, will be in attendance, and will give a demonstration at the Campbell farm, with an actual dairy herd, picking the fit, or the unfit, dairy animal. Prof. W. A. Barr, of O. A. C., will lecture on building a silo, and then tell how it should properly be filled. All grangers, farmers and dairymen are invited by Scholls Grange to bring their dinners and attend this institute. All are welcome, and this promises to be an instructive meeting, and one worthy of attendance.

TWELVE BLOCKS

The city council has voted to improve twelve blocks with macadam this year. The streets to be improved are:

- First, from Baseline to Maple, a distance of four blocks, sixteen feet of macadam, with no curb.
- Second street, from Jackson to Jefferson, two blocks.
- Baseline street, from Second to North Range, two blocks.
- Main, from Sixth to Tenth, all sixteen feet, excepting between Sixth and Seventh, where the street will be 26 feet, with curb. The council will not meet again until the 20th, unless there is a called meeting.
- A petition is filed asking that a new sewer inspector be appointed. It is understood that about 30 have signed the petition.
- The council expects to macadam First street between Baseline and Washington streets.

MRS. WM. KIRBY

Mrs. Wm. Kirby, well known as Miss Callie Koeber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Koeber, died at the hospital in Ellensburg, Wn. Tuesday, April 6, 1915. The remains were shipped to Washington County, and burial is at the Mountaineer cemetery, Scholls, today. She leaves a husband and four small children. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Koeber, and family reside at Scholls. Mrs. Kirby was a popular young woman and her early death is a matter of regret to a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Kirby was a niece of H. T. Koeber, of Hillsboro.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our sad bereavement, the death and burial of our husband and father, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Frederick Johansen and Children.

CAPT. MILTON G. SMITH DROWNS OFF TILLAMOOK

Was Nephew of C. W. Redmond, Hillsboro, and Well Known Here

SCHOONER CAPSIZED OFF THE BAR

Engineer Was Washed Ashore and Picked up Unconscious

Captain Milton G. Smith, well known to many Hillsboro people who visit the Tillamook beaches, was drowned Tuesday off Tillamook bar, his gasoline schooner, Arab, capsizing. The engineer, I. N. Darlund, was washed ashore unconscious, and his life saved by hard work.

The dead captain is a nephew of C. W. Redmond, of this city. At last reports the body had not been recovered.

The Arab had been deep sea fishing off Seal Rocks and waited at the buoy at the entrance of Tillamook Bay for several hours. All the time the members of the lifesaving crew watched the little craft in the heavy sea. At low tide, at 1 o'clock, the Arab started to cross in. A heavy sea was running at the time and the Arab got into the trough of the sea and was struck by a large breaker.

Milton G. Smith was born in Portland 34 years ago, and was educated in the Couch School and the old Portland High School. This was his second season as a deep-sea fisherman. At one time he was in the machinery sales business on First street. He is survived by two brothers, Dr. Earl Smith, of The Oregonian building, Portland, and Chas. W. Smith, and a sister, Miss Lena B. Smith. The family home is at 531 Marshall Street, Portland.

Mr. Smith was an experienced mariner and had sailed around the Horn three times.

JOHN CONNELL LOSS

John W. Connell lost his farm house, on the Meek homestead, Monday afternoon, by fire. The house was occupied by Thos. Henton and family, and in the afternoon, while Henton was in the field, he noticed smoke coming from the roof. Neighbors soon responded to the call, but were powerless to stop the flames, which had a big start. Henton saved all of the household furniture on the ground floor, but lost what was in the upper story. The house was built by Courtney Meek, 39 years ago, and was a big affair, costing about $3,000. Mr. Connell had $1,500 insurance on the structure, but Mr. Henton had none of the contents. John Vanderwal had the insurance in one of his companies, and he adjusted the loss, Tuesday. A large building will be fitted up for permanent use, and a new house will be built later.

FREDERICK JOHANSEN

Frederick Johansen, aged 57 years, died at his home near Farmington, Saturday, and the funeral took place Monday. He leaves a widow and three children, Mrs. Marie McGregor, of Portland, Mrs. Louise Carsted and Oscar, at home. He was born in Norway, Dec. 14, 1858, and came to America, Aug. 15, 1903, and has resided near Farmington since his arrival. He had been ill for many months with cancer of the stomach.

Rev. Ditman Larsen, of the Portland Lutheran Church, preached the funeral service and interment was in the Lewis' cemetery.
