

LOADING OF REVOLVER MAY UNCOVER THEFT

Automatic 32 Found Near the Place, Kinton, Important

SIMPSON SAYS IT IS HIS GUN

Taken From Simpson & Jack Saloon Several Weeks Back

...finding of a Colts Automatic calibre revolver near Kinton, where it had carefully been ditched, may lead to the discovery of the perpetrators of the Simpson & Jack saloon robbery a few weeks ago, when some cigars, money and a revolver of like pattern were stolen. Sheriff Reeves took the gun to Beaver, and Mr. Simpson says it is a revolver, and will Jack identify it as the Simpson gun, and does Pete Vandehey.

...If this is the Simpson gun it means that Meek and Anderson will have another charge against them besides that of stealing the Rosenbachelor milk can and the teaharness. Anderson says that it is his gun, although he did not take it over; that he traded for it five years ago, getting from a man a horse trade. He says that it is his revolver that he does not know how it came to be found there unless Meek took the gun from his room in Portland and ditched it when he and Deputy Applegate was on a trail.

...Meek swears up and down that he had no gun, and that he knows nothing about the weapon. Sheriff Reeves will give the matter his closest attention and when he has all the facts run down he will know how to act. Meek also says he knows nothing about the bloody rope on his rig. The wagon, on close investigation shows that at some time a wolf hide, or carcass, had lain in the bed, for the hairs are found adhering to the boards. When after the wagon bed had been washed. This might indicate that the two know something about the killing of Wm. Besse's heifer two weeks ago. Whether Anderson is lying or telling the truth is a problem—but one thing appears a cinch—he was out with Meek, and a stolen milk can was on the wagon. Anderson alleges he was drunk, and both men appear to want to throw the burden of their tribulation on John Barleycorn, who takes a trip from Oregon the first of the year.

Complaint is made that boys are doing some reckless riding on the sidewalks in the residence district. Mrs. A. M. Beckwith was run down by a wheel in East Hillsboro, the other day, and severely bruised. Mrs. Beckwith is 75 years old, and is the mother of Mrs. F. W. Boley.

That the jitney service in Portland has been a thorn in the side of the railway company goes without saying. S. J. Galloway, who put on the first Jitney service from St. Johns to Portland, says that in one day he carried 600 passengers between the two points. At the time there were seven or eight other jitneys operating from the same point, and this would mean a shortening of the revenue of the car line that would make a mighty big difference in the auditor's report. Mr. Galloway thinks that the regulations contemplated by the council, however, will make it so hard for the new transportation movement that the auto people will find it difficult to operate with profit.

I represent Spirella corsets—not sold in stores. Will call at homes on request, and do the fitting, and teach how to adjust and wear the corset. Our tailored-made-to-measure corsets, including the latest front lace, with an experienced corsetier service, cost no more than high class corsets purchased in stores.—Mrs. M. E. Caudle, Hillsboro, Fifth and Jackson Streets, Phone No. Main 384. 52-14

Fred Wesch, of Tualatin, lost about $100, and his relative, Hess, lost $80, in the holdup at the Wesch saloon, last Wednesday night a week ago. But one man showed up in the saloon, and he ordered the two to hold up their hands. He then relieved them of their money and backed out of the saloon. More than likely the robber had a confederate outside, but he was not seen by the men who were robbed.

The imperative need of fruit canneries is more and more manifest for this section since the big farms are rapidly being cut into small tracts. Canneries at every depot should be built, and it would mean a great industrial movement. Every year thousands of dollars worth of good fruit go to waste in Washington County. Good canneries, with a good support, would mean a revolution in husbandry.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stovewood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Skow, Hillsboro, Phone, City 462, or call at Tualatin Hotel.

PYTHIANS STILL HAVE THEIR HORSESHOES

Beat Farmington Sunday by a Score of 15 to 2, Phelps Pitching

BEN HURS DEFEATED BY SCHOLLS

Knights Have Not Yet Suffered a Defeat Since Season Started

The old saying that luck is better than riches is holding good with the K. of P. ball team, for each player was again loaded with horseshoes Sunday, when they met Farmington. Phelps pitched for the K. P. bunch and the way he held the visitors down was a revelation. Phelps who is rated the one best catcher in the county was equally as effective on the mound. He worked both arm and noodle, and but three hits were taken off his delivery. But for a muff of a fly by Anderson and a dropped ball by Harris, Farmington would not have scored. The Pythians ran in nine runs in the first inning, and that after two were out. Gaetter caught for the K. P., and while not as good as when he worked as backstop for the Forest Grove Colts, he did first-class work with Phelps. The line-up:

K. P.	Farmington
Engeldinger, 3b	Bachelor, 3b
Lytle, ss	Heater, cf
Gaetter, c	Miller, 2b
Phelps, p	M. Robinson, c
Ireland, cf	Rehe-Robinson, p
Brown, 2b	Bozarth, ss
Sewell, rf	Ingram, A&R Jack, lb
Harris, lf	J Ingram, rf
Anderson, if	Ehrig, if

The Ben Hurs, in the first game, were defeated by a score of 5 to 2, by Scholls. This was a very even game, after all, and was of more than usual interest. A big crowd came up from Scholla to watch their new pitcher, Seiffert, and he was there all the time. Only for H. Schullmerich's bad inning in the seventh, the game would have been more than close. The feature of the Scholls side was Gaetter's numerous two-baggers. The line-up:

Scholls	Ben Hurs
H. Robinson, rf	Pauli, rf
Fields, 1b	Ray, ss
Miller, cf	Otey, 2b
Schlegel, 2b	Donovan, if
Burkhalter, lf	Schullmerich, p
Gaetter, 3b	Deville, cf
Weiser, c	Nelson, 1b
Seiffert, p	Sigler, 3b
R. Jack, ss	Scheidel, c

Louis Sagert was up from Tualatin, Monday. He reports that an auto driver robbed a man near Tualatin the other night, taking between four and five dollars from his victim. The victim claims that the man drove a little red car. It would appear that if this is the case the robber must be either color-blind or mighty careless about possible identification.

John M. Wall and Aug. Tews, of this city, and Thos. Talbot, of Cornelius, with their families, will start soon after July 4 for their overland trip to the Panama Fair. They expect to take their time making the trip, and Tews says that his little Ford will be right at the heels of the larger cars, all the time. Talbot says they are going to live in splendor all the way down, and that they will diminish the census figures on chickens along the route.

Simon Weyrick, arrested last week for conducting a marriage brokerage bureau, in Portland, was last Saturday fined 30 days in jail and $20 cash premium. It was proven in court that Weyrick would advertise for women companions to elderly men, and when they came to the office he would tell them his clients wanted to get married, but that they wanted them to keep house for a period so they could determine whether or not they would make suitable life companions. Weyrick, it is stated, was on parole for having taken $250 from a Washington County man, Weyrick to secure a divorce for the party. It appears that the wife bucked the divorce proposition, and Weyrick was forced to give back the money. Sixty-five letters from women in response to advertisements and letters from Weyrick were exhibited in court.

A. C. SHUTE ASKS FOR PREMIUM INVESTMENT

Tell Bankers' Convention Money Should be put Back in State

PROPOSITION SHOULD BE ADOPTED

Millions Taken From West and Not Re-Invested—Laws Should Govern

A. C. Shute, who recently attended the Bankers' Convention in San Francisco, hit the keynote in his speech, when he insisted that legislation should take hold of the insurance question. His position is that money taken from the coast on insurance premiums should either be invested or loaned within the states from which money is taken in payment. His address covering this feature follows:

"I would submit to you, however, for future consideration, this recommendation: That the next measure of import advocated by the Oregon Association, and by it caused to be enacted into law, be a requirement upon foreign insurance companies doing business within the State of Oregon, to reinvest a certain percentage of the amount received by them from premiums in Oregon securities. During the present year $3,358,236 were paid by Oregon policy-holders to foreign life insurance companies, all of which was immediately taken directly from the state.

Inasmuch as some of these companies discriminate against the State of Oregon and all states west of the Rocky Mountains in their investments, they should be restricted from doing business within the state except upon terms which will not react in hardship to the companies, but yet will require of them the reinvestment of Oregon funds in Oregon securities. It affords me great pleasure to mention the excellent and efficient work of our last Legislative committee, and I would recommend that our next Legislative committee be appointed for two years, so as to fully co-operate with the commission soon to be appointed by our Government.

After the European war has been brought to a close, which, let us trust, will not be in the far distant future, and the demand for money has become increased, the banks of the United States will be the best supplied commercial agencies in the entire world. America, and not France and England, must soon become the banking-house of the entire world, and it is, therefore, incumbent upon the bankers' associations of each state, no matter how insignificant in the financial world, to see to it that the laws of its state are sufficient to enable it, without being hampered, to play the game of banking business as it must necessarily be played in the future."

County Clerk Luce has received an imprint of the various cattle brands of the state of Oregon, which the law requires to be posted. The circular looks more like an old Egyptian Hieroglyphic than anything else, unless it should be a Chinese washbill. As there are but two or three cattle brands in Washington County the circular is of more interest here, as a curiosity, than as a matter of brands.
