DONELSON-KAMNA

One of the smartest of the June weddings was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kamna, Farmington, Wednesday, June 16, 1915, at 2:30 p. m. when their daughter Lena was united in marriage to Earl I. Donelson, of Hillsboro.

The bride was gowned in white Charmeuse, trimmed with Chinchilla lace and pearls, entrain. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid and maid of honor were gowned in pink crepe du chine, and carried pink carnations.

Mrs. F. J. Sewell played the wedding march from Lohenrin, and Mrs. Myrl Rehe sang "I Love You Truly." Rev. L. Stuebe, of Blooming, performed the ceremony.

After the wedding the guests were seated to a splendid wedding dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Donelson departed in the evening for a short wedding trip to Seaside, after which they will return to Hillsboro for residence.

The guests were Messrs. and Mrs. James John Kamna, W. J. Donelson, F. J. Sewell, Rev. Stuebe, Herman and Henry Kamna, N. W. Chiles, Perry Hogrefe, Fred Burmann, L. J. H. Chas. Krueher, Wm. H. H. CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to all who so kindly assisted us and gave aid and sympathy in our bereavement, the death and obsequies of the late J. M. Bridges.

The machine which was to carry the bride and groom at Farmington, yesterday, balked just as it ran out of the garage. House claims that Dan Burkhalter, Jesse Applegate and Harris are responsible for the water in the carburetor—but at all events it failed to carry the bridal party from the Kamna home.

PAID IN HIS OWN COIN.

Knox Gave Unto Root What Root Had Passed Out to Depew. Some years ago Senator Depew told a little story on himself and Senator Root in a speech at a dinner in Washington to Mr. Root by the New York Republican congressional delegation.

"When Root was secretary of state," said Senator Depew, "I went over to see him and asked him if he couldn't do something for me in the line of consular appointments. He said: 'Senator, I'm sorry, I would like to do something for New York, but—' and Mr. Root picked up a paper from his desk—I see that New York's quota is now exceeded by 14 per cent."

"Well," continued Senator Depew, "I kept going to see Senator Root for a year. Every time I went to see him he would remind me that New York's quota was exceeded by 14 per cent. Finally I said, 'Mr. Secretary, I think you're a great statesman, but your mathematics are inclined to be automatic.'"

"However," said Mr. Depew, "all things change, and after a while Mr. Knox became secretary of state and Mr. Root became senator. And then one day Senator Root went up to see Secretary Knox about some consular appointments. 'I'm sorry,' said Mr. Knox, 'but—and he turned to a document file—I find that New York's quota is now exceeded by 14 per cent.'"

Punctuality. Unfaithfulness in keeping an appointment is an act of dishonesty. You may as well borrow a person's money as his time.—Horace Mann.

Well, He Deserved It. According to an eminent botanist, plants are so sensitive that they resent neglect and are susceptible to kind treatment, showing their gratitude in charming ways. We are therefore the more ready to believe a story told us not long ago by a lover of nature. He was watering a fern on a cold morning. He forgot to temper the water. The fern, incensed by the shock, leaped from the pot and bit him savagely in the leg.—Philip Hale in Boston Herald.

Spotting a Hat. At the obsequies of a Quaker in Brooklyn a grave looking gentleman with an unusually tall hat entered and, seeing no rack in the hall, placed his hat on the floor just behind the door. Presently another grave Quaker entered.

Writing an Example. A man with a large dripping umbrella and wearing slippers for the usual reason, saw in the gloom the hat resting on the floor. His eye-light was probably poor, for he mistook the hat for an umbrella holder, and in it he deposited his dripping parasol. This was an example for those who followed, and in a short time the tall hat was holding a dozen umbrellas. At the end of the service the grave gentleman found an inch of water in his hat and looked graver than ever.
