

COUNTY AFFECTED BY LAND DECISIONS

Washington County Has About 20,000 Acres of O. & C. Lands
PROBLEM IS NOW UP TO CONGRESS
Unless Settled Satisfactorily Will Mean Years of Litigation

The Supreme Court, after all, has left the O. & C. land grant fair up in the air. Two million acres of lands are involved, about 20,000 of which are located in this county. The lands are rich in timber, and some are good agricultural lands, when cleared up, especially in the burned districts, and where the timber is very scattering.

Ex-Gov. West suggests that the state pay the S. P. for the lands—the $2.50 per acre provided in the resolution. As the matter stands, however, the government deed has no restriction in the sale price, and the court decided not to revert, really giving the company title to that which has been sold, and leaving that unsold "up in the air," to use the vernacular.

Whatever Congress does it will mean years of litigation and lack of realization by the company. It appears to the Argus that a sensible way to take care of this momentous question is to appoint a committee to confer with the O. & C. people and see if an agreement can not be reached so that these unsold lands can be partitioned, a portion to the government, a portion to the state school lands, and a portion to the company. In this manner the railway company, which has built feeders to many of their holdings, and this aside from their original contract—can realize, the government can have land open for settlement or sale, and the state school system can receive a benefit. It is a big problem, yet, one that should be settled once and for all. The Supreme Court will be digesting this case for the next hundred years unless some compromise is effected. The logical thing for the government to do is to settle the vexed question, and settle it at the next session.

Even if the company is to be penalized for not conforming to the spirit of the bargain—to sell to actual settlers at $2.50 per acre—it should not be penalized for building lines and making more valuable tracts that were outside of the territory where lines were to be built.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE

The big seven passenger touring car driven by Jack Forbis, of Dilley, turned turtle on the North Plains road, just outside the city limits, to the northwest, Sunday morning, about 9:30. Young Forbis, Mr. Kelly, of the U. S. survey, King Lytle, and the Misses Mary Sewell and Maude Griffith were in the machine, enroute to spend the day above Mountaineer. As Forbis was on the grade about a quarter of a mile north of the corner by the Sam Stevens place, he attempted to pass Charles Follett, who was driving a Ford. The big Forbis car was swung over so that the right wheels hung over the four foot embankment, and in a minute it had tumbled clear over. King Lytle jumped toward the fence, while Kelly made his exit on the left side. When the machine tumbled Forbis was caught under the chassis. Miss Sewell and Miss Griffith were both imprisoned under the car. Miss Sewell was uninjured, however, but Miss Griffith sustained a broken collar bone and other bruises. Kelly was badly shaken, and Forbis had his knee cut by the glass of the wind shield. It was a miracle that some one was not killed. Dr. Erwin dressed the wounds and reduced the fracture for Miss Griffith, and Dr. Tamieste looked after the injuries of young Kelly. The car was "wrecked" by the Wilkes Garage, and twenty-five or thirty dollars fixed up the damage. It appears to have been a queer case of thoughtless driving.

Chas. Follett states that the accident was due to Forbis' reckless driving, and that Forbis came near crowding the Ford in to the ditch at a bad point. As it was Follett was forced to leave the bank where it was none too comfortable. The recklessness of Forbis was due to a little over-enthusiasm in the powers of his car.

D. B. Cooley, of near Laurel, was in town Monday.
Mrs. Reed Alexander, of Portland, was the guest of Mrs. Wm. Will and Mrs. F. G. Mitchell, this week.
Mrs. Geo. Loeb, of Ridgefield, W. O., is a guest of her father, A. C. Archbold, and sister, Miss Bessie, and will remain until after the celebration.

Hurray and Hooray! The circuit court room, long an eyecore to the eye that loves beauty, is being kalsomined by W. H. Taylor. For a number of years the big room has been a nightmare. A man by the name of Kershaw gave it its last batch of kalsomine, and he gave it all the colors of Joseph's coat—and it is no wonder that Potiphar's wife became enraged at the Jewish Joseph if his combination of colors equalled the old court room. The innocent, after being haled before the judge on a false charge, would naturally doubt his own innocence, while the man who was guilty stood no show whatever. The color scheme would make him confess, so depressing was the combination.

Members of the Coffee Club, with a few intimate friends and neighbors, tendered a surprise to Mrs. J. C. Lamkin, Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being Mrs. Lamkin's sixty-eighth birthday. Mrs. Lamkin was the first president of the club when it was organized 21 years ago in March. The club presented Mrs. Lamkin with a cameo brooch in recognition of the esteem in which she is held. Mrs. C. J. Michelet sang several solos, with Mrs. F. J. Sewell accompanist, and the hostess delighted her visitors with several old-time piano selections, after which light refreshments were served.

A wedding of local interest was that of Geo. Jemison, formerly of Leisville, and Josie Carter Gray, which took place at Vancouver, Wash., last week. The wedding was the result of a romance in the hospital of Dr. E. H. Smith, where for over a year the bride was employed as a nurse. The groom was a frequent visitor at the hospital, and at one time was a patient. The acquaintance ripened into a love affair and culminated in marriage, the wedding being a surprise to their friends, none being in their confidence.

Two lads removed a flower tub from the home of Mrs. E. F. McNelly, last evening, and deposited it in the street. From there they went to another home and turned on the water, which ran for several hours before being discovered. The marshal is looking after the case and a watch will now be made until late in the evening. If similar depredations follow the officers are determined to make an example.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Robertson and children, of Paducah, Ky., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Johnson and F. L. Erwin, of near Hillsboro, and will make an extended visit. Mrs. Robertson is a sister of Mesdames Johnson and Erwin. They like Oregon very much and say that it exceeds any country through which they passed enroute.

Mrs. M. M. Imerson and little niece Hazel Atkins, of Caro, Mich., arrived here this week, and are guests of Mrs. Imerson's daughter, Mrs. C. C. Frick. They are making the trip West to see the Fair and visit relatives, and are much pleased with Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hinckley, recently married at North Yakima, Wash., are guests at the E. F. Sias home. After a visit to the Tillamook beach resorts, they will return to the home of the groom, at Hoven, S. D., to reside.

For sale: Duroc-Jersey pigs; some shoats, three brood sows, 2 of the registered Durocs, and all to litter soon.—Walter Zetzman, Schiefelin, or Cornelius, Route 1.
A belated marriage return was filed with Clerk Luce, Tuesday. It announced the wedding of Alfred M. Porter and Mrs. Lillian Hudson, at Gaston, May 29, 1915.

Judge Geo. R. Bagley opened circuit court at Tillamook, Tuesday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bagley and son, George, who returned Wednesday.

Dancing Friday night, Saturday afternoon and night, and Monday all day and evening, at the celebration grounds. Do not forget.

Miss Clara Zeisler, of Portland, visited the week end with Miss Gladys Shute, returning home Monday evening.
Mrs. Ruth Blair returned Monday evening from a week end visit with her son, H. T. Blair, and family, at Ryan Place.

Lady, with two girls, ages 3-6, wants position as housekeeper in respectable home.—Mrs. E. Ames, Hillsboro, Ore. 13tf

Bernard Osterman, of Centerville, was in the county seat Monday.
Mrs. W. F. Frenz and daughter, Kathryn, departed Tuesday for an extended stay at Seaside.

John Koehnke, one of the pioneers of the hills above Bloomington, was in town Monday.
J. B. Walker, of Greenburg, was a city caller yesterday morning.
George Lennon, of Vinelands, was in town Monday.

JAMES ALFRED TATMAN

James Alfred Tatman died in the Chealem Mountain district, Tuesday, June 22, 1915, aged 86 years. He was born in Kent County, Delaware, May 6, 1829, and was married to Miss Harriet Ives, at Butteville, Marion County, Oregon, the wife dying in 1901.

Mr. Tatman crossed the plains in a wagon train, in 1858, and first settled near Butteville. In 1893 he moved to the Chealem Mountain section. The following children survive: Mrs. W. D. Baker, Timber; Charles Tatman and Mrs. Marshall Baker, Laurel, and Mrs. Fred Withee, of Amity.

Mr. Tatman was highly respected by a large circle of friends who have known him in this county for over 20 years.

MRS. DANIEL B. ROE

Mrs. Alice Bacon Roe, wife of Daniel B. Roe, died in Hillsboro, at 9 p. m., June 30, 1915, at the home of Mrs. McDaniel, on First Street. Mrs. Roe was born in Nebraska July 2, 1863, and she was married to Mr. Roe at Winfield, Kan., April 1, 1883. They came West in the eighties, and have been in Washington County for over 26 years, settling near Bacons, and later moving to Mountaineer, where Mr. Roe has been engaged in the sawmill business. The husband and one son, Glen, both of Mountaineer, survive. Of her immediate family she leaves the following brothers and sisters: M. M. Bacon, Aberdeen, Wn.; Arthur A. Bacon, Mountaineer; Grant Bacon, Cornelius; Sherman Bacon, Forest Grove; Logan Bacon, Idaho; Mrs. Nettie Guthrie, Kansas, and Mrs. Mary Davis, of Vancouver, Wn.

She leaves a host of friends in North Washington County who deeply deplore her death and tender the bereaved family their sympathy.

FUEGY—WAEFLER

A pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Waefer Sr., West Union, Saturday, June 19, 1915, at 2:30 p. m., when their daughter Marie was united in marriage to Henry Fuegy, of Phillips. Miss Margaret Waefer, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and John Schneider officiated as groomsmen. Miss Leah Fuegy played the wedding march and sang, "I Love you Truly." Rev. Scheidt performed the ceremony.

After the wedding the guests were seated to a splendid wedding dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuegy will be at home in Phillips, after a short wedding trip to Seaside.

BROWN—SOUTHARD

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Southard, in Portland, Friday, June 25, 1915, when her daughter, Agnes, was united in marriage to Percy L. Brown, of Cornelius, Rev. Stinton, of the White Temple, officiating. The ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and mutual friends of the contracting parties. The presents were numerous and beautiful.

The bride is well known in Hillsboro, having resided here with her mother, last winter. The groom is a son of Mrs. Jennie L. Brown, of south of Cornelius, and a grandson of Mrs. Asenath Brown, of Hillsboro. He has been attending business college the past year.

STOP

At Johnson's Studio when you come to Hillsboro, and order some good pictures—such as will be a source of joy and comfort to look at in after years.

The Ladies of St. Matthews Church will serve their annual dinner as heretofore, at the celebration grounds, July 5. For a bountiful meal, at a moderate price, patronize them.

GASOLINE STOVE STARTS HOUSE FIRE

Residence of Mrs. Fred O'Connor, Formerly Rose Wilcox, Burns

WAS OCCUPIED BY THOS. WILLIAMS
Contents Burned, and Nothing Saved but Sewing Machine

The Mrs. Fred O'Connor residence, corner Washington and Fourth, burned last evening about 6 o'clock, the blaze starting from a gasoline explosion. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Williams were working around the stove, which was a new one. Mr. Williams was filling the tank when the gas exploded, setting fire to the structure. The flames spread rapidly, and the house was soon a mass of fire. Nothing was saved excepting a sewing machine, and the house, which is a box affair, was entirely ruined.

Mr. Williams had one of his hands badly blistered, and he lost a part of his eyebrows. His little daughter was slightly burned, but bears no ill effects of the accident.

This was one of the oldest frame structures in the city, and was bought by Mrs. O'Connor when she was known as Miss Rose Wilcox, and was teaching in the Hillsboro schools.

The house was covered by $600 insurance, carried by a company for which John Vanderwal was agent.

BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned up to one p. m., July 10, 1915, for re-shingling and re-flooring the Jackson school house, District No. 9. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Dated this June 22, 1915.

John T. Powell, who is hostler for the O. W. R. & N., at Umatilla, came down the last of the week for a short visit with the Slaterys. He says there will be a big grain crop up there this Fall and the harvest will crowd all the wheels of the many lines of railway.

Clerk Luce, in searching the records back a few years ago, ran across an illustrious name—that of W. H. Taft. Laura Taft had sued the man with a presidential name, and was given a decree because the spouse had served two years in the pen as an embezzler. His middle name was not Howard, however—just plain "Henry."

W. C. Gifford has returned from Southern Wisconsin, where he attended the bedside of his mother. She was improving when he left the East and there are hopes of her permanent recovery. Gifford says that conditions are good back in Wisconsin, and improvement in all lines is noted everywhere in the Mississippi Valley. He is glad to get back to Oregon, and is busy greeting his friends at the Hotel Washington.

The Library Board will soon have cards to issue for the receipt of books. Those outside the city limits may procure cards calling for loans of books for the fee of one dollar per year. The volumes are as yet limited, and this is done that the people who support the institution by taxation may have a chance as the books. The library board has not as yet made their wood purchase for heating, the bids being in the hands of Mr. Stevenson, who will personally inspect the fuel. Bids ranged from $8 to $8.25 per cord.
