JOHN LORSUNG GETS CENTERVILLE BRIDGE

Structure Means Construction of Over 9,000 Feet and Repair Span. Bids HAVE A VERY WIDE RANGE. County Court Awarded Contracts for Three Bridges, Last Friday

The county commissioners' court last Friday awarded contracts for the building of the Centerville bridge and repair of span, and two little bridges near the same place, above Banks. John Lorusung gets the Centerville structure, and he will put in 933 feet and repair the span. The girders, posts and caps must be galvanized, and several piling must be driven. Construction will begin on the south end first, and then the span will be repaired, so that the balance of the work is under way. The county, under the terms of the award, furnished about 29,000 feet of lumber, and the contractor furnishes nearly 110,000 feet. All nails, iron, coal, tar, etc. is supplied by Lorusung. The bids were as follows—

Centerville	John Lorusung	$1485
Chas. E. Potts	1612
J. W. Goodin	1853
Dixon & Goodman	2264
Burr Bridge No. 1	Chas. E. Potts	$80 00
R. F. Reasoner	87 11
Pete Lorusung	88 70
Burr Bridge No. 2	Pete Lorusung	$62 40
Ray Reasoner	74 11
Chas. E. Potts	80 00

The wide range of bids on the Centerville bridge is of interest, showing that competition on this class of work is more than keen. Between the lowest and highest bids there is a differential of $719. Mr. Lorusung beat his next nearest competitor by only $127.

For Sale—Gasoline drag saw, on skids, Four H. P. engine, good running condition. Can grind feed or run small machine with engine.—G. B. Hays, Laurel Oregon.

The State Road Commission has decided to pay the extra $3,000 for the completion of the Rex-Tigard road, that being the sum the contractors say was their understanding above the contract price. The commission will not pay, however, unless Mr. Bowby, who was deposed, says that this is in consonance with the agreement and representations at the time the contract was let. This is the stretch of road that Portland auto men made so much trouble over, and it was finally settled by the county making a small donation toward the work. It will be finished within a few weeks, just a little work being required.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stovewood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Skow, Hillsboro. Phone, City 462, or call at Tualatin Hotel.

"We shall take our time going overland to the fair," said John M. Wall, speaking of trip by himself, Mr. Talbot, August Tews and their families. "We shall not burn the roads up, and shall make it by easy stages. When we get tired we will stop, camp, and eat and sleep, and when rested, we will pack our loads and start out. We should make it down in twelve or fifteen days, but do not care if it shall take more."

Here you are Mr. Farmer—7 and 8 per cent. money—see me, E. L. Perkins, Room 1 Commercial Bldg., Hillsboro, Ore.

L. C. Garrigus, the Portland attorney who was here on the Ellis insanity examinations, was struck by an auto, last Thursday, in Portland, and rendered unconscious. He was not seriously injured, however, although it was a close call. He is aged 70 years, and at first it was thought that the injury would be fatal.

Good Real Estate security offered for loans at 7 and 8 per cent. Call and look applications over. E. L. Perkins, Hillsboro, Oregon.

David DeGross, who is running one of the county road rollers, arrived in last week and went to work on the Hillsboro streets, Stokesbury, who has been here since work started, pulled his engine out to Cornelius, where he will be joined by DeGross as soon as all is completed here.

MARTIN AND M'COY GET THEIR PAROLES

Former Was in for 1 to 10 Years For Robbing McCormick Store

LATTER FOR SHOOTING AGED MAN

Board of Pardons Made Recommendation Governor Friday Last

Governor Withycombe has granted pardons to C. H. Martin, who was sentenced to an indeterminate imprisonment of from one to ten years for robbing the McCormick store in this city, in the Spring of 1913, the parole not to be effective until the prisoner has secured a place to work.

Martin robbed the store on Saturday night, and was caught in a Portland second-hand jewelry store the next day, and held on suspicion. He pleaded guilty.

Another parole was that issued to Earl McCoy, who was sentenced July 24, for shooting Fred Woodcock, on Gales Creek, June 24, 1914, for the purpose of robbery. The same condition of work is reserved in the McCoy parole.

McCoy has been a model prisoner, and will leave the institution when his year is up, if not before.

Ten other pardons from various parts of the state were also authorized.

McCoy pleaded guilty to the charge against him, after maintaining for several days that he was innocent. He gave as his reason the fact that he wanted Fourth of July money.

For Sale: Auto in first-class condition. Will sell very reasonable, or trade for a good, young team, harness and light wagon. Team must be 1000 to 1200 each. Call 16x, Forest Grove—North Seventh Street. 5tf

Ray Reasoner went out to the Tongue ranch, near Mountaindale, Monday, to put in a private bridge. He was accompanied by Andrew Miller, Geo. Roy and C. Blaser, the latter going along to do the heavy work in engineering, the fishing and cooking, and to keep the remainder of the party in good spirits.

Found: Lady's purse containing sum of money, on celebration grounds, July 5. Owner can have same by describing purse and contents, and paying costs of advertising.—John Walters, 21 miles northeast of Hillsboro, on E. E. Lyon place. Phone Farmer 282.

That Hillsboro has people who are honest is attested by the fact that in years past the Argus has contained many notices of money found. In this issue is another notice, and the owner can no doubt prove property, for it is a purse, containing a stipulated sum of money.

While Dr. Guy Via and wife were driving near Buxton, Saturday, their horse ran away and overturned the buggy, throwing both husband and wife out with much violence. The doctor was not injured beyond a few scratches, but Mrs. Via suffered a fractured leg. She was brought to Forest Grove the same evening, and Dr. Kauffman reduced the fracture. Mrs. Via is a daughter of Alfred Heywood, of near Oak Park.

E. H. Northrup lost his house by fire July 3, and by July 9 the claim had been adjusted by John Vanderwal, and the check for the fire loss paid over to the policy holder. Mr. and Mrs. Northrup were away from home, and no one was present except the children, when the fire took place. The fire caught on the roof, and was probably from a defective flue, or from a spark falling on top. The residence and practically all the contents were lost. The insurance amounted to $750.

Gus Steves, of near Elmonica, is trying out Summer irrigation on his ranch, and he expects to irrigate about ten acres this year, and a great deal more next season. He is pumping water out of a little stream, and is figuring on having his pump worked by an electric motor if he can handle it cheaper than with gasoline engine. Summer irrigation will soon be an important proposition in the Willamette Valley. The latter part of July and August are generally very dry, and irrigation will mean larger crops of vegetables. This county has many streams where Summer irrigation can be made a success, and there are already dozens of plants along the Tualatin and Dairy.

MRS. ALLEN FRAZER PASSED SATURDAY

Had Been a County Charge About a Year, After Being in Asylum

HER HUSBAND WAS A DESERTER

Woman Died in Multnomah County Hospital, Buried Here

Mrs. Hatie Frazer, aged 42 years, died in the Multnomah County Hospital last Saturday. She had been a county charge from this county for about a year. She was committed to the asylum at Salem, May 2, 1914, and was there about sixty days, when the authorities notified Judge Reasoner that she was due for a discharge, her mind having cleared. Mrs. Frazer first came into prominence here when her husband, Allen Frazer, a cement worker, suddenly disappeared, in February, 1914. Frazer told his wife he was going to Portland, and he never returned to Hillsboro. He wrote no letters, and neither did he send word to the wife.

Mrs. Frazer brooded until she became demented and was sent to the asylum. After a couple of months she was removed from the state institution and sent to the county hospital, in Portland, Washington County being compelled to pay for her keep.

Frazer turned up in Portland a year ago Rose Festival time, went to Salem to see his wife, made arrangements to take her away from the asylum, and then as suddenly disappeared without doing as he agreed.

No one knows his whereabouts at present. The body of the wife was shipped to Hillsboro, Monday, and the remains were laid to rest in the county poor cemetery.

BOWER—LEIGHTON

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Leighton, northeast of Meridian, Wednesday evening, June 30, the wedding of their daughter, Iva Floy, to Fred D. Bower, of Prairie, Idaho, took place in the presence of a large party of relatives and friends, Rev. Wm. Luscombe officiating.

The bride was charmingly attired in white crepe de chine trimmed with Oriental lace. Miss Mabel Leighton was bridesmaid, and Miss Myrtle Beasley acted as maid of honor. Denver Hendrick was best man. Florence Walt and Eva Schmelzer were the little flower girls, and Miss Lulu Adams played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white rambler roses.

During the past year the bride was one of the successful teachers at the Blue Valley school and she is held in high esteem by a large circle of friends. The groom is an industrious and prosperous young rancher of Prairie, Idaho, and formerly lived near Hillsboro, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bower. The newly weds will make their home in Prairie.

MRS. JOSEPH GALBREATH

Sherwood Ore., July 10—Special—Rachel Louisa Galbreath, who died at the family home near Sherwood, July 3, was born in Washington County January 5, 1855. She was the daughter of Erwin Cummins, who crossed the plains in 1852 and settled in the Tualatin Valley. On November 25, 1877, she was married to Joseph Galbreath, who together with four sons, Arthur, Don O. John and Raymond, and five daughters, Mrs. F. L. West, Mrs. A. Fishback, Mrs. H. Foulkes and Anna and Della Galbreath, survive her. She is also survived by a sister, Mrs. A. Fuller, of Tualatin.

Mrs. Galbreath was born, reared and married and died on the old Cummins homestead. Her birthplace was a rude log cabin, but while a small child her father erected what was at that time called one of the finest farmhouses in the entire country. The old house still stands on the same site and is used as a shop. The funeral services were held at the Methodist Episcopal church at Tualatin last Sunday, Rev. Mr. Blake officiating. Interment was in Wynona Cemetery.

D. E. Blackburn and Joseph Wolfersperger spent Sunday over at the Tillamook beaches.
