chards & Pringle were here eday night, and played to a sized audience at the Crest theatre. The company has usual corps of good singers, ecians, comedians, etc., and last none of its old-time th.

W. C. Jackson, of North Plains, was in the city Tuesday. He says that he had no insurance on his barn and hay which burned last Tuesday night. The barn stood several hundred feet away from the other structures, and contained between 40 and 50 tons of hay, some farm implements and harrows, discs, etc. The threshers had pulled in just a short time before evening, and no one had been around the barn for several days and the origin of the fire is somewhat a mystery. The threshers were the first to see the blaze, and when discovered the flames had swept the entire length of the structure, and within five minutes there was not a shingle left on the roof. W. C. says he knows of no one who would be devilish enough to be guilty of incendiarism, when this was suggested to him. No livestock was kept in the barn.

E. V. Kinsey, of Colechester, Ill., visited with his cousin, Mrs. Ruth Blair, last Friday. The visitor is an old railroad man, having been in the employ of the Hill lines for 30 years. He is also interested in the manufacture of a fruit tree sprayer, made at Galva, Ill., some of which have found their way to the coast. Mr. Kinsey has been traveling through California, visiting the Fairs, etc., but he says he does not like that state as well as Oregon. He is pleased with Oregon, Washington County and Portland. He goes from here to Alaska, before returning East.

Richard Hoyt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hoyt, went to the Good Samaritan Hospital, last week, and is undergoing surgical treatment to make straight a foot that he injured when he was very small. It will take some weeks for the operation, one that has been successful in 90 per cent. of the cases tried. The treatment is succeeding nicely so far.

A teamster by the name of Maybee, hauling from the Sipprell mill, was thrown from his loaded wagon, just south of the Tualatin bridge, the other day, and suffered a broken collar bone, two badly twisted ribs, and a severely torn ear. Dr. Smith straightened him out, but he will not be teaming for some time.

A. G. Hoffman, the Forest Grove merchant, was given first prize at the Buyers' Banquet, in Portland, last evening. Mr. Hoffman was given two minutes for the best essay on the town in which a buyer lives, and his showing was so good that he received first honors.

Complaint from all quarters of the county reach the county seat, advising that the hop louse is in his prime in the hop districts. Many fields, where spraying has not been indulged will have a more than short crop. Those who have assiduously sprayed, tell a different story.

The 10-year-old son of G. B. Johnson, of near Scholls, ran a pitchfork tine in his foot one day last week, and blood poison resulted. Dr. E. H. Smith attended the infection.

The little son of E. P. Cornelius and wife, of above North Plains, has been taking treatment for blood poison in one of his feet, Dr. E. H. Smith attending the trouble.
