

SOCIAL CIRCLE
WE TWO, PLAYS
The play "We Two" will be witnessed by in November.
LOCAL EVENTS DRAMATIZED
The play "We Two" is a religious dramatic play with interest.
The Circle of the Congregational Church is going to give the entertainments early in November. One will be a play—"Naaman," the other which has been dramatically by Prinze Haider, the Syrian; the third will be a spectacular play, "The Carnival Circus," also produced by the church.
The healing of the Biblical "Naaman" from his trichinosis, after an invasion into the Land through his healing from the old world to the religion of the Living God of Israel. The contrast between these two has been brought out strongly and cleverly in the "Carnival of Damascus," a comedy and shows customs of Syrian life that amuse to the mind of the Syrian school scenes. Arabic are to be featured in these entertainments.

Interest already taken by people in these entertainments when they are produced.

PTOMAINED CORN ENDS LIFE OF MRS. FOORD

Wife of B. E. Foord Died Wednesday, After Suffering Two Days, ATE BUT LITTLE OF THE VEGETABLE
Forty-Five out of Forty-Seven Chickens Killed by Same Agency
Rose Foord, wife of B. E. Foord, died at her home in West Hillsboro, at 11:40 yesterday, death resulting from ptomaine poisoning. Mrs. Foord opened a jar of corn, Sunday, and cooked some of it for the Sunday meal. She noticed that it did not taste right, and ate but sparingly of it. The rest of the contents of the jar, with some other corn which was spoiled, was sent to the Lyon home near the Crescent Theatre, for the chickens. This was fed to the poultry with the result that 45 out of 47 in the flock died Monday morning. Some of the chickens had but two grains of the corn in their crops.
Mrs. Foord was not taken seriously ill until Tuesday morning, when three physicians were summoned—Drs. F. A. Bailey, Ira Barrett and Erwin. Antidotes were given, but to no avail. Mrs. Foord grew gradually worse until death ended her sufferings. The corn was canned by Mrs. Foord this season. Neither the husband nor the son ate any of the preparation.
Mrs. Foord was a daughter of the late Mrs. Sierra Lyon, well known here. She was aged 38 years, and had lived here many years. She leaves the husband and one child—a son of about 7 years. Of her immediate family she leaves two brothers and two sisters—E. E. Lyon, of Yamhill; Miss Rhoda Lyon, of Hillsboro; Mrs. Stella Danner, of Portland; and Fred A. Lyon, of Yamhill.
Mrs. Foord was first married to a Mr. Brown, but was married later to Mr. Foord, Sept. 25, 1907.
The husband is well known here, being a son of Mrs. Alice Foord, of East Hillsboro. He has been working in Portland for several weeks.

MRS. HENRY HARRINGTON

Mrs. Henry Harrington died at her home on North Second Street, this city, October 19, 1915, after an extended illness from heart trouble. Her maiden name was Mary Almira Worsley, and she was born in LaSalle Co., Ill., Sept. 5, 1849. She was married to Henry Harrington Dec. 5, 1867. They lived in Nebraska for a number of years prior to coming to Oregon in the Spring of 1903.
Her husband and the following children survive: Mrs. Julia Sockman, Forest Grove; Henry Harrington, Benedict, Neb.; Fay Harrington, Hillsboro; Mrs. Minnie Lewis, of Alberta, Canada; Mrs. Grace Barber, wife of Clarence Barber, Hillsboro; Mrs. Genevieve Reed, of York, Neb.; Mrs. Bessie Ireland, wife of Lester Ireland, of North Plains; Mrs. Jessie Walker, wife of Raleigh Walker, Forest Grove; Miss Angie, Joseph and Alfred, at home.
Mrs. Harrington was a kind and indulgent mother, and had a host of friends here, at Forest Grove, and in the Schiefelin district, where they resided after first coming to Oregon. They moved into Hillsboro four years ago.
Of her immediate family she is survived by one sister, two brothers, 21 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.
The funeral will be held Saturday or Sunday, as soon as a son arrives from Nebraska.

ADAMS-DARR

Loring K. Adams and Mrs. K. F. Darr, of Portland, were united in marriage at San Francisco last week. Mr. Adams was formerly in business here, a law partner of Hon. W. N. Barrett. He went from here to Alaska, and later opened a law office in the Chamber of Commerce Building, Portland. He and a Mr. Sinnott were associated in practice, and the bride was their stenographer. A few days prior to the wedding the stenographer applied to Mr. Sinnott for a leave of absence, and after consulting with Mr. Adams, it was granted. She explained that she wished to visit the exposition at San Francisco. A short time after her departure Mr. Adams blandly remarked that he believed he would go down to the Fair for a few days. The marriage followed, and Mr. Sinnott now believes that it was prearranged.
The groom is a grand-nephew of Supreme Judge T. A. McBride, and he is known as one of the best road lawyers in the state. His many Hillsboro friends tender congratulations.
Peter Jacobsen, of West Union, was in town yesterday.

BASELINE ROAD IS IN STATE HIGHWAY

Discovery is Made at Salem That May Mean Much to This County
STATE BOARD MAY COME THROUGH
County May Get Ten Thousand Dollars Annually for Road Permanency
County Judge Reasoner, J. P. Hurley, J. A. Thornburg, Rev. Holmes and Commissioner Rodell Matteson were at Salem, Monday, to confer with the state board on the possibility of the county receiving some state highway money for road improvement here. While there it was discovered that the road from Beaverton, at the Multnomah boundary, clear through to the county line above Gaston, had been declared a state highway, and comes within the purview of the statute making appropriations legal for this particular piece of road. The state board, however, is not willing to grant any funds unless the work is permanent in the way of hard surface road.
It is now more than likely that the state will grant $10,000 for the hard surfacing of the road between Hillsboro and Forest Grove, provided the county shows any inclination to make a levy to help the fund toward that consummation. The court appears to be favorable to putting on a mill of a tax in the budget, and this would make approximately twenty thousand dollars, which with the appropriation from the state commission, would make $30,000. This would nearly pay the present road and build the stretch between here and the Grove, and with a slight expenditure the two and half miles of a stretch between Witch Hazel and Beaverton could be macadamized and thus furnish a main artery through the county, bituminous and macadam.
As the county must pay annually six thousand to the state on the highway fund, it would mean a business opportunity to pass the mill budget. Main arteries must first be built, and this could easily be completed next year.
The fact that this Baseline road, via Beaverton, through to Yamhill, is a state highway, is news to many—and was news to the state commission. With a small levy, as the above, and with state help, it would be but a matter of a few years until the entire stretch of road would be hard surface clear from the Portland mountain to Gaston.
State Engineer Cantine will be here soon, to look over the situation and report back to the state board.
The gentlemen went to Salem to feel out the situation when Governor Withycombe called the board and gave them an official hearing.

Mrs. Wm. Williams, residing on Gales Creek, is reported to have killed a fine buck the other day. The venison ran into the meadow lot near the Williams house, and Mrs. Williams brought him down with one shot. This is the first report this year crediting a womp with a buck. A few years ago, the late Mrs. D. B. Roe, of near Mountaineer, killed and dressed a venison, and had a steak on the grill when her husband arrived home.
The water supply was turned off from Hillsboro and all points south of Gaston, last Thursday, through the good offices of a farmer, who thought he was doing the company a favor. Gophers had taken his field on the bottom lands and he concluded a good way to get rid of them was to drown them out. He opened the clean-out valve, in a depression in the line, thinking to get the gophers and at the same time to clean out the tap he cleaned out the tap all-right, all-right, but it diverted the entire water supply to his field. Many a gopher met his "Water-Log," but many housewives visited anathemas on the innocent head of the offender. Supt. Easter went the entire length of the system to find the break, and was turning home discouraged when he happened to notice the farmer working down in his field. He investigated and found the cause without further search.
