One night last week the Tualatin-Oregon Electric train, enroute from Portland to Tualatin, struck a man on the trestle between Bonita and Tualatin stations, mangleing the body so that identification would have been almost impossible. The trestle is on a curve, and Motorman Peck did not see the man, as the headlight did not throw a light on the place where the man must have been standing. The train was stopped a few feet past where the man laid, as his body had turned an air-cock underneath the car's frame. He thought it might have been a rock, and proceeded to Tualatin. On the return trip, however, he discovered the body. There was nothing by which to identify the man except a scrap of French newspaper, containing a French stamp and the address of a woman in France, which was turned over to the French consul, at Portland, by Coroner Barrett. No blame can be attached to the train crew, of which Conductor Morrison was in charge. It is thought that the dead man was a deserter of a French ship which was in port ready to take out a cargo from Portland.

For rent. Two farms—one of 160 acres, about 135 acres in cultivation, one mile from Forest Grove, barn room for about 20 cows and 6 horses, city water, cash rent, and other, 142 acres, 14 miles south of Reedville, about one-half in cultivation, barn room for 10 head cows and 4 horses, good well, and fair house; tenant can work out greater part of ranch, cash rent.—C. J. Birdsell, 512 Seventh Street, Hillsboro, Phone City 326.

Clyde Lincoln and family have returned from their Inverness, Mont., ranch, and will remain on the Lincoln place, at Glencoe, until next Fall, when they will return in time to put in a crop in the plateau region. They have leased their place up there for the coming year. Mr. Lincoln went to Portland last week and bought a big team for the Glencoe place. He says that wheat on his Montana place went 22 bushels to the acre, even after it had been flattened by a hail storm. The yield around him went from 20 to 52 bushels per acre—pretty good for that section of the state.

C. F. Heese, of Scholis, was in the city Saturday. C. F. has shaved off his moustache, a facial adornment that he has prospered and flourished for a good many years. Dr. Erwin reminded him that the change made him look "distangy," and C. F. thereupon concluded to let the thing grow from this on.

Johanna York has sued the Southern Pacific for $25,000 for the loss of her husband, a railway laborer, who was killed on the Tillamook line, last March, while an engine was making a flying switch. The widow has two children to support.

Raymond Ewert, 28, of Portland, and Miss Gladys Burgett, 18, of Cornelius, were married at Vancouver, last Thursday, Nov. 11, 1915.

W. E. Parkin, aged 36, and Mrs. Julia Harris, Forest Grove, were married at Vancouver, Wn., Nov. 11, 1915.

Harry Smith, aged 42, of Hillsboro, and Mrs. Emma Seward, of Portland, were married at Vancouver, Wash., Nov. 11, 1915.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Pomeroy, of Leisville, visited with relatives in Portland, Saturday.

John M. Brown, of above Banks, was in town Friday.

LOWBER NOW MOVING IN WILLAMETTE VALLEY

Columbia River Also Doing Some Heavy Shipping These Days

PORTLAND WITHHOLDS INVESTMENT Incidents Tending to Show Trend for Better Times

The following digest of Oregon activities point to better times ahead:

Baker—Contract for 3 mile irrigation ditch let. Prospects are bright for the opening of the old Conner Creek mine. Two sawmills here will expend $18,500 on four drykilns.

North Bend—Guy Lombard, Portland capitalist, planning electric line to Sunset Bay.

Siuslaw salmon are being shipped to all parts of Pacific Coast.

Toledo—Lumber steamer, Fi-field, left here with 550,000 feet of lumber, and steamer Bandon is expected in a few days for a similar load.

Lime industry of Southern Oregon boosted by shipment of 110 tons to Lane County for fertilizer.

Salem—Mott farm of 64 acres, south of the city, to be planted to peppermint.

Falls City planning to extend water supply.

Pendleton—Macadam road to Washington state line to be saved from destruction by being hard-surfaced with Warrenite.

Lebanon—Big steel bridge going up.

Lane County builds another steel bridge.

Myrtle Point to have new post office building.

Public work adds $3500 a week to Pendleton payrolls.

Burns has promises of an O. W. R. & N. railroad connection at an early day.

Astoria—15,408,000 feet lumber shipped from lower Columbia sawmills in October.

Central Oregon railroad construction may have to be financed in San Francisco. Portland capitalists are not responding with $1,000,000 capital to build the connecting railroads. Mr. Strahorn offers to raise from four to six millions in the East.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

One of the most enjoyable events of the week was the charming dinner given Thursday evening, Oct. 28, by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Olds, of 496 Tacoma Ave., the event being their paper wedding anniversary. Mrs. Olds was formerly Miss Lauretta Walker, of Washington County. Those who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Olds' hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Myers; Misses Emily and Florence McElroy; Margaret Barnes, Gladys Myers; Will B. Walker, brother of Mrs. Olds. The splendid Southern dinner Mrs. Olds served was praised by all. The evening was spent in music, games and conversation. Mrs. Vanonsdal, Mr. and Mrs. Will Anderson and Mrs. Thos. Harris called later in the evening.

The guests departed at a late hour wishing host and hostess good luck and happiness and that they might live to pass their diamond wedding in Sellwood, where they have won the love and friendship of all who chance to know them.—Sellwood Bee.

Clarence Young, superintendent of the county farm, was in town Saturday. He reports fifteen inmates at the county institution.

Money to loan on first-class farm security.—Washington County Abstract & Title Company; by E. J. McAlear, Manager. 41f

C. F. Grabel, of Barview, came over the last of the week for a few days stay. He says that Barview had quite a scare when the recent high tide struck that beach. Several houses were moved just in time to escape being wrecked.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stovewood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me.—Carl Show, Hillsboro. Phone, City 462, or call at Tualatin Hotel.

J. M. Goar, who is traveling over the Northwest, was home over Sunday. He says that at a recent trip to Raymond, Wash., he found that rough lumber, or common lumber, as he terms it, had increased $2.50 per thousand, over that way, but says that mill wages have not advanced accordingly.

The gasoline motor running between here and Timber has been making so good a showing that it most likely will be retained on the run. It has proven a great convenience for North Washington County and if it can be maintained until Spring, with a break-even, next Summer it should pay a good dividend each month.

Clark Wood, of the Weston Leader, Umatilla County, has bought a new plug hat, the occasion following the sale of a hundred thousand bushels of wheat around 60 cents, and the consequent payment of subscription bills. Col. Wood in a plug hat—Jerusalem, but isn't that enough to make Fred Boyd, of the Athena Press, weep with joy?

The oldtime Oregonian, basing his ideas on history, appears to think that we shall have a trife colder winter than usual, this year. He points to the heavy foliage on the trees, which this season has been much more heavy than usual. He says the Indians always held that a cold winter followed, and says that this legend generally came true. The court yard this Fall has been littered with leaves about a third heavier than in former years.

E. Klinger, of Tualatin, who has been in charge of the Good-in quarry, since last April, was up Monday, conferring with the county court. Mr. Klinger has turned out 12,074 yards of rock, and it has cost the county, loaded on cars, 80 cents per yard. As it takes about 1700 yards of rock for a mile of macadam the way it is laid here, the quarry has furnished enough material for about 7 miles of rock roads. It will operate a few days yet, to wind up a few orders for low prices.

J. H. Dobbins, conductor on the Southern Pacific, was in the city Saturday, coming here to turn his excursion train, which brought the Salem football team to Forest Grove, to play Pacific. J. H. remained here several hours, and this was his longest visit to Hillsboro for many years. He says he enjoyed his visit, and thinks Hillsboro more than favorably compares with any town of its population in the Willamette Valley. He is running on the main line, on the East Side, the greater part of his time.

YOUNG TIGARD FARMER SUICIDES IN PORTLAND

Shoots Himself in an Oregon Electric Car, at Hood and Porter

LEAVES NOTE FOR A YOUNG LADY

Scads the Girl From Oregon City Best Wishes and Pulls Trigger

Roy Hill, a young Tigard farmer, shot himself in an Oregon Electric car, Nov. 2, 1915, while the car was sidetracked at Hood and Porter Streets, Portland. The body was not discovered until last Saturday, when a car repairer went to the place to repair the coach. When he entered the vestibule he found Hill with a bullet hole through the forehead. The body was removed to the morgue, and a letter was found on the remains, addressed to Miss Gertrude Smith, of Oregon City. The missive had been dated as Oct. 23, but that date had been scratched partially out and Nov. 2 substituted. The letter shows that young Hill had received a letter from Miss Smith, but its contents do not show why suicide was his last act in life. The letter: "Dear Gertrude: I received your letter and was glad to hear that you are all right. Truly may the Lord bless you. I have done wrong and can't get right again. Remember what I told you. I loved and could have made good for you, but it is too late, and do your best for you are a good little girl. Goodbye with luck. I die. "Your Only Roy Hill."

Walter Zetzman, of North Tualatin Plains, was in town Saturday.

L. M. Heese, of Scholis, was greeting friends here the last of the week.

Sam Moon, of Centerville, was in town Saturday, on business at the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sahnaw, of Phillips, were in the city Saturday.

Attorney H. T. Bagley was in Roseburg last week, trying a case in the Douglas County circuit court.

A. C. Shute and Wm. Nelson bagged the limit of ducks down on the Columbia, Sunday, and all were mallards, with the exception of four. It was the best day's hunting of the season so far.

For the first time this Fall the rains have been heavy enough to thoroughly soak the ground for effective plowing. While a great acreage has been turned over when the earth was too dry, rain was needed badly.
