

MAST, LL, HANGS SELF IN HIS BARN

A Few Miles Above Mount Sundale, on 40-acre Ranch

IDENT OVER ALL HEALTH

He Help Him to Barn, Son Her Away, and Then Relieved

Mast, aged about 48 years, of Switzerland, hanged himself in his barn, Monday af-noon, at his ranch above Sundale, on East Dairy road. He has been crippled some time and was despondent over his condition. He had his wife some time before he might as well be dead remain in his condition.
One o'clock he hanged his self to help him to the barn to get some lumber and to get some strips. When reached the barn he told go and feed the hogs and come after him in about a hour. When Mrs. Mast, herself is crippled, went to see, she found her husband hanged from a ladder. Mast then climbed up the ladder and threw himself off into his left arm was hanging from the rungs, and life flicked when the wife reach-was a well educated man, owned 40 acres on Dairy road. He had five acres and had a small mortgage on the place. He leaves a wife who was formerly a Schaefer, and several children.

Mrs. Mast went to the barn, but held no inquest.
Mast has only the equity place, and she will come the provisions of the pension law, if the court cannot—and it hardly support her.

SURPRISE

A beautiful surprise was tendered Mrs. Chas. Vanderbilt and her handsome new home, on Seventh and Fifth, last Friday evening, by the number of friends, relatives, and neighbors, who gathered in with the baskets to spend the evening. After by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis recitations and music by Miss Jones, Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Vanderbilt were opened and all partook of a bountiful luncheon, a pleasant evening the departed wishing their hosts every happiness in their new home.

MILITARY CONCERT

The Onco Military Band gave at the Pres. Church, last Friday evening, and the members were splendidly entertained. The band had a casualty, and the program was successful. Onco has the best musical organization on the coast, considering the number of members, and it excels in the execution of pieces of ten thousand.
The director, is to be congratulated upon his success in leading the band to its present position. The program consisted of "Danube Waves," "O. A. Olsen; Sacred Music," "Love and Loyalty," "Solo," "Soubert's Serenade," "Hansen, Mrs. Minnie; Accompanist; solo, O. A.
Love and Roses," band;
solo, "Meditation,"
"Miss Kate Egelman, solo; overture, "Sky Pierch," "National Emblem."

Leonard Brown departed for an extended visit and Mrs. J. H. Helms, over, Wash.

Mrs. C. J. Michelet returned to Portland, where she has opened a law office in the Chamber of Commerce building.

old took second money in Francisco race for horses last week.
The Evangelical will give a cooked-food the Hillsboro National Annex, on Wednesday.
Mrs. Ojson returned from the mountains, the week. While at Spokan, she was the guest of Mrs.
Ojson, well known here a few days ago.

field, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 1.

A former client of Judge Bagley, in looking for a friend, the other day, accidentally made his way into the circuit court room from the rear. Forgetting that the judge was on the bench, and there was a lawsuit of some kind in session the visitor hailed the court with the remark, "Hello, George, what in thunder are you doing here?" Realizing his error he backed out before the court came back to himself, and made his getaway. Later he called on the judge and apologized amply, saying that it never occurred to him that court was in session. The jurors and court attendants had quite a smile at the expense of the Court.

Cornelius, Or., R. 2. 35

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Toelle celebrated their golden wedding at their home at Phillips, last Sunday, and a large number of friends and relatives were in attendance at a big dinner. Their anniversary was on last Thursday. Their children were all present, and Messrs. and Messames Emil and H. A. Kurati, of Hillsboro, were guests. Their children are Fred, of Phillips, John and Herman, of Portland; Ferdinand, Wm. and Albert, of Phillips; Mrs. J. C. Schulerich, Banks, and Mrs. W. H. Joos, of North Plains.

Bethany Grange will give an all-night dance Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 21. Good music, good management and a good swell.
Everybody come and help swell the crowd and have a good time.
Tickets, including supper, $1.00.

JUDGE GEO. R. BAGLEY PRESENTED WITH FLAG

Oregon Society, Sons of the American Revolution the Donors

AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY IN COURT

Judge Bagley's Response to Presentation Was Supremely Classic

The Oregon Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, Tuesday, presented Judge Geo.
R. Bagley with a silken flag.
Hon. H. L. Bates, of Pacific University, made the presentation, saying in part:
"Your Honor, representing the Oregon Society of the S. A. R., I have the honor of presenting to this court this U. S. flag with the hope and wish that it may be used whenever a person from some foreign power comes before you to take the oath of allegiance to become a citizen of this government. We are glad to present this—not that we simply believe it to be the most beautiful flag the sun shines on —but because it is a symbol of what Americans most earnestly believe and hold most dear—a symbol of the inestimable privileges and opportunities which American citizenship has to offer.
We would not ask the stranger who enters our gates and becomes one of us to altogether forget the old homelands and the land which gave them birth—but we would have this flag brought to his attention when he takes his oath of allegiance, as symbolic of his new home and adopted country—a symbol of devotion, indicating a great human brotherhood and a nationalism of obligation. We present this in the hopes it will be of service to you in the important task which confronts you when you by your decree Ameri-canize those who seek our citizenship and its sacred responsibility."

Capt. Silva, of Portland, then told how the society was presenting flags to the Oregon courts, and that this was the second to be honored. Capt.
Silva was one of the guards over Jefferson Davis, at Fort Monroe.
Attorney Chas. J. Schnabel, one of the society, then made a short address, closing with:
"In these days when there is so much talk about hyphenated Americans and their divided allegiance between the country of their adoption and the country of their nativity, it seems to me there is a peculiar significance and importance in this movement of the Sons of the American Revolution to present these flags to the various Courts of record in the state. It is to be regretted that this custom, so far, is confined to Oregon. It could be a fortunate thing if it could be extended to other states of the Union.

A man comes here to be naturalized often unable to speak the language of his adopted country and seeking admission more often than otherwise for purely commercial or selfish reason and advantages—and in the perfunctory ceremony of signing formal documents he loses the actual significance of the transfer of his allegiance. The use of this flag will, in my judgment, convey a more impressive lesson of the actual principle and solemnity involved in his qualifications as a citizen of this country, than in any other way. Men are impressed by physical symbols, and it will convey to the mind of an applicant much more forcibly than the language of the oath he is obliged to take, which often in his comprehension of the words used, he does not fully understand that he is actually in a ceremony which means what that oath says, in registering himself under the banner of this great republic of America. The flag is a symbol of patriotism and when a man swears under the folds of the stars and stripes, that he will recognize in his duties and obligations as a citizen no other country than this, it conveys a lesson and carries with it an admonition of duty and responsibility that the absence of the American flag in ceremonies of this character heretofore has failed to convey. In all of my life time I have never known of a patriotic movement that has appealed so strongly to me as really meaning something other than mere empty sentiment or ceremony than this proposition to use the American flag in connection with the administration of the oath in naturalization proceedings."

Attorney Whitfield, of Portland, followed with a short and able address. Hon. W. N. Barrett, Mayor, and Nestor of the Hillsboro bar, in behalf of the bar of the county, delivered a patriotic response to Mr. Bates' presentation, saying that the naturalized citizenship of the county stood among the best elements in all walks of life and that he knew that fealty beat in every heart of our naturalized

SHERIFF REEVES LANDS MAN WANTED IN GEORGIA

Whether Prisoner is Wanted as Accessory or Principal Not Known

SAYS NAME IS T. A. BURCHFIELD

But Admits Name is Bishop—Caught at Gaston Yesterday

Sheriff Reeves went to Gaston yesterday and placed under arrest a man who passes by the name of T. A. Burchfield. Reeves thinks the man's name is Bishop, but will hold him for the authorities at Dalton, Georgia, for if he is Burchfield then he is wanted as accessory after the fact in a Georgia murder case, and if he is Bishop then he is wanted as principal in the crime.
The prisoner worked a few days for the Scanlan Mill, and he was located by a money order drawn at Dalton, Georgia, to Burchfield. He claims his name is Burchfield, but inadvertently told Sheriff Reeves, before arrest, that his name was Bishop.
This he undertook to correct. He was asked, later, when he had used the name of Bishop, and he stammered at this and said—"Well,——" and after a short hesitation, said, "I know nothing about any Bishop." Later the sheriff found a letter, just started, in his grip, addressed to M.
V. Bishop. The prisoner has a friend at Spring Place, Georgia.
He will be held until the Georgia authorities arrive, or until a warrant reaches this city.
Burchfield, or Bishop, had a 38 Colts special in his grip, and it was loaded to the guards. A watch taken away from him looks as though it has been struck a hard blow with the point of a knife. He is noncommunicative and will admit nothing excepting that he was at one time in Georgia.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Frank Orth, at their Leading nerve specialists of New York and Chicago have been investigating the effects of eyestrain on the human system and have found it to be the cause of most headaches, weak and watery eyes, conjunctivitis, iritis and many reflex nervous disorders. Dr. Lowe, a leading eye specialist of Portland, claims that he has been proving these statements in his practice for the past 22 years having had some very remarkable results in relieving eyestrain. The doctor will make his regular trip to Hillsboro, on Saturday, Nov. 20, stopping at Hotel Washington, where everybody is welcome to call and talk over their eye trou-
