

CRANDALL AND WIFE
THE GOLDEN WEDDING

Estimable People Celebrate Fifty Years of Marriage
SEVERAL HUNDRED PAY RESPECTS

Mr. and Mrs. Rodolph Crandall celebrated their golden wedding at their home on Maple Street, Wednesday, Dec. 8, 1915, and during the day and evening several hundred people from Hillsboro and other vicinities called and tendered their congratulations and felicitations. Mr. and Mrs. Crandall were married Dec. 8, 1865, at South Bend, Minnesota, and they came to Oregon in 1877, arriving here May 10, and have made this city their home ever since. Mrs. Crandall's maiden name was Elizabeth Owen Shannon, and she was born in Brown County, Indiana, June 21, 1847. Her residence in Hillsboro has endeared her to all. She has been prominent in church work, being a member of the M. E. church and also a member of the Eastern Star and the W. R. C. Mr. Crandall was born in Watson, Lewis Co., New York, Feb. 19, 1832. He enlisted in the Civil War at Omaha, Neb., Aug. 23, 1861, in Co. A, 1st Cavalry and afterward in the Fifth Iowa Cavalry. He was mustered out as Captain of Co. L, Fifth Iowa, Jan. 3, 1865. He served in the Minnesota legislature, session of 1870-71. After coming to Oregon Judge Crandall was county judge eight years, county assessor, five years, and county treasurer, two years.

During the afternoon the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. visited the couple; and were attended by the wife and drum corps. The members of the Masonic fraternity and Eastern Star called in the evening, together with many other friends. Many beautiful presents were tendered them and presentation speeches were made by J. L. Crow for the Post, Mrs. Olden for the Corps, and John M. Wall for the universal brotherhood of husbands. Mr. and Mrs. Crandall have four sons living—Max Crandall, county assessor, Hillsboro; Robt. S. Crandall, Los Angeles; A. B. Crandall, Muller Lake, Michigan; and Jesse Crandall, Myers, Montana, all of whom are married, all being present excepting Robt. who was unable to come. Mr. and Mrs. Crandall have endeared themselves to all Hillsboro, who tender them congratulations and wish them many more anniversaries. The guests were nicely entertained. Miss Beth Crandall, granddaughter, assisted by Mrs. J. O. Crandall, presiding over the refreshments. Fred Keller, of above Mountaineers, was a city caller Tuesday.

The Social Circle of the Cong. Church will hold their annual bazaar at "The Sign of the Christmas Tree," Saturday afternoon, Dec. 11, in the Shute Bldg., on Third Street. This event—always looked forward to as being the biggest thing of the year will eclipse all previous undertakings. The ladies of the Circle have been earnestly working for some time, and as a result have for sale many beautiful and artistic pieces of handwork, suitable for gifts for old and young. One booth will be devoted to dainty handkerchiefs, another for aprons to be used on every occasion, towels and pillow cases and many fancy articles of every description, little fancy baskets filled with candies made from the most treasured recipes, also delicatessen, jellies, pastries, etc. There will be a Parcel Post booth where articles will be sold "sight unseen." The old church carpet has been made into beautiful fluff rugs, which will be sold at a very low figure. A musical program will be given and tea served during the afternoon.—Com.

W. G. WILLIAMS JAILED
FOR ASSAULTING A MAN

Struck Jas. C. Heddle on Head With Hammer at Latter's Home THEN ATTEMPTS TO FIRE THE HOUSE Caught by Sheriff's Office and Brought to Hillsboro, Tuesday

When he went to Tualatin to have his head dressed. Meantime, Wm. Jurgens went over to the Williams place to see about some work and when he arrived he saw smoke coming out of the windows. The doors were locked, and Jurgens went for help. When they returned and forced the door Williams went out the rear door and fled to the woods. He was found in a haymow, late in the afternoon, by Deputy Andrews. Sheriff Reeves went to Tualatin that evening and brought the prisoner to the county jail. Williams had done a good job in firing the house, having started a blaze in several places. He told the Argus that Heddle struck at him because he asked him to keep his poultry away from his kale, and that he forced his way into the house after Heddle left for Tualatin because he saw smoke issuing from the windows. Williams clearly is not exactly right in his head, and it looks as though it were the prison or asylum for him. Williams has a wife and two children, while Heddle is a bachelor.

Williams says he had his first square meal for weeks after coming to jail. He has been worrying about financial affairs, and says it has been hard to make a living. He also says he does not remember much about the affair. Heddle's version of the affair is generally accepted as true. Williams admits forcing the window with a chisel, but does not explain why he did not get help to put out the fire.

Mrs. Asenath Cary Brown passed away at her home, on First Street, Hillsboro, Dec. 4, 1915, after an illness of several weeks. Last Summer, Mrs. Brown sustained a fall and injured her hip, and she has never been able to leave her room since. She was the daughter of Abijah Cary and wife, and was born in Andrew County, Mo., Feb. 24, 1841. She crossed the plains in 1846 with her parents, and they settled in Marion County, this state. In the same train came the family of her husband, who as a boy, came West and drove a team for the Carys. She was married to Andrew Oris Brown, in Marion County, Jan. 24, 1867, and they moved to Washington County after their marriage, settling on Iowa Hill, where they lived until Feb. 4, 1904, when Mr. Brown passed away. Mrs. Brown moved to Hillsboro soon afterward, and has since made her home here. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Gross, of Portland, a brother, Richard Cary, of Salem, and seven grandchildren Percy L., L. Earl, Eugene G., Wm. W. and Ellis A. Brown, and Lealand G. and Robt. A. Alexander, and also leaves 10 nieces and nephews to mourn her loss. She was a member of the Relief Corps, the Rebekah Lodge, and the M. E. Church, of this city. The funeral took place Tuesday forenoon, and the remains were taken to the Portland Crematorium for final disposition. Mrs. Brown was a woman of fine intellect, and of the noblest of impulses. She was a good neighbor, and had the esteem of a large circle of friends in Washington County.

The high school enrollment totals 171, divided as follows: Seniors, 29; Juniors, 32; Sophomores, 41, and Freshmen, 69. There are 10 teachers, which shows that the High School is growing very fast.

LaGrippe is cutting into the attendance, about one-fourth of the student body having had it the last few weeks. A Journalist Club, or reporting staff, has been organized in High School. Schools news will be reported to both local and some of the Portland papers. There are two students on each paper.

The first basketball practice of the season was held in the gymnasium last Monday afternoon. There was a large turnout and prospects are bright for a winning team.

The Misses Irene and Garfay Cunningham have returned to school, after a month's stay at the San Francisco Fair.

The football team of Hillsboro High School was entertained last Saturday evening by the Athletic Association, at Hawthorn. The Manual Training class will begin work, in the near future, on the gymnasium to be built on the High School grounds.

The Junior and Sophomore classes will have a skating party at Harttramp rink, Friday evening, Dec. 10.

Miss Gale McFarland, of Buxton, who has been attending school here for the past two years, has been obliged to quit, on account of illness.

In all fields of human endeavor there is always one individual who rises to the top and overshadows the rest. There are other prominent and reliable men in the same line of endeavor, but one stands head and shoulder above them all. In electricity, Edison; in surgery, Mayo; in drama, Shakespeare. It is so in an optical calling in Oregon. Dr. Lowe is the unquestioned leader. This pioneer optician's supremacy has been attained by conscientious and painstaking efforts to satisfy his patrons, to treat them courteously. To give them at all times the worth of their money and a little more. He will be at Hotel Washington, Saturday, Dec. 18, to 4 o'clock, only. Consult him.

THE OREGON NURSERY CO.

At Orenco, Oregon, now has an experienced and practical landscape man connected with its large Nursery. Any one desiring to improve his home-grounds by the planting of trees, shrubbery, etc., will find it convenient and helpful to get his advice and suggestions on any plantings contemplated. This is entirely free.

Those who have ever stopped off at Orenco and gazed over their large acreage of ornamental nursery stock, need not be told that it is the largest and most complete on the Coast. If you have not seen it you should arrange to do so at your earliest convenience. If you are contemplating the planting of any ornamental stock, you should endeavor to set it this Fall—so that it may get the benefit of our Fall and Winter rains. 38tf

PIONEER GOES TO HIS LONG REST

George Ledford Passed Away at Home Last Night WAS PIONEER BUSINESS MAN HERE Death Due to Stroke of Paralysis Sustained Ten Days Back

Geo. T. Ledford, pioneer of 1854, died at the family home, Fir St., Dec. 8, 1915, at 8:30 p. m., the result of a paralytic stroke sustained ten days ago. He was a native of North Carolina, and was born Aug. 20, 1834, making his way West when a youth, settling on the coast. He was a veteran of the Civil and Indian wars and was a member of the G. A. R. Mr. Ledford was this city's pioneer tobacconist and confectioner, with a barber shop connected, and in old days his place was the rendezvous for pioneers, business men and the discussion of public questions. His sturdy convictions and integrity made and held many friends. He was a close reader and a fine student of early history. As a husband and father he had few equals.

He married Mary McLeod, at Gaston, November 11, 1877. The wife and the following children survive: Geo. T., engineer at the Condenser; H. D., a horseman, Forest Grove; Mrs. Wm. H. Bagley, Cove Oak; Grover C. with the Redmond Livery; and Miss Ima I., a nurse at the Multnomah Hospital, Portland. Two of their children are deceased, O. D. and Mrs. Pearl Otis.

The funeral takes from the residence, Saturday, at 1:30, and interment will be in the local cemetery. MRS. CHAS. MEACHAM May Louisa, wife of Charles Meacham, died at the family home north of Hillsboro, Dec. 8, 1915, after an illness of a few weeks. Mrs. Meacham was the daughter of Henry Hesse and wife, and was born in Illinois, Nov. 12, 1867. She came to Oregon with the family in 1885, and settled near Orenco. She was married to Mr. Meacham, Nov. 9, 1896. The husband and a son, Robert C., aged 13 years, survive, and of her immediate family she is survived by the father, and the following sisters and brother: Mrs. G. W. Victor, of Mayview, Wash.; Mrs. John Feagy, of Phillips; Miss Bertha, deputy in the Hillsboro postoffice; and Charles, late of Carlton. The funeral takes place Friday at 10:30 at the Baptist Church, Rev. Smith officiating. Mrs. Meacham was a splendid woman, and a host of friends mourn her loss and extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

The grand jury was in session several days last week, and the case of the shooting of Mrs. Elmer Lyda, who died from a revolver shot, some time ago, was investigated. Witnesses were here in numbers and every possible light was thrown on the case. The jury returned no indictment against Elmer Lyda, as some expected. The case is a peculiar one, and the gossip about it occupied the public mind a few days. It is said there was no evidence to lead the jury to suspect that the case was not suicidal. Elmer Lyda, himself, was before the inquisitive body, Benton Bowman and C. W. Redmond, both of whom sat on the coroner's jury, say that outside of the gossip about the case, there was nothing to show that the deed was committed by any other than Mrs. Lyda's own hand.

Defective vision, rather than neglect to study, keeps many children behind in school work. Defective vision does not convey the right message to the brain and the brain can not act upon the suggestion received. Are you behind in your studies? If you are and feel that it is due to defective eyesight rather than neglect to study, suggest to your parents that you have Dr. Lowe examine your eyes. He can tell you whether it is glasses or something else you need to do better work. Suggest it to your parents. Dr. Lowe will be at Hotel Washington, Saturday, Dec. 18, to 4 o'clock. Scores of Hillsboro references.

A Mrs. Clara Dale, of Portland, was struck by the 7:35 S. P. electric train, this morning at Tenth Street. The motor man had just pulled in to the station, when the woman ran out and collided with the side of the car. She was taken to the Smith hospital, where Dr. Erwin, Southem Pacific surgeon, attended her injuries, which were minor, although her face was badly lacerated. No one appears to know where she has been staying here, and the woman was too dazed to locate herself.
