VOL. XXII HILLSBORO, OREGON, DECEMBER 16, 1915 NO. 39

GEORGIA OFFICERS TAKE ED. BISHOP TO DALTON

Arrived Here Sunday and Started South in Evening

Still Maintains He is Birchfield

Arrested at Gaston For Murder Take Away Shackled to Limit

Deputy sheriff Walter C. Clecker reinforced by another deputy, arrived here Sunday morning from the South and presented credentials and requisition for Ed. Bishop, alias T. A. Birchfield, held here by Sheriff Reeves, and wanted in Dalton, Georgia, for murder. Bishop was arrested at Gaston, some weeks ago, charged with murdering a man at a fair in Dalton, in October.

Just before Bishop was taken away he again reiterated that he was not Bishop, notwithstanding he was positively identified by pictures, but alleges he is Birchfield. As Birchfield is also wanted charged with accessory after the fact, the officers have a case anyway.

The deputy shackled Bishop with both handcuffs, to which was attached a chain, and with leg irons. If he makes a getaway he will have to go some. Clecker left out of Hillsboro at 4 o'clock on the Oregon Electric. Sheriff Reeves says there is no question but what the man is Bishop. The prisoner says his people back in Georgia are well-to-do, and they will provide means for a strong defense.

Bishop has been rooming nights with Sullivan, who is being held on the North Plains robbery.

MRS. BARBARA SCHNEIDER

Mrs. Barbara Schneider died at her home near Blooming, Dec. 9, 1915, after an illness of several years. She was born in Mercer county, Ohio, Feb. 23, 1839, and her maiden name was Barbara Stein. She was married to Chas. Schneider at Victoria, Ohio, in 1863. The family moved to Oregon in 1893, and the husband died Jan. 6, 1913. Eleven children were born to the union, the following surviving: Mrs. Elizabeth Franck, widow of the late Valentine Franck, of Blooming; Chas. Schneider, Eugene; Jacob Schneider, the hop grower, of Leinville; Mrs. Kate Moorman, of Lansingburg, Mich.; Mrs. Frances Henricks, of Cornelius; Mrs. Mary Carter, of Portland, and Philip, at home.

The funeral took place Saturday, Rev. Father Buck preaching the sermon at Cornelius. The burial was in the cemetery south of Cornelius.

Mrs. Schneider was a kind and loving wife and mother, and she had a host of friends who deplore her death.

This is by no means a local matter, but should interest every person in the state who would have a better Oregon. It is your organization and will be just what you make it. The better the co-operation, the more effective will be the results. Make an effort to be present at this meeting and lend your aid to a worthy cause. A special railroad rate will be made from all points in Oregon on the certificate plan. Buy your ticket one way, taking a receipt from your ticket agent. E. SIMMONS KILLED BY FALLING LIMB

Was Cutting Wood on Son's Place, North of North Plains

MAN WAS INSTANTLY KILLED

Was Aged 49 Years—Leaves Wife and Some Grown Children

Emil Simmons, a farmer residing with his wife and son on the Whitehead place, 40 acres, which they bought in 1914, was instantly killed by a falling limb, 31 inches in diameter, and over 10 feet long, Friday afternoon. Coroner Barrett was called and held an investigation, but deemed an inquest fruitless. Simmons and his son, Alfred, were cutting wood in the forenoon, and the boy went to the house at noon, the father remaining at work, as he had taken a lunch about 11 o'clock. When the boy returned from dinner he found the father dead. A limb had fallen about 100 feet, striking him on the forehead, crushing his skull.

Simmons had fallen a tree Wednesday, breaking the limb in question, and it hung over him as he worked. Simmons leaves a widow, and a son and daughter. The latter is living in Portland, and the son at home.

Simmons was a hard working man, and the two had about ten acres cleared on the place. The funeral took place Sunday.

Neglect of children's eyes entails upon them a bitter heritage through life. Many a child is unjustly termed dull and lazy and accused of defective intellect when defective vision is the sole cause of trouble. Hundreds of parents, whose own vision was cared for in youth by Dr. Lowe, now take their children to him for the same beneficial treatment of which experience has taught them the value. He has been coming to Hillsboro for more than a quarter century and will be here again next Saturday, Dec. 18, to 4 o'clock. Consult him.

Returning to Arkansas he resided there until the Civil War broke out, when he again enlisted, serving through hostilities. He was mustered out with the rank of Captain. After the war he settled at Springfield, Mo., and lived there until 1881, when he started across the Plains by team, arriving at Brownsville in September of that year. He lived there until 1907, when he came to this county to make his home with his daughter. He had been married three times and was the father of 17 children, 11 of whom are living. One son was killed at the battle of Malabon, in the Philippines, he being in the Second Oregon. The son's name is the third on the monument dedicated to the Second Oregon Volunteers, in the plaza, at Portland.

WASHINGTON COUNTY PAYS THREE PER CENT

State Tax Amounts Sent out to Various Counties for Fiscal Year

WE PAY LESS THAN LAST YEAR

Sixteen Thousand Under the Levy of 1914 is Estimate Given

The State Tax commission has sent out the estimates of taxes each county must pay for the fiscal year for the expense of 1916, and Washington County pays $72,843.30, or $15,492 less than last year. Thus Washington County pays a little less than three per centum of the entire state tax. Portland pays the big tax, her amount being (Multnomah County) over 36 per cent. of the state taxation. In other words Multnomah County must pay $37,561.05 out of a total appropriation of $2,550,000.

The entire county list is given so that residents here may see what proportions of the state each county represents in matters of state administration. This county is ninth in the state. The list as published by the State Commission:
