

ROSA MERLO TRIAL CONCLUDES TODAY

Many Italian Witnesses Testify for and Against Defendant Wife

Tells Her Story to the Jury

Says She Was in Fear of Life and Speaks Husband Assaulted Her

The trial of State versus Rosa Merlo, charged with killing her husband, October 4, at Santa Rosa, will conclude today, after a four days session. The state is represented by Tongue Bros. and the defense by H. T. Bagley and S. B. Huston. The state is trying to prove that Mrs. Merlo's story does not hang together, and that she was not justified in killing the husband, inferring also, that Mrs. Merlo was under the influence of liquor, Merlo's children all testified to her disadvantage, which, of course, was to be expected. The defense put on many business people who swore they never saw Mrs. Merlo in the worse for liquor, and one Portland man swore that he heard Merlo threaten the wife in Portland.

Mrs. Merlo went on the stand yesterday, and was subjected to a grilling cross examination after she had concluded her direct testimony. She clung to the statement that Merlo had attempted to beat her on her return from Portland, just before the shooting, and that she ran into the house and locked the door after her. She said Merlo followed her upstairs, where she had locked herself in, and that when he broke open the door and advanced on her, she feared for her life and shot.

She also testified that Merlo had several times used her roughly, and that he had threatened at one time to throw her out the upper story window.

Fifty Italians were witnesses present.

The jury: Ben Day, Tualatin; Anton Hermens, Centerville; W. E. Craby, Scholls; Thos. Connell, G. O. Frost and Fred Schomburg, Hillsboro; Daniel Rainwater, Banks; Jacob Correll, Cornelius; A. A. Plieth, Tigard; A. H. Thomas, Forest Grove; Robert Halstead, North Forest Grove, and E. C. Hulley, Laurel.

BANK INSTALLS MACHINE

The Hillsboro National Bank has just added a remarkable machine to its equipment. A machine that posts ledgers and makes out customers statements. There won't be any more night work, balancing pass books either, for the bank has done away with the old pass book system and adopted the Statement System which the big city banks are using.

People who are not acquainted with the inside workings of a bank will not fully realize the great advantages of machine work over handwork in posting to the ledger. The big advantages of using the machine are the saving in time and in the improvement in the appearance and legibility of the ledger sheet. The bank will save at least 50 per cent. in time by the machine method. Then, too, there is no possibility of an error, as the machine cannot make a mistake. The saving in time means something to the patrons of the bank for this time can be devoted to the improvement of the already excellent service which the Hillsboro National Bank is now giving to its patrons.

WATCH NIGHT

The Pythian Sisters will entertain the members of their own lodge and the Knights of Pythias and their families, at the hall, Friday evening, Dec. 31. There will be a program and dancing, and all members of the fraternities are invited and will be given a cordial welcome.

Gen. W. Bacon, of Gaston, passed through town yesterday, enroute home from a trip to California and Southern Oregon.

P. H. Trigg, charged with larceny of a horse by Mr. Karns, is in jail, having been brought here from Portland. Trigg and Karns had some kind of a deal on a horse, resulting in arrest. Trigg has an injured foot, and he doesn't think much of Christmas 1915 as a day of good cheer. Trigg was struck by a man by the name of Harper, last Spring, and had an arm broken. For a man who needs a rabbit foot and a horse shoe, vendors are referred to Mr. Trigg. Trigg formerly worked at the Sippell mill and camp in South Tualatin, but of late has been working with a team around Portland, where he was arrested.

Feed chopper at Bethany will run on Friday before Xmas and Friday before New Year, and then as usual, every Saturday. Anyone coming later than 2:30, please let us know by telephone. 39-41

The County Court will make the 1916 tax levy within a few days. Treasurer Sappington has notified the assessor and county court that School District No. 32, at Cherry Grove, and District No. 100, at Metzger, both of which have bonded debt, that a two mill tax must be placed on the tax rolls, the districts having provided no special tax to meet the interest when due. This is a new law, designed to protect buyers of bonds from delay where there is oversight.

Pigeons for sale, cheap: Homers, Carneau and Crosses. Have about 250 birds, which on account of my ill health, am obliged to sell. E. F. Sias, Box 493, Hillsboro, Ore., or call at 565 Broadway. 34f

Earl Johnston, of near Forest Grove, a lad in his teens, was Tuesday surrendered to the county court by the Boys & Girls Aid Society, the organization alleging that he was too incorrigible to be held in that institution. After an examination by Judge Reasoner the lad was sent to the State Training School for Boys, at Salem. Young Johnston is insubordinate, and runs away. While at the place he led in shattering discipline.

I saw cordwood, poles up to 12 inches in diameter, fence rails, and boards of all kinds, into stovewood lengths. Will go into the country. Write, phone or call on me. Carl Skow, Hillsboro. Phone, City 462, or call at Tualatin Hotel.

The county court estimates that the recent freshet did not cost the county $200 in restoring small bridges and culverts which were washed out. This slight expense is vastly different from that which would have incurred twenty years ago. All bridges since that time have been built higher, in contemplation of freshets. In the winter of 1895 the bridge cost resulting from washouts amounted to nearly twenty thousand dollars.

Wanted—at once: Young men for automobile business. Big pay. We make you expert in ten weeks by mail. Pay us after we secure you position. Century Automobile Institute, Los Angeles, Cal.

N. P. Oakerman, of Portland, formerly of Reedville and Beaverton, writes for another year of the religious weekly and says, "I wish you a happy and prosperous New Year and many of them, and send for another year of the old friend and weekly caller." This will be Mr. Oakerman's 21st year of steady subscription to the family journal.

For Sale: Three or four young cows, all in milk. Jersey strain, and all just fresh a short time. Good milkers.—Wm. M. Hughes, Hillsboro, Route 4. One and one-half miles south of Jobe's Crossing, Oak Park station. 39-41

Judge McBride, of the supreme court, has handed down a decision holding the workmen's compensation law valid. This will mean that the further constitutionality of the law will not be attacked, as the Supreme Court has passed on a similar statute heretofore.

Hot cakes for breakfast made with Schulmerich's buttermilk and spread with Schulmerich's famous creamery butter is the latest fad. For sale at Hillsboro Mercantile Co.

Miss Hazel Turner, aged 13, daughter of Mrs. L. D. Conger, of Tenth Street, was operated on for appendicitis, last week, by Dr. E. H. Smith. The young lady was in a precarious condition when taken to the operating table, but there are hopes for her recovery.

L. Slegenthaler will be at his regular stand to do your chopping and rolling on Friday before Christmas and Friday before New Year's. Come early.

Mrs. Hoberg, wife of the Rev. Hoberg, died at McMinnville, last week. She was the mother of Mrs. J. I. Knight, who formerly resided here.

For sale: A good Jersey cow. Every way right; good average milk, and fresh since Oct. 15. Call at No. 1839 Main Street, Hillsboro, Ore. 39f

YEAR 1915 CLOSES TOMORROW NIGHT

With Advent of 1916 The Water Wagon Hitches up in Oregon

TRADE REVIVAL EXPECTED SOON

Farm Products at End of 1915 Appear to be in Accordancy

The year of 1915, one fraught with much history, closes tomorrow night, and on Saturday morning the New Year will open the books for another era. Business has been rather slow in the Northwest, owing to the depression in the lumber trade, but orders have been swamping the yards the past month. Depreciation of stock means that many sawmills have started up in the Oregon country, and the coming 12 months is expected to get the cut up to normal. Farm products, aside from hops, are now in good price. Wheat is hovering around the dollar mark, with much of the Northwest crop unsold. Oats are ranging around $25 per ton, with prospects of higher quotations.

With Saturday morning comes a new champion in the Oregon field—Old John Barleycorn has taken the count and the referee has proclaimed the driver of the water wagon king of all the boundaries of the state. No more saloons, and no more booze unless you swear you are going to use it for sacramental purposes. It will now be necessary for each person who lives the cup that cheers to embrace some divinity to which he may toast his libation.

Many from Washington County expect to spend Friday evening in Portland, and the Southern Pacific Railway has made an order that the train which is scheduled to leave the city at 11:15 Friday night shall not leave the union depot until 12:20 on the morning of the New Year—this to enable all to see the old year out and the new year in at the Oregon metropolis.

GEO. T. LEDFORD

George T. Ledford, who died at his home in this city, Dec. 8, 1915, was born in Haywood Co., N. C., Aug. 20, 1834. He moved with his parents to Tennessee, when a child, and later went to Sullivan Co., Mo., where he remained until twenty, when in company with his brother, Eli, he came to Oregon. The brother was killed in a scouting party in 1855. This caused Mr. Ledford to enlist in the Indian War of 55-6, and he was connected with both field and hospital corps. In 1861 he enlisted in the Union Army and was stationed in Oregon, for 3 years of service. He served in Col. Tom Cornelius' mounted Cavalry. In 1864 he returned to Vancouver, where he received an honorable discharge. After the war he was married to Miss Jane Woodson. To that union one son, Wm. H., of Macey, Idaho, was born. On Nov. 11, 1877 he was married to Miss Mary McCleod, of Gaston. To this union nine children were born five of whom survive: H. D. Ledford, Forest Grove, Miss Imah, a student nurse, of Multnomah Hospital, Portland; Mrs. W. H. Bagley, Jr., Cove Oaks; Geo. B. and Grover C., at home. Besides his wife and children are five grandchildren, Marion and Grace Otis, Lenore and Thora Ed Bagley, and Frances Best, Gaston. Two sisters, Mrs. Nancy C. Long and Mrs. Catharine Bell live at Greencastle, Mo., and a brother, Price Ledford.

For nearly 20 years Mr. Ledford operated the only barber shop and confectionery in the county seat. In August 1912 he and Mrs. Ledford took a trip back to the old Missouri home, where he spent his boyhood, visiting his sisters and a brother he had never seen. On his return he suffered a stroke of paralysis while enroute, and he never regained health. He suffered the last stroke Nov. 28, and died Dec. 8, aged 81 years,

8 months and 10 days. He was one of 12 children and one of 5 brothers who wore the blue. Mr. Ledford was a G. A. R. member, also a Mason. A niece, Mrs. E. A. Denver, lives at Nehalem.

CRIMINALS GET THEIR SENTENCE

Celebrated Gangsters Plead Guilty in Circuit Court, Today

TO SALEM PENITENTIARY TOMORROW

Jack Kaster and Chas. Brown, Mays Store Robbers, Make no Defense

A celebrated criminal gang has been dissolved by two pleas of guilty, Jack Kaster and Chas. Brown, charged with robbing the Mays Bros. Store, at North Plains, having pleaded guilty this morning. They waived time for sentence, and Judge Bagley gave Kaster 4 years straight time, he having been an old offender. Brown, who is wanted for breaking his parole, was given from one to seven years.

Sheriff Reeves will take the prisoners to Salem tomorrow. This ends one of the most notorious gangs that ever operated out of Portland. Brown is a thief of old repute, while Kaster is noted as being an expert safe cracker.

The goods were found in Brown's cabin in East Portland, and a trial would have meant nothing but conviction. Brown tried to break jail a few days ago, and Sheriff Reeves will be glad to get the offenders off his hands.

Sullivan, jointly indicted, will probably be turned over to Clackamas County, where he is wanted.

UNION STOCK YARDS

Cattle—After Christmas market on all kinds of livestock usually is a dull affair. Yesterday's market was no exception to the rule, not enough cattle were in the yards to test the strength of the market. All lines are, however, quoted steady with last week's top. Top grain or pulp fed steers would bring 750, other grades in proportion.

Hogs—Only a handful of hogs today, a total of 2300 were offered to the trade. Last week's closing was a strong figure, and today's session put on a top of 6.25. This figure records an advance of ten cents over last week.

Sheep—The strength in the sheep market was shown in a good scale of a double deck of wethers at seven cents weighed off the cars. This price would indicate not only strength but an advance in mutton values.

Wanted: Two young men want job of slaughtering near Hillsboro. Address Hillsboro, Ore., Route 1, Box 138. 40-2

J. B. McNew, of below Reedville, was up yesterday. He is just recovering from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Wade Everest and child, of near Tillamook, are here for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. Blaser.

Wanted: A second hand single wagon, buggy and harness, if a bargain.—S. J. Cloake, near Newton, Hillsboro, R. 5, Box 86.

E. J. Bondahu, under conviction of a state crime, has rendered his report of the Hayden ward, as guardian, and asks the court to release him.

F. W. Wells, of Aloha, was an Argus caller yesterday, and was in to wish the Argus a Happy New Year. F. W. is carrying a felon around on his index finger.

The public is reminded that the S. P. train out of Portland on Friday evening, scheduled to leave at 11:15, will not leave the Union depot until 12:20 on the morning of the New Year.

Collin Brigham and Anna McDonald were united in marriage in Hillsboro, Dec. 23, 1915. Rev. Father J. M. O'Neill officiating. The ceremony was performed at the court house.

W. D. Smith visited with his father and mother at Forest Grove, Christmas. His father is aged 85, and his mother 76—and every Christmas W. D. goes home to spend the day.

Mrs. R. H. Greer and grandson, Norman Greer, departed the first of the week for an extended visit with Mrs. Greer's daughter, Mrs. W. C. Will, at CleElum, Wash.

Jesse Parry, while working in the Forest Grove planing mill, accidentally sawed out the center of his hand, and so badly lacerated four fingers that they may have to be amputated.

The local freight, between here and Tillamook made the round trip from here to the bay city, Tuesday and Wednesday, and the present cold weather means that the road will remain open for awhile anyway.

Mrs. Geo. Spencer, of Pierce, Idaho, arrived last week, and is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Palmateer, and sister, Mrs. F. G. Mitchell. She will make an extended visit in the valley before returning to the Idaho home.

It will not be long until the primary election will occupy the public attention. A sheriff, recorder, clerk and all county officers, save that of county judge, will be nominated and elected, in 1916. The county judge will hold over until the 1918 election.

W. E. Thomas, superintendent of the Washougal, Wn., schools, was here the first of the week. Mr. Thomas formerly taught in this county, and was at one time employed by the Commercial Bank.

Simpson and Jack closed their saloon last week, at Beaverton, and Mr. Simpson and family have moved back to Buxton to reside. Will Jack is home for a while. The firm concluded that business would not warrant stocking up for the last few days of the open saloon.

Services at the Christian Church—Bible school, 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 and 7:30; Y. P. S. C. E., 8:30; subject, morning sermon, "The Christian's Attitude to the Past and Future"; Evening, "An Old-Fashioned Conversion." Bible study class, Thursday, at 7:30. All are invited to these services.

LOLITA WISMER

Miss Lolita Wismer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wismer, died at the Sanitarium, at Hoyt and Twentieth Streets, Portland, December 21, 1915, the funeral taking place at Bethany, last Friday, services being held at the Presbyterian Church. Miss Wismer was the eldest daughter. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn her loss two sisters, Mrs. Philip Streib, of Cedar Mill, and Miss Edna, and one brother, Walter, at home. Miss Wismer was aged 21 years, and was born near Cedar Mill. She was a grandchild of pioneer Jacob Wismer.

CARRIERS THANK PATRONS

We desire to thank the patrons of the Hillsboro rural mail routes for the many kindnesses of the year, and for the token of esteem, on Christmas found in so many of the mail boxes. We wish each and all of you on Hillsboro's rural routes a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Arthur Mittenberger, R. 1, Roy Tupper, R. 2, John Ryan, R. 3, Fred Olson, R. 4, Wm. Gaeffer, R. 5.

ALWEEN—GUTSCHMIDT

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gutschmidt, of Phillips, Dec. 25, 1915, when their daughter Anna was united in marriage to Eugene Alween, Rev. Scheidt officiating. Both are popular in their section, and have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Do not forget the masquerade at Moose Hall, Friday night, December 31—where will be held the greatest event of its kind in years.

Ed and Peter Olson departed Sunday for Alaska, where they will take a position with one of the big mining syndicates in the North.

J. A. Zimmerman, of Roseland Farm, was up to the city the first of the week. He reports his wife as indisposed, but mending some.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fisher, of Corvallis, came down Christmas to spend the holiday week with the Willers, of Oak Park, and friends in Hillsboro.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our sincere thanks for the many expressions of sympathy and the beautiful floral tributes at the obsequies of the late Miss Grace Deichman. C. E. Deichman and Family, Hillsboro, Ore., Dec. 28, 1915.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Simm entertained the Progressive "900" Club Saturday evening, Dec. 18. Several tables of cards were enjoyed, with first honors won by Mrs. Victor Dahl and Arthur Sorenson respectively. The affair bore a holiday spirit with Xmas bells suspended over each table, with colors of red and green predominating. After the awarding of prizes a neatly arranged luncheon graced the tables. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sorenson will have the next club meeting, Friday evening, Dec. 31. Several of the younger members have arranged a program. A banquet dinner is announced for six o'clock. The affair will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Combs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stewart held a family reunion on Christmas at their home, 1020 Third Street. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edgerton and son, Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Crawford and daughters, Leta and Dolores, Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stewart and daughter, Anna Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stewart and daughters, Helen and Violet, and son, Donald, Miss Marguerite Stewart, Portland, Hazel, Glad and Stanley Stewart, at home, Elmer Johnson, Portland. The house was beautifully decorated with cedar and holly. A bountiful dinner was served with all the good things that idealize a Christmas dinner.

On last Sunday, Mrs. D. Litherland, of West Union, was hostess for a delightful dinner, Mrs. F. J. Schuler, a sister, of Hood River, being complimented. The dining table was adorned with flaming poinsettias and holly, and the following dined: Geo. Block and wife, of Canada; Mrs. Schuler and son, James, Henry Dick and wife, C. H. Dick and wife, Miss Lena Block, Miss Esther Dirksen, Virgil Dirksen, Carl Dick and the hostess.

Judge Bagley has had foot-rails placed in front of the chairs occupied by jurors, another comfort for the twelve who must sit on cases in circuit court. The day has passed when jurors are expected to go without meals, or sit up all night and shiver, when they can not agree. In these modern times jurors are expected to be comfortable and in so doing be able to give knotty problems their best consideration.

Chas. Gardner, of this city, lost a valuable mare, last week. The animal was hitched to the woodsaw, and playfully kicked over the tongue. In doing this the animal threw the leg in such a position that the bone snapped. It was found necessary to kill her to put her out of her misery. It was a good horse and valued at $100.

J. O. Crandall departed for Myers, Montana, after an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Crandall. Mrs. Crandall and children will remain for several weeks, visiting with the Crandalls, and with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sandford, of Carroll, Wash., were over this week, visiting with the Thos. Connells. They formerly lived at North Plains, where J. R. still has a 24 acre tract.

Mrs. R. H. Greer was struck by a jitney in Seattle, the other day. She is resting easily, and will soon be able to travel, when she will go on to CleElum.

N. Bangs, of Timber, was in the city Monday.
