Irvine Higginbotham has been signed by McCreddie as one of the pitchers for the 1916 season. Hig did not get off as well last year as usual, but he expects to do some star work this season. He has evolved another twister—something new in battering work, and as he is in the pink of condition he expects to head the lists at the start. His old Hillsboro friends would like to see him "come back" in good shape this season. Last year he pitched fine ball, but somehow he managed to lose his games by a close margin. Even at that he was well up to the winners of the league.

Position wanted: Will keep house for elderly couple, or widower, with family. Best of references. Write full particulars in first letter.—Mrs. Laura Brown, 170 St. Clair St., Portland, Ore. 445

Christopher Goode, an aged man who has been living in a shack South of Cornelius, was found by his neighbors, the last of the week, in an exhausted and almost famished condition. The old man had but small means and the snow kept him from getting out and rustling for himself. LaGrippe fastened on him and had not someone visited him he might have perished. Dr. W. D. Wood, health officer, decided to have the old gentleman taken to the Portland hospital, where he is now receiving care and attention at the expense of the county.

Wanted—at once: Young men for automobile business. Big pay. We make you expert in ten weeks by mail. Pay us after we secured you position. Century Automobile Institute, Los Angeles, Cal.

J. J. Krebs, of Rockaway, came over Thursday evening and remained several days, visiting with Hillsboro friends and transacting business. J. J. says that he likes to live over where he can hear the breakers roar, and that he is going to stay right there until the state goes wet again.

J. W. Jackson, of near North Plains, came in Saturday on a business trip. This was his first trip into town since the big cold-and-snow wave started, before New Year.

M. Susbauer, one of the pioneer hop growers of this county, was down from Cornelius Saturday, on business at the court house.

Mayor W. N. Barrett went to Portland Friday night to attend the Masonic celebration by the Shrine.

Try our Turkish Cream Rolls. They are home-made and hard to beat.—Koeber's Confectionery.

Mrs. Fred Douber and son, of south of Cornelius, were in town Monday.

W. E. Crosby, of near Sherwood, was in town Monday.
