

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS

VOL. XXIII

HILLSBORO, OREGON, MARCH 30, 1916

NO. 2

JURY CASES SET BY COURT BEGIN APRIL 10

Four Cases Set Down for Trial by Judge Geo. R. Bagley, Saturday

LYDA CASE FIRST ON DOCKET

Judge Campbell Will Come From Oregon City and Sit on Bench

Judge Campbell will be here April 10 and will hold circuit court for the week, while Judge Bagley will exchange benches with him, sitting at Oregon City. Judge Bagley is disqualified on all of the cases at bar, and set for trial during the week, by being counsel, before he qualified as judge, and the Supreme Court has allowed the exchange as above.

The state case against W. H. Lyda, will be the first on the docket, the trial being set for April 10, 11 and 12, the estimate being three days. This case was tried once before and it required several days. The jury disagreed in the former trial.

The case of Kelly versus Emmott is set for the 13th—an unlucky date for some one.

Northrup vs Jesse is set for the 14th.

Weidewich versus Grant Mann a Cornelius case, is set for the 15th.

Next week there will be several ex parte matters before the court and this will enable cases further to be set, so as to get the work of the term well under way before May 1, the date that court opens at Tillamook.

Drainage District No. 7 versus Hubert Bernard, will be heard April 18.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From The Argus)

D. W. Dobbins left Monday for Heppner, Eastern Oregon, where he has a position as salesman in a mercantile establishment.

J. L. Knight and L. E. Wilkes were elected delegates to the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge, which meets at Astoria in May.

This morning the people of Hillsboro experienced their first real earthquake. House trembled, windows rattled, bottles moved on dressers and sideboards, and many were awakened from a sound sleep.

Some one raised the flag over the court house when the republicans were in convention the other day and the emblem of the nation was upside down.

R. H. Greer wears a broad smile. It is a boy, and he was born on the day of the earthquake and the republican convention.

Married, March 28, 1896, Loren P. Jackson and Miss Lula B. Slinger, both of Hillsboro.

The residence of Mrs. Johnson, of Glencoe, was burned today. Loss, about $300. Mrs. Johnson was badly burned, and was taken to the home of her son, Henry Johnson.

Deputy Recorder Cal Jack Jr. is busy recording a patent from the government to the O. & C. R. R. The filing fee to the county was $22.50.

Under date of March 28, 1896, the State Department at Washington, D. C., advises J. J. Martin, alias Wilson, of Sherwood, was drowned in the Namu River, at Apia, Samoa, Feb. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tupper are the proud parents of twin girls, born this morning.

Fight fans in the city were not disappointed over the result of the Moran-Willard go in New York, Saturday night. The majority, largely, held that Moran had no possible chance to win over Champion Willard, and their guess appears to have been good, as Willard held the title, even mulling too hard for Moran even after he had broken his finger on the challenger's head. Willard pulled out about $40,000 in the clear for his night's work.

For Sale—Single Comb White Leghorn eggs and baby chicks. These are the finest to be had, Petuluma. Limited amount R. I. Red eggs and chicks. Also have some fine young prune trees at 10 cents each. Fred Wright, Hillsboro, Route 5. Phone R. 151.

There will be a basket social at the Rock Creek School, Saturday evening, April 1. A program of songs, stunts, and a play under the direction of Miss Kate Barton, the principal, will be given in connection with the social. If you're a girl, bring a basket; if a boy, come and buy one. The money is to be used to build a play shed for the school. Special donations from 5 cents up will be appreciated.

Money to loan in any amount at 7 and 8 per cent, on acceptable farm properties. Make application now and have the money when you want it. Long terms if desired.—E. L. Perkins, Hillsboro, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bennett, of near Orenco, departed this week for Randolph, Nebraska, where they will visit their son. From there they will go to Mr. Bennett's childhood home, in Ohio, his first visit there since 1865. They expect to be absent all Summer and Fall, and possibly longer. The Argus will reach them at their Eastern points of visit.

For Sale—Dwarf Essex Rape seed, finely cleaned, at market price. Also Barded Plymouth Rock eggs, O. A. C. strain, 75 cents per setting of 15.—Wm. Schulmerich, Hillsboro, Ore.

It is estimated that Chamberlain's bill would give thousands to the county road fund from the sale of the O. & C. lands. It looks as though the bill will pass. The lands in the county embrace about 18,000 acres.

For sale: House and three lots in Hillsboro. Or will trade for cleared acreage, bottom land or sawle, near Orenco preferred.—H. Jeibman, Hillsboro, Ore.

John McClaran, of Gales Creek, was in town Monday morning, greeting friends. He says there was some pretty high water up his way, Sunday.

Miss Marion Lytle and Miss Marie Long were guests of Miss Janet Hoefel, a Witch Hazel, the last of the week.

Robert Thompson, of Cedar Mill, was in town Saturday, paying taxes and registering for the primaries.

Jos. Loring Sr., the contractor, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

John W. Connell is convalescing from a severe attack of tonsillitis.

Geo. Holsheimer, of Elmonica, was in the city the last of the week.

W. L. Mast, of Route 4, was a city caller Saturday.

HEAVY RAINS STOP ALL SPRING WORK

Heaviest Precipitation For Many Months Causes High Waters

MANY BRIDGES WERE IN DANGER

Water Within Few Inches of Oregon Electric Bridge West of Town

The heaviest downpour of the year came the last of the week, and the precipitation caused the highest water of the new year. The waters flooded the entire valley and plains, and Dairy and the Tualatin were on a rampage for several days, the crest of the high stage being reached Sunday, about noon. The bridge on the Oregon Electric was threatened, and watchmen were at the structure all Sunday night. The raise also threatened the Jackson Bottom trestle and the bridge near Jobs', but the recession started about two o'clock Sunday afternoon. By this time the rains had stopped in the snow districts, and Gales Creek commenced to fall rapidly. The Tualatin bottoms south of town were flooded higher than at any time previous since the rainy season set in.

The weather bureau Monday morning gave the excess of rainfall at over 10 inches. Farm work has been suspended as far as plowing and seeding are concerned, and the earth is so full of moisture that it is going to mean a very late seeding, as but little plowing has been accomplished this Spring.

Several culverts have been floated here and there and it is estimated that the damage will reach close to $500 in the county at large.

BLANK-WESTFALL

A "Grange wedding" was held Wednesday evening, March 22, 1916, when Miss Ada Westfall and Alfred Blank were married by Rev. H. P. Blake, at Winona Grange Hall, Tualatin. Almost the entire membership of the grange, numbering over 100, attended the wedding and danced in the large hall that was gay with evergreens and daffodils. Paul Cooper violinist, and Dorothy Byron played the wedding march.

The bridal party, consisting of the bride and bridegroom and Mr. Blank's brother, Edward Blank, and Mrs. Edward Blank, stood under the arch of evergreen from which hung a great wedding bell fashioned of white flowers. The bride was gowned in cream tulle and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

After the wedding supper was served the remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing. The bride is a daughter of L. D. Westfall, and Mr. Blank is junior member of the firm of Sagart & Blank.

Mrs. Melisa Jackson Steeves has sued Gus Steeves for divorce the couple having married in August, 1915. She alleges that the defendant husband has been unkind to her and has not spoken with her for days at a time. She also alleges that he told her she must go to Idaho with him if she wanted him to support her, otherwise it would not be forthcoming. The complaint sets forth that she has resided in Washington County for 59 years. 1-3

WM. SCHULMERICH FILES AT SALEM

Will Take Run For the Legislature on Democratic Ticket

WILL GET A BIG PUBLIC SUPPORT

Well Known Stockman Enters Political Arena at Request of Friends

William Schulmerich, well known all over Washington County, has filed his entry into the Democratic primaries for legislative nomination, and he will make a try to break into the state house at Salem. Mr. Schulmerich is a man of affairs, and that he will be a valuable man in case of election, goes without saying. Schulmerich has a splendid grasp of public affairs, and he would grace a seat in the House of representatives.

He is well known all over the Northwest, and for several years has lectured at Dairy Association gatherings, and at the State Fair. He has also made several trips into British Columbia, where he lectured on dairying and kindred subjects.

Mr. Schulmerich is a man of wide experience, and alive to the needs of the state. He is a representative citizen in every respect, and he is assured of a big support from all parties.

He carried this county several years ago when he ran for State Food and Dairy Commissioner, and his friends freely predict that he will repeat the record this Fall.

Twenty-four Chiropractic treatments, $15.—Dr. Sizer, Hillsboro.

Hub Simpson, of South Tualatin, was in the city Saturday.
