WHY THE BEST OF CHEWS IS "SPEAR HEAD"

Its Rich, Sweet, Mellow Flavor Has Been Famous for a Generation

MADE OF CHOICEST RED BURLEY

The secret of tobacco satisfaction is known only to the man who chews plug tobacco. The reason is that a good chew gets right next to your taste, while the leaf in plug tobacco is in a state of fresh, juicy richness that is not possible in any other form of tobacco.

There's no tobacco in the world that can give you the hearty, wholesome flavor that you get from a delicious chew of Spear Head.

Spear Head is made exclusively of ripe, red Kentucky Burley—the most richly-flavored chewing tobacco that grows. Still more, only the very choicest red Burley leaf is used for Spear Head.

This choice leaf is selected with the most painstaking care, is stemmed by hand, is thoroughly washed free of all foreign matter, and is pressed into Spear Head plugs so slowly that not a drop of juice or an atom of the natural flavor escapes.

Try Spear Head, and you'll get a sweet, mellow, luscious, satisfying chew that cannot be obtained in any other tobacco. In 10c cuts, wrapped in wax paper.

Tale of a Lost Engagement Ring

By ETHEL HOLMES

"What do you mean, Clara, by an exciting do that thief Ralph Cummings? Do you wish to be ostracized by all your friends?"

A singular expression came over Miss Rathbone's face, an expression that cannot be described, though some idea of it may be formed by an understanding of what ensued it.

"That thief, as you call him, is my fiancee?"

"Yes, we will be married next month. I shall acquaint you with the story attending Ralph's being considered a thief, after which you will be able to form an opinion of my reasons for marrying a man so branded. You are my sister and have a right to know them."

"Why may not all the world know them?"

"That you will understand when you have heard the story. When the Tophams gave their house party the episode occurred which branded Ralph as a thief. You were not there; I was. One afternoon all the automobiles on the place were got out, and the whole party was taken on a ride. I wore a short astrakhan jacket with a pocket on each side. Of course we were plentifully supplied with robes. When we returned, before taking off our wraps Alfred Topham asked us into the dining room to 'warm up,' as he expressed it. We all gathered around the sideboard and were warming up when a servant stepped up to Alf and handed him a little box that had come by express during his absence on the auto ride. We all knew that Alf had been attentive to Evelyn Mansfield, and one of the men very indelicately cried out:—

"It's the engagement ring. Let's see it, Alf."

"Alf opened the box and took out a ring set with a ruby between two diamonds. It was passed from one to another for inspection while the men continued to warm up. We spent some fifteen or twenty minutes in the dining room, and when we were about to separate Alf sang out:—

"Who's got my ring?"

Every one looked at every one else, but no one produced the ring. For a time it was supposed that it would be forthcoming, but since it did not appear Alf's brows began to knit. We all joined in a search for it, on the floor, under the furniture. The ring was not found. Had some one of the guests purloined it? Alf, being host, of course could not suggest such a thing, but his chum, Ned Thurston, presently said:—

"I offer myself to be searched, and I desire that all of you will volunteer for the same thing."

Everybody volunteered except Ralph. He said that he must defer to such a process. We were all supposed to be ladies and gentlemen and it would be an insult to each and every one of us to search us.

It took the party, some time to digest what he had said, but the prevailing opinion was against it. Alf would rather lose the ring than put an indignity on any guest of his and forlornly the search. Nearly every one considered Ralph's objection a virtual admission of guilt. It was believed that he had taken the ring, not foreseeing that he would soon be caught with it on his person, and was obliged to choose between the course he took and full exposure. He did not wait to receive the cold shoulder, but left during the afternoon.

"The blow fell as hard on me as it did on him. I had received nearly all his attention while at the Tophams, and the announcement of our engagement was expected before the party broke up. I didn't know what to do or say in the matter, so I took no course whatever, declining to express an opinion. But it was not pleasant for me to remain after what had occurred, and I made an excuse to go away the next day. They were all very nice to me, urging me to stay it very.

"Soon after my arrival at home I was called to the telephone, and Ralph spoke to me.

"Have you found Alf Topham's ring?" he asked.

"Have I found a ring? Do you mean to accuse me of being the thief?"

"Look in the pocket of the jacket you wore on the auto ride. I have hoped you had found it. God grant it's there!"

"I was thunderstruck. On entering the dining room after the ride my jacket being too warm for the heated room I had taken it off and laid it on a chair in a corner of the room. Telling Ralph to hold the wire, I ran to a closet in my room, thrust my hand into the pocket of my astrakhan jacket and took out the ring.

"Running back to the phone, I told Ralph what I had done. He begged me not to utter a word to any one about finding the ring till I saw him. He would come right over."

"And now, Belle, I shall tell you how the ring got into my pocket only on your promise never to reveal it without my permission."

"I give it."

"You know you warned me against Rebecca Townsend."

"I did."

"Ralph, while the others were intent on warming up, saw Beck put the ring in the pocket of my jacket. Ralph saved me from her venom by taking the blame himself."
