A NEW BOSS RISES

A new boss has risen—"Skeericks," or Larry Fernsworth, of Banks, who is running for the legislature. He came here from Portland, where he worked on the Oregonian—only he didn't work very long—and he now poses as the only honest man in the county. He yells "ring" and by so doing hopes to get into the legislature. He has abused practically every public official in the county; thinks he knows all the English extant, and believes that he is the Moses of the county. He is making arrangements, so it is said, to get votes in bunches over the county, in order to be nominated, throwing aside any delicacy of feeling for a brother candidate. Even Sam Paisley, who believed Larry was with him, has discovered that he has been double-crossed. He charges that newspapers received "so much money for services rendered," but does not say they overcharge—for his charges are as high as any, with but one single exception, amounting to a V. and on which he seeks to make a political fight. With Larry all are dishonest but Larry. Larry is the high priest of honesty and purity. Registering as a democrat heretofore, he now registers and runs as a republican, and asks the republican voters to nominate him—because, forsooth, he yells "ring." It is in this manner he hopes to make the farmer, whom he naturally despises, think he is some great man.

This new Moses, at the last minute, charges that the Court is under obligations to E. B. Longue, district attorney, and attorney W. G. Hare for this and that he should be defeated. This is the rankest kind of nonsense, and worthy of the mind that puts it before the public. The scores of jurors and crowded court rooms who have watched Judge Bagley on the bench will at once note the falsity of this contention. It should be enough—this charge, so unwarranted—to secure the nomination of Judge Bagley. After naming a state to be nominated, with Larry at the head of the ring, he then carps at rings and things, to his heart's content. Intelligent citizenship will not be influenced by such stuff. This is not Washington County's silly season, and Larry's appeal will be thrown in the discard.

Miss Beatrice Tunstall, of Phillips, was a city visitor Tuesday.

UNION STOCK YARDS

The market opened rather brisk, although the receipts were light. One shipment of pulp fed steers sold at 9 15, this being the top price. Bulk of grain fed stock sold at 8 85 to 9. No change in prices of cows, heifers or bulls, receipts being very light. There was a slight decrease in calf receipts this week, although the prices were unchanged. A fair run of hogs was received. The bulk sold at prices ranging from 9 to 9 15. The top prices reached being 9 20 and 9 25. Market closing strong. The receipts are showing a marked increase. Spring lambs are bringing 10 to 10 50. No change in prices of wethers and ewes. This class of stock is still in great demand.
