LONG & MCKINNEY

In the death of pioneer Thos. Tucker the state of Oregon has lost a citizen of inestimable worth. He was of the mould of pioneer greatness and he was the sturdy son of a sturdy pioneer stock. His father before him was a pioneer son of Indiana, and Thos. Tucker followed the hereditary tendency of following new trails to new lands. He found Oregon and lived a worthy life in his adopted state. As a citizen he had few equals, and his genuine worth has never been questioned. He was just in all things and no country could have a prouder boast than to say that its greatest citizenship was of that class of men represented by Mr. Tucker.

It is a safe proposition that those chaps who have criticised President Wilson for not jumping on Mexico will be the very last to enlist, and it will not be unlikely that many of them will now take the attitude of "little Americans." These are the fellows who are big Americans until trouble ensues and they then want on the "criticism board" and to be delegated on the "home guard."

It is a strange thing—but not so strange—that every big newspaper wanting the U. S. to "shoot" its guns and get into the European War, is supporting Charles Evan Hughes. These are facts that every peace lover in America should ponder over. Just analyze this, and then you can find out what it means to your own satisfaction.

MRS. T. R. DAVIS

Elizabeth Clarissa Davis, wife of Thos. R. Davis, died at Rockaway, June 21, after an illness of several months. The wife and husband went to the coast the last of the week, for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. Davis' maiden name was Hanley, and she was the daughter of the late John Hanley. She was born in Canada, May 19, 1853, and came to the United States with her parents, moving first to California. In 1874 they moved to Oregon. She was married to Mr. Davis in 1884. Besides the husband she leaves to mourn her loss two children—Charles Davis, of North Plains, and Thos. Davis Jr., at home, aged 12 years. Of her immediate family she leaves two brothers, C. A. Hanley, county commissioner, and J. R. Hanley, of Leisville, and two sisters, Mrs. Addie Chalmers and Mrs. Olive M. Bagley, wife of Circuit Judge Geo. R. Bagley.

The funeral will be held at the Tualatin Plains Presbyterian church Friday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo is aged from three to five years in wooden hogsheads to make it mellow and sweet flavored. But the thing that takes out all the bite and harshness and makes Tuxedo so bland and gentle that it can't hurt the most sensitive tongue or throat, is the famous and exclusive "Tuxedo Process."

One week's trial of Tuxedo will show you.

WALTERS—BAUMGARTEN

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters, West Union, June 21, 1916, at 11 o'clock, their son, John Walters, and Miss Elsie Baumgarten, of Holbrook, being the high contracting parties, Elder Catlin officiating.

Miss Amanda Baumgarten was the bridesmaid, and Henry Walters officiated as groomsmen. Miss Lizzie Walters played the wedding march.

The bride was gowned in cream silk, and carried a bouquet of Bride roses. The bridesmaid carried pink carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Baumgarten, of Holbrook, and the groom is well known near Hillsboro, where he has farmed the Lyons place for several years.

Only relatives were present at the ceremony, and a splendid dinner was served after congratulations had been tendered.

After a short trip up the Columbia, visiting in Washington, they will be at home to their friends, on the Lyons place.
