

HOW TO GET YOUR PERMIT TO SET FIRE

Fire Wardens are Authorized to Grant Privileges to You

FOUR REGULAR PATROLS IN COUNTY

Campers Requested to Use Care in Setting Fires

District Fire Warden Allan Rice announces that the work of patrolling Washington County for fires, is now on and the men are keeping a sharp lookout for fires that may be started in the great forests of this county, and advises people to be very careful in starting fires that cannot be controlled, or that might lead to serious conflagrations. Campers are warned to be very particular about putting out camp fires, so that source of trouble may be obviated. The law is very strict about this, and people should exercise every effort to keep fire from originating from this source. Should a fire occur in the fire warden in the immediate neighborhood should at once be notified.

The following road supervisors are authorized Fire Wardens: E. Dethlefs, Gaston, R. 1; Jno. Friday, Banks; Fred Hamel, Hillsboro, R. 4; H. Robinson, Beaverton, R. 1; J. S. West, Forest Grove, R. 1; Grant Mann, Cornelius; Abbo Peters, Sherwood, R. 5; Alfred Pieren, Hillsboro, R. 1; J. Schmelzer, Sherwood, R. 3.

Charles O'Neil, Dilley, is a volunteer Fire Warden.

There are four regular patrolmen, who patrol certain districts. Wm. J. Wier, of Banks, patrols the "Pumpkin Ridge" country and the railroad lands in that part of the county. Fay Mead, of Banks, patrols East Dairy Creek down to Mountaineer. W. R. Hayden, of Banks, patrols upper Gales Creek. D. C. Zenor is what is called a "lookout" man, and is stationed permanently on the summit at the head of Clear Creek. His post-office is Gales Creek.

Two and a half miles of telephone line have been built connecting up what is called the "Black" line with the Forest Grove Central, and parties wishing to call Mr. Zenor should call through the Forest Grove Central. A cabin for Mr. Zenor has also been built by the state.

Parties desiring burning permits should get them through these fire wardens, each in his district.

H. F. Coulson, of Lahti, is under arrest in Portland for passing a bad $50 check on a German for a motorcycle, which he sold, securing $20 in cash and a watch. Coulson has quite a criminal career. He passed a bad check on McDonald, the Tigar merchant, some months ago, and got out of the transaction by declaring that he got the check from some one else. Of late he has been a stool pigeon for the prohibition enforcement squad, and tried to get his own relative into trouble by endeavoring to buy a bottle of liquor. His relative had booze for his own consumption, and Coulson knew it. When refused liquor either as gift, or guest, or for sale, Coulson tried to get others to beg or buy from him, so he could get his witness fee. In fact, he was back again to try to land his relative on this score when the officers arrested him for the $50 check deal. Sheriff Reeves says Coulson is a bad lot, and only a technicality kept him out of the Tigar scrape.

Bethany Grange No. 418 recently met in regular session, with 15 members and 35 visitors present. Three candidates were initiated in the first and second degrees. A bounteous chicken dinner was served, with ice cream for desert. The lecture hour was spent with a program consisting of readings, recitations, songs and very interesting talks by Rev. Grat and others, which were enjoyed by all. The Grange was then closed, and ice cream again served. All enjoyed a good time and went on their way rejoicing. Visitors are always welcome at Bethany. —Correspondent.

Frank Kendall, well known here years ago when his father taught in the public schools, will be here with a brother, and the two will give a boxing exhibition. Frank Kendall, a big, good-natured fellow, with not a vicious drop of blood in his veins, has been in the boxing game for some years and some day may hold the heavy-weight championship of the world. He was sparring partner for Moran in his last fight, a few weeks ago. Frank recently returned from New York. He has many friends in Hillsboro, and the Moose want every member to turn out and enjoy the frolic Tuesday evening.

Billy Albers, of Portland, well known here, was well pleased last Monday when a jury in Judge Gatens' court brought in a directed verdict for the Albers Bros Co. Michael McGough had sued the Albers for $50,000 for injuries sustained by reason of falling into a bulkhead on the Albers dock, at one o'clock at night, while returning to the Honolulu, a ship moored there to receive a shipment. The defendant company showed that it was clearly the fault of the injured man.

BENNETT THOMPSON IS INDICTED FOR MURDER

Commonwealth Charges him with Murder in the Second Degree

PRISONER IS BROUGHT INTO COURT

First Time in History of County Second Instead of First Degree Charged

The Grand Jury Monday returned two indictments against Bennett Thompson, charging him with the murder of Helen Jennings and Fred Ristman. The instruments charge murder in the second degree instead of the first degree. District Attorney Tongue, when asked why the indictment charged second degree murder instead of first degree, said that the legislature had failed to provide a penalty for first degree murder since the state had abolished capital punishment, and therefore a first degree murder conviction would leave a man in custody without power to punish. As the second degree murder conviction is punishable by life imprisonment this was all that was deemed necessary, and by such indictment the prosecuting office would not be left "out on a limb."

The date of the alleged murders is set for May 15, 1916, and there is an individual indictment for Mrs. Jennings and Ristman. The wording for the charge as to the woman reads—"did then and there willfully, unlawfully, feloniously, purposely and maliciously kill one Helen Jennings by then and there feloniously, purposely and maliciously striking her, the said Helen Jennings on the head with an iron maul."

The wordings as to Ristman was that Ristman was killed by being struck on the head with some instrument "the kind and nature of which is to the grand jury unknown."

Thirty-one witnesses were examined on each case. Thompson was brought into the court room at 3:10 Monday afternoon, and the indictments read to him. He stated that he had employed Roscoe Hurst as his attorney, and he was told to enter his plea on Wednesday.

Trial, Sept. 5th. Thompson was brought into court yesterday morning, his attorney, Roscoe Hurst, being present. Thompson pleaded not guilty to both indictments. Thereupon District Attorney Tongue announced that he was ready to go to trial, and asked that the case be set for next week. To this Hurst demurred, saying he could not get ready for the trial until in September. Mr. Tongue protested, but the court set the case for Sept. 5.

Thompson went into court with a fresh shave, and so far as demeanor was concerned he might have been attending a Sunday School picnic as one of the chief celebrants. He was as full of sang froid as he was when he committed highway robbery a few years ago.

The case against Thompson is circumstantial, and all that will be necessary is an alibi that 12 men will believe. That alibi will be the big defense and is all that is between Thompson and conviction. The state has a chain of evidence which is considered more than strong, and it will require an alibi tinged with nothing like personal interest.

BIG MASTER SALE

The First Trust & Savings Bank, of New York, through Wallace McCamant, the Master in Chancery, will, on August 19, sell over at Tillamook, the holdings of the Tillamook Timber & Logging Company. The sale is the largest of its kind ever held in Oregon, and embraces many miles, and about 20,000 acres of timber land—probably 25,000 acres. Of this timber there are about 20,000 acres in Tillamook; 1,000 acres in this county, and the balance in Lane County. The mortgage bonds call for a principal of over three and one-quarter million dollars. The provisions of sale, and the acreage, together with declaration of sale, giving time and place, appear in this week's legal notices contained in the Argus. This involves the greatest amount ever published in a legal notice within Washington County. The notice will be published, under decree of the court, in all three of the counties, Washington, Tillamook and Lane.

MICHAEL O'BRIEN MAY BE IMPORTED SOON

Old Inmate of Poor Farm in Court

With External Flow of Talk

HAS NEVER BEEN MADE A CITIZEN

Other Circuit Court Matters Passed During the Week

Michael O'Brien, an aged Irishman, charged with assault and battery, pleaded not guilty yesterday, and Benton Bowman was appointed to defend. The old man wanted no attorney and his mouth was filled with a choice flow of "talk." The district attorney says he will hold up the case for a few days, and will turn O'Brien over to the Federal authorities for deportation, as he has never become a citizen. O'Brien was brought to jail from the poor farm, where his belligerency kept them all in hot water.

George Kurtes, housebreaker, was given from 1 to 7 years in the pen.

Not a true bill was returned against C. L. Cox and his $500 bail was returned.

Erwin Mead was given a divorce from Edna Mead.

Earl Emery, Joe Frank, Mike Doman and Chester White, charged with breaking S. P. electric insulators, were arraigned yesterday. Emery goes into Juvenile Court, and the other three cases are still pending.

New case: Herbert Kappell sued Lillie Kappell for divorce. He says she will not stay home and keep house, and that she constantly nags and complains because he has no more money or property. He asks that their little son, aged 3 years, be given to the care of wife's mother.

WM. J. BOTHWELL.

William J. Bothwell, of Seattle, Wash., was killed in a raid last Monday evening, in that city, in a pistol duel between Bothwell and his friends and the police attempting to raid a soft drink establishment. The place was known as the Ferguson bar, and it was suspected that whisky was being sold. Bothwell was in the place, which belonged to a man by the name of Farnham, when the plain clothes men entered. It is thought that Bothwell, who was an ex-police officer and at one time Seattle's Controller, thought it was a ruse to hold up the men in the place, and he drew a revolver and ordered the officers out of the place. The officials drew revolvers and Bothwell fired, wounding one. Bothwell was then shot.

No other explanation is considered, except that Bothwell surely thought there was an attempt at hold-up. Bothwell was well known here a good many years ago. He was married to Miss Mary Chalmers, Dec. 31, 1890, in this county. Mrs. Bothwell is a sister of the Chalmers brothers of this county, and Mrs. Richard Connell, of Portland. After the marriage they resided in Portland, later moving to Seattle, where Bothwell attained prominence as a respectable citizen, attaining high office.

He was an enlisted man in the Philippine war, and after his return was elected the first Commander of the Seattle Spanish War Veterans. In 1910 he was elected City Controller, and later organized an oyster company.

He was reading a newspaper at the end of the bar when the plain clothes men entered. Mr. Bothwell died before reaching the hospital. There was no liquor found on the premises, and this leads to the strong inference that Bothwell was imbued with the idea that he was about to be robbed.

Frank Simpson and son, Ralph, of South Tualatin, were in the city on Monday.

Jacob Davis has sued Rose Mae Davis for divorce. They were married back in Iowa in 1904, and have been residents of this county for some time. The husband alleges that on April 2, 1916, the wife, without provocation, threw a dishpan of water in his face, and he also states that she threatened to kill him, and exhibited the revolver with which she said she would commit the act. He asks the custody of the nine-year-old son. Davis alleges that he is not at fault in any way, and he finds that he must have separation, as she has deserted him without cause.

Mrs. R. C. Gossman, of North Plains, was over Monday morning to converse with her husband, indicted for larceny, and now awaiting trial. That Gossman is trying to play the insanity dodge is very apparent, as he wrote his wife to bring over his revolver and his bellows. What he could want of either in the county jail, appears unexplainable, and how he expected to get them inside the structure is another problem. Those who know Gossman best feel that he is feigning unsoundness of mind.

E. B. Tongue, W. W. Boscow, Geo. McGee, C. G. Reiter and King Lytle were talking over the matter of a Natatorium for Hillsboro, the other day, and it is possible that a stock company may be incorporated for the purpose of building such a resort. E. B. says he will take stock in it, and he thinks that one could be built for probably six or seven thousand, and it will be large enough for all practical purposes. Hillsboro has need of such an institution, and it would receive a liberal patronage.

Real estate men from Washington county registering at the four-state convention, in Portland this week, on Monday, were E. W. Haines, Joe A. Wiles, W. S. Cady, W. J. R. Beach, W. J. Good, Forest Grove; J. H. Layne, North Plains; T. W. Zimmerman, Beaverton; F. M. Wadsworth, of North Plains, and T. M. Kerr, J. H. Collier and A. R. England, of Hillsboro.

Mrs. Ed. Schulmerich returned from a visit in the East, Saturday. She says that the weather back there has been extremely warm, and that to get back to Oregon is quite a change.
