

WORK COMMENCES ON CORNELIUS SECTOR

Asphalt Distributed From Forest Grove to Cornelius for Highway

BIG ENGINE TEARING UP BASE

Sixteen Foot Roadway Will Soon be Boulevard Between Cities

Asphalt barrels loaded to the guards have been distributed between Forest Grove and Cornelius, and on Monday a big road roller was busy tearing up the base—“scarifying” as it is called—preparatory to road improvement in the Cornelius section of the state highway between Forest Grove and Portland. A big force of men will be put on the road and travel will not be shut off at any time.

With this stretch of road between Forest Grove and Hillsboro put in shape, and with the macadam between Hillsboro and Beaverton laid, which will be accomplished in a few weeks, travelers will have a fine stretch of road between Western Washington County, the county seat, and from there on to Portland.

The road to be laid will be much more enduring than regular macadam, and the county court expects to get inside the money and have a fine stretch of roadway completed long before the Fall rains strike the valley.

Alex Todd will this week finish the stretch of highway north of Forest Grove to the Thatcher-Gales Creek junction, and as soon as the heating vat can be released it will be transferred to the Baseline road.

Every teamster and every autoist will be more than gratified when we get the twenty-five miles of road into shape, and then if the Beaverton-Terwilliger road shall be a go we shall have a magnificent grade into the Rose City.

INSTALLMENTS DUE

July assessments for sewer and street improvements, City of Hillsboro, are now due and payable, and must be liquidated at once.

F. J. Sewell, City Treasurer, Hillsboro, Ore., July 20, 1916.

B. Leis, the Beaverton orchardist, was up to the city the last of the week. He says he hopes that many from here will get their corn exhibits into the big corn show at Spokane, Nov. 20-25, under the auspices of the Exchange National Bank. Mr. Leis says he raises as fine corn as can be produced anywhere, it being just a question of variety. Ten ears will constitute an exhibit and the showing must be grown in a field not less than a half-acre in extent. Each ear of corn must be wrapped separately, boxed, and the grower's name placed in the top of the box. The address must be “The Exchange National Bank Corn Show, Spokane,” on top of the box. There is no reason why Washington County can not get a few of the 140 prizes to be awarded—if it were apples you can wager that Barney Leis would be there getting some first prizes.

R. C. GOSSMAN ENJOYS BUT SHORT RESPIRE

Is Again in Toils of Law and is Now in the County Bastile

CHARGED WITH BURNING A BUILDING

Also Indicted For Beating His Wife, Ora Bell Gossman, August 1

R. C. Gossman, who recently paid $2500 into the court, is again in the toils of the law. On Aug. 1 it is alleged that Gossman beat his wife, Ora Bell Gossman, and the grand jury Monday evening returned an indictment against him. At the same time the inquisitive body returned an indictment charging Gossman with having burned a building, June 15, for the purpose of defrauding an insurance company the London Assurance Corporation. Gossman was arraigned in court this morning, and will plead at 9:30 Friday morning.

Gossman went home the last of the week to enjoy a honeymoon with his wife and they left Hillsboro like two cooing doves. On Aug. 1 they had an altercation and they say there is evidence enough to convict him of assault, even if Mrs. Gossman should stand pat.

The building which burned was formerly a store building, and Gossman bought it and had it insured.

Sheriff Reeves went out last evening and arrested Gossman, finding him hiding behind a pantry door. The sheriff was rather careful in his search for the prisoner, as he had made some threats. He showed no resistance, however, and came along peaceably.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

The Knights of Pythias, who are now pouring into Portland by the trainload, accompanied by the Pythian Sisters, are distinguished among secret orders by their purely American origin, by the fidelity with which they have lived up to their principles and by the strength which they have attained. The most foreign thing about the order is the beautiful legend which suggested its name, but the sentiment of fidelity to friendship which it illustrates is as pleasing.

The Pythians have done and are doing a noble work in binding men and women together for purposes of mutual help. They keep alive that fraternity between man and man which it is the duty of all to practice, and they insure that, when sickness, poverty and distress come it be promptly exercised. By maintaining an insurance branch they provide for the families of members at moderate cost. The Uniform Rank supplies the Nation with a body of disciplined, trained men who will be at its service in time of war, and also inculcates practical patriotism by presenting an example of readiness to fight for the country if need should arise.—The Oregonian.

PYTHIANS HAVE BIG TIME IN PORTLAND

Hillsboro Company Made Big Hit With Thousands in Line of March

ONLY COMPANY FULL DRESS UNIFORM

Beautiful Day for Parade, and Thousands Participate in Demonstration

The Supreme Convention of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters, and Grand Lodge of the Domain of Oregon are now in session in Portland, and Tuesday was the big demonstration day for the order. Scores from Washington County visited the metropolis, and the parade of several thousand was sprinkled with local K. of P.

The Hillsboro Uniform Rank, Captain F. J. Williams in charge, assisted by Lieutenants F. J. Sewell and E. I. Donelson, was the spectacular feature of the military parade. The boys caught the popular fancy with their full-dress uniforms and helmet hats, with plumes, and they were given an ovation all along the two miles of march.

Brigadier-General L. M. Hoyt accompanied the Hillsboro Uniform Rank to the regimental meeting.

Delphos Lodge, Forest Grove, and Glencoe Lodge, of North Plains, had many autos in the parade, and Cornelius and Gaston were also represented.

Every state in the union was represented and also Canada and Honolulu.

Wm. Nelson and August Tews represented the local Pythian Lodge at Grand Lodge; Gabriel Essner and L. R. Cypher, North Plains; Claude Smith and Oscar Love, Forest Grove; Carl Klinge and Ralph Hull, Gaston; C. W. James and Grant Mann, Cornelius.

Blanche Sweet, the beautiful and clever star, will make her seventh photodramatic appearance since she has been with the Jesse L. Lasky company at the Liberty, on Sunday only, in Margaret Turnbull's thrilling drama, “The Secret Sin.” In this gripping play Miss Sweet plays two characters—twin sisters—one a strong, high-minded girl and the other a slave to the opium and morphine habits. The drug-ridden sister is able, through almost uncanny cleverness, to keep the knowledge of her vice from her sister and her parents. How she manages to convince the man she is in love with, but who is in love with her sister, that her sister is the drug victim is disclosed in a series of the most unusual and thrilling scenes ever presented to a photodramatic audience.
