

ROBERT C. GOSSMAN GUILTY OF ARSON

Jury Was Out But Few Minutes Before Agreeing on Verdict

RECENTLY PAID ENORMOUS FINE
Defendant Was in Court on Crutches, and Fought to Last Ditch

Robert C. Gossman, a paralytic, was found guilty of burning a barn covered by an insurance policy, at North Plains, the fire having taken place on the night of June 15, 1916. C. A. Bash, his hired man, was the chief witness. Bash said that Gossman had told him he was going to burn the barn and directed Bash to cut a candle in two. After cutting the candle, Bash refused to place it in a box and put it in the barn. Gossman's wife, who stood pat for Gossman, finally testified as to the cut candle. Gossman's attempt to collect on a wagon, mower and plow that was not burned, and his statement that he had put a foundation under the barn and had painted it, when this was not true, excited the distrust of the insurance company, and developments led to his arrest.

E. H. Tongue prosecuted the case and H. T. Bagley defended. Attorney Bagley roasted Bash to a farewell in his talk to the jury, but the defense was unable to fasten anything to the bad on the state's witness.

The jury—E. L. Abbott, G. W. Beal, T. M. Kerr, H. C. Roberts, Fred Dober, Allen Diley, Martin Larson, foreman, T. R. Johnson, Paul Beck, Arnold Dysle, Jas. Clark and C. Rehse.

Attorney Bagley was allowed five days to move for a new trial, and Gossman will probably get his sentence about Monday. The penalty is three to seven years.

Gossman recently pleaded guilty to stealing four horses, and was fined $4,000, the court allowing him to pay $2,500, with parole as to the balance. The owners of the horses, J. B. Hanley, Frank Keenan and John Jacky, were given their property, and Gossman went home after paying the fine, only to be arrested a few days later on the arson charge. The defendant was worth several thousand dollars when his legal troubles commenced.

J. E. BENNETT

J. E. Bennett, who has resided between Oregan and Reedville several years, was killed last Thursday, Sept. 14, in Bitter Root Canyon, Mont., near Wallace, in an auto accident wherein his machine was tipped over. Mrs. Bennett, who was with him, was severely bruised, and reached Hillsboro yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett went East this Summer, and started West from Randolph, Neb., about the middle of August, in a machine. He drove the machine successfully until the accident, when he went over the grade.

Mr. Bennett was born in Ohio, Oct. 9, 1848, and when a young man went to Nebraska, where he was wedded to Carrie Hyland, March 13, 1875. They resided in Nebraska until 1910, when they moved to Oregon, after having made several trips West, on visits.

The following children survive—Roscoe Bennett, Auburn, Iowa; Mrs. Grant Brown, Hillsboro; Wayne Bennett, Edson, Canada; Mrs. Frank Lazeshulte, Randolph, Nebraska; Mrs. Abel Thomas, Beaver Creek, Clackamas County, Ore.

The funeral took place from the Donelson Undertaking Parlor, Wednesday afternoon, and interment was in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

COUNTY FAIR OPENS AT FOREST GROVE

Gov. Withycombe Delivers Address and Extols Best County

EXHIBIT ONE OF BEST OF ALL
Splendid Weather Prevailing With Promise for Bright Ending

The Washington County Fair opened at Forest Grove yesterday, Gov. Withycombe delivering the address of the day. He was introduced by J. P. Hurley, of the Fair committee, and the Gov. extolled the worth of the county as being premier in more ways than one over any other section of the state.

Bright weather greeted the fair officials and visitors, and the weather man is promising a continuation of Indian Summer.

The exhibits are said to be better than ever before and the fair association has every reason to be proud of the effort.

Hillsboro was in at the prize list on poultry yesterday, Wm. Tupper pulling down eight prizes on his White Minorca, setting 1st on cock, 2nd on cockerel, two 1sts on hens, two 2nds on hens, and 1st, 2nd and 3rd on pullets. R. H. ANNUAL FAIR AT SCHOLLS

The annual fair at Scholls, under auspices of the Scholls Grange, is to be held this year on Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21. Several additional attractions will be added, and although the Scholls Grange Fair has always been a success, the committee for this year's exhibit are reaching out into new fields and are working to make this the best show on record. There will be the usual showing of grains and field products. In view of the bumper crops in our community, this should be an exhibit in itself worth coming to see. Fruits and vegetables will be no small part of the exhibits and there will be the usual display of needlework, canned goods, cooking and baking, in classes for both juveniles and grown-ups. A special feature of our fair for the past two years has been the milk cow contest, supervised by the State Dairy & Food Commissioner, and it was met with the approval of all who are interested along this line. The regular stock show will be conducted on a much larger scale, the exhibits of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs each being looked after by enthusiastic and capable boosters.

A Eugenic's Contest is one of the new features which is attracting quite a bit of attention, and it is hoped by the committee in charge that all mothers will respond to the invitation to bring their babies and help make the venture a success.

Each and every resident of Scholls and community is urged to get some exhibit, no matter how small, ready for the fair, so that all visitors may get an idea of the scope our fields and farms cover.
